GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,—DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

Rules and General Matters.

Calcutta, the 24th November 1887.

RESOLUTION.—The Rules in the Civil Account Code VII (11), which were approved by the Government of India, prescribed a system intended to secure the proper accounting for advances made in connection with agriculture. It was intended to maintain in harmony the accounts kept by the Collectors, by the Accountants-General and by the superior Revenue authorities.

2. The business connected with these advances is every year becoming more important, but as matters at present stand, the Financial Department, though it receives accounts from its own officers showing the total advances, recoveries and balances, does not receive from the administrative authorities any information regarding their own proceedings, or regarding their oversight of the proceedings of the Collectors in making and recovering advances.

3. From a purely financial point of view, it is extremely important both that the advances should be carefully regulated according to budget principles and that the recoveries should be carefully watched. An advance, which becomes irrecoverable, has necessarily to be charged off as final expenditure at the cost of the Provincial Government, and it is incumbent on it therefore both to see that recovery is duly secured and to take measures to ascertain and from time to time to write off those advances of which the recovery has become hopeless.

4. The advances which are under the management of the Executive authorities are mainly of the following classes:—

I.—Advances to cultivators. These are made under various Acts, such as the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, or the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884; or on occasions of calamity for purchase of seed, cattle, &c., or for famine relief; or to tenants on Government estates, or for the promotion of colonization.

II.—Advances for survey operations, such as for the erecting boundary marks or for other expenditure on survey, which is recoverable from landholders or ryots.

III.—Advances under special laws, not coming within class I, such as the Jhansi Encumbered Estates Act, or the Bengal Drainage and Embankment Act.

IV.—Advances of special Revenue Departments, such as Salt and Excise.

5. The outstanding balances under each of these classes of advances, for each of the last seven years, are shown in the following statements. The figures have been obtained from the Accountants-General, and it is presumed that the district details of the outstandings are in the possession of the Revenue authorities of the several provinces.

6. It appears to the Governor-General in Council necessary to make better provision than at present exists for the proper entry in the Budget Estimates of each year of the anticipated transactions in respect of these advances, and to place this duty in the hands of the Revenue authorities, in the same way as the control of the transactions themselves already is.

7. The Governor-General in Council is therefore pleased to direct that each Local Government and Administration shall make a timely estimate, both of the advances and of the recoveries, of the coming year, and shall communicate it to the Accountant-General for entry in his estimates. The transactions of the year should be, as far as possible, regulated according to this estimate. Demands are, no doubt, apt to arise in a sudden and unforeseen way, and the Local Government should therefore take care, in allotting the sums provided in the Provincial Budget Estimates, to reserve under their general control such an amount as experience may show to be necessary for these unforeseen demands.

8. It is desirable also that the accounts of these advances and the proceedings of the Revenue authorities, both in making advances and in recovering them, should come under periodical review by the Local Governments; and the Governor-General in Council is therefore pleased to direct that the several Local Governments shall take measures to have these transactions periodically brought under separate review; their resolution on the subject being communicated to the Government of India in the Revenue and in the Financial Departments, independently of any further notice of the subject which may for administrative reasons be required in the Land Revenue Administration Report, but which, as a rule, would be published too late for the purposes of financial estimates. Accounts and reviews of these advances should be regulated by the financial year.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated for information and guidance as follows:—

The Department of Revenue and Agriculture.

All Local Governments and Administrations (except Hyderabad).

All Accountants-General and Comptrollers (except Hyderabad).

W. Bell, Esquire., Acting Registrar.
Bábu Chandra Náth Mittra, Assistant Registrar.

The Acting Registrar laid on the table a statement of the proxies received from absent Fellows.

1. The first proposal by the Syndicate on the agenda was as follows:—

That, in consequence of certain statements made by Rám Saran Dás, Mukhtiár, and Partab Singh of Shâhábád in the district of Amballa, and having regard to the statement made by Mr. Larpent to the Vice-Chancellor in connection therewith, it is deemed advisable to suspend Mr. Larpent from his duties as Registrar of the University, pending the result of the further inquiries now being carried on by the Sub-Committee appointed to investigate the alleged irregularities connected with the last Law Examinations.

The Vice-Chancellor, in opening the proceedings, referred to the important and grave character of the business, and stated his opinion that the welfare of the University would depend largely upon the nature of the decisions arrived at by the meeting. He recounted the circumstances under which the Syndicate had been led to the above resolution, and which were as follows :—

Various reports had been for some time in circulation, and anonymous communications had been made to him in which allegations of such a nature were made with reference to the last Law Examinations that the Vice-Chancellor had felt bound to move the Syndicate to appoint a Sub-Committee to enquire into the truth of these allegations. This course the Syndicate adopted on the 27th April, and the following Sub-Committee was then appointed :— Mr. Baden-Powell; Mr. W. Coldstream ; Haji Ghulám Hussan, Amritsar ; and Bábu Chandra Náth Mittra (who subsequently declined to act, when Dr. Brij Lál Ghose was appointed in his stead). This Sub-Committee (than which no better could have been found) had, after a long and careful enquiry, sent in its report. As this report had, however, reached the Vice-Chancellor only on the 23rd instant, there had been no time to have it printed and circulated amongst the Fellows of the University, and it could not now be laid before them, except in so far as it was connected with the first resolution before the Senate.

This resolution referred to certain statements made by (1) Rám Saran Dás, Mukhtiár, who had appeared in the Licentiate (Law) Examination in 1886 and had failed; and by (2) Partáb Singh, son of Hira Lál, of Shahabad, in the district of Amballa. These statements had been made before the Sub-Committee of Enquiry, and sent by Mr. Baden-Powell to the Vice-Chancellor. They had appeared to the Vice-Chancellor of so circumstantial and serious a character and reflected so strongly upon the Registrar that he had called upon Mr. Larpent for any explanation he could give. This explanation Mr. Larpent had made to the Vice-Chancellor at the latter's own house on the 25th of May, and Mr. Larpent's statement having been taken down in writing by the Vice-Chancellor was signed by Mr. Larpent.

The Vice-Chancellor then laid the statements of Rám Saran Dás and Partáb Singh and the deposition made by Mr. Larpent with reference to these before the Chancellor of the University, who desired that a meeting of the Senate should be summoned. On communicating this to Mr. Larpent he replied by letter to the effect that he considered he had not been fairly treated, that he declined to continue to be Registrar of the University, and that he insisted on being relieved from his duties from the 2nd of June.

The Vice-Chancellor read to the meeting the whole of the statements made by Rám Saran Dás and Partáb Singh and by Mr. Larpent, also a letter from Mr. Larpent, introducing Rám Saran Dás to Mr. Brown ; he then referred to several points which seemed to him to demand further explanation than that offered by Mr. Larpent in his declaration of the 25th May, and asked the Senate to afford Mr. Larpent an opportunity of offering to the meeting any additional explanation he wished to give.

Mr. Larpent contended that it was impossible for him to give any specific explanation as the allegations had not been placed in his hands. He stated that it was his intention to make the whole matter the subject of a criminal action if the statements made by the witnesses were supplied to him. He then dealt with the points to which the Vice-Chancellor had specially drawn the attention of the Senate, and gave it as his opinion that he was the victim of some trickery which had led the Vice-Chancellor to try to show that he (Mr. Larpent) had acted dishonestly. (The Vice-Chancellor protested against this statement; he had simply read the evidence and made such remarks as might help the Senate in coming to a right conclusion. He had laid aside all personal feeling, and had made no endeavour to prejudice the Senate.) Mr. Larpent, continuing, said that when he was in possession of the evidence tendered to the Sub-Committee, he would take steps to vindicate his character before the proper tribunal ; and on being asked by the Vice-Chancellor if he had any request to make, he replied that he had nothing to ask, except that a copy of the Sub-Committee's proceedings and of the proceedings of the Committee of Enquiry into the Arts Examinations might be supplied to him.

The Vice-Chancellor did not see how this could be granted. These statements had been made before a Committee of Enquiry appointed for the purpose of satisfying the Senate regarding the character of one of its servants, and it did not follow that copies of the statements should be supplied to that servant. The question whether these statements would be considered defamatory in the eyes of a Criminal Court was not before the Senate. The Vice-Chancellor then asked Mr. Larpent whether, irrespective of the condition that he should be provided with the evidence, he desired any further enquiry. Mr. Larpent again contended that he ought to be furnished with the means of clearing his character.

The Vice-Chancellor then criticised the further explanation made to the meeting by Mr. Larpent, with special reference to the relation between Rám Saran Dás and Partáb Singh, the circumstances connected with a promissory note granted to Partáb Singh by Mr. Larpent, Partáb Singh's alleged knowledge of English, and the letter given by Mr. Larpent to Rám Saran Dás, introducing him to Mr. Brown of Amballa.

Mr. Larpent here objected to the manner in which the promissory note had come into the possession of the Sub-Committee of Enquiry. The Vice-Chancellor pointed out that the Sub-Committee had merely offered security for the value of the note, as the holder of it regarded it as a valuable security and would not surrender it without some such guarantee. The Chancellor had sanctioned the arrangement.

Mr. Larpent then asked the Senate to consider whether his resignation should be accepted instead of dealing with the proposal on the agenda. He further complained that he had not been represented on the Committee of Enquiry, as the Chancellor had permitted.

The Vice-Chancellor said that Mr. Larpent's resignation was not properly before the meeting, and called upon the members present not to shirk the responsibility thrown upon them of dealing with the proposal which was actually before them. As regards Mr. Larpent's contention that he ought to have been represented at the enquiry, the Vice-Chancellor pointed out that up to the time that these statements had been recorded, Mr. Larpent had made no application to be represented; further proceedings were not then contemplated, and it was only after the papers had been reported on to the Chancellor that the Chancellor had said that Mr. Larpent might be represented at any further enquiry. But the Vice-Chancellor understood that Mr. Larpent desired no such enquiry.

Mr. Larpent again said that if he were supplied with the evidence, so that it might be laid before a Court, he did not wish any further enquiry by the University; but if the evidence were denied him, he wished the Senate to make a full, fair, and honest enquiry.

The Vice-Chancellor then understood that, as the papers could not be supplied, Mr. Larpent desired a further enquiry by the Senate. He thought that the Senate was bound to come to an honest conviction whether the statements laid before them were primâ facie probable or improbable, and whether they were or were not disposed of by Mr. Larpent's explanation. If any member thought they were not so disposed of, it was his duty to support the proposal now before the meeting.

On amendments being called for, Díwán Rámjas proposed that, in the interests of, and with a view to preserve the reputation of, the University, Mr. Larpent's resignation be accepted. This was seconded by Rája Harbans Singh, and, on being put to the vote, was supported by the proposer, seconder, and one other member. All others voted against it.

The original proposal was then put in the following amended form, and supported by all the members present except one :—

> That, in consequence of certain statements made by Rám Saran Dás, Mukhtiár, and Partáb Singh of Shahabad in the district of Amballa, and having regard to the statements made by Mr. Larpent to the Vice-Chancellor in connection therewith, and after hearing such explanation as Mr. Larpent had to offer orally, it is deemed advisable to suspend Mr. Larpent from his duties as Registrar of the University, pending the result of any further enquiries that the Senate may direct.

2. The second proposal on the agenda was—

> That some arrangement be made for carrying on the duties of Registrar during the period of Mr. Larpent's suspension.

The Vice-Chancellor pointed out that as the office of Registrar was really vacant, Mr. Larpent having ceased to perform the duties of Registrar, it was necessary to determine definitely what arrangement should be made for the future. He desired that, with reference to the filling up of the vacant office, some principle should be accepted and acted upon. He referred to the resolution of the Senate at a meeting held in November (of which unfortunately the proceedings had been lost) that it was desirable, when found practicable, to have a full-time Registrar. At a subsequent meeting, when it was proposed to appoint a full-time Assistant Registrar, an amendment was carried to the effect that such appointment should be temporary, as it was desirable to have a Registrar who could devote sufficient time to the work to render an Assistant Registrar unnecessary. At a later meeting it was also resolved that the question of appointing an Orientalist to the Principalship of the Oriental College should be considered on the first favorable opportunity. And at a meeting of the Oriental College Committee, held on the 26th of April, it was decided to keep in abeyance the question of appointing an Orientalist as Principal until such opportunity occurred.

The Vice-Chancellor thought that a suitable opportunity had now arisen for giving effect to these resolutions. But having regard to the available funds, the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor were both of opinion that it would be difficult to offer sufficient inducement to capable men to hold separately the posts of Principal of the Oriental College and Registrar of the University. In the present condition of the Oriental College it was necessary that the Principal should be a European; and it had occurred to the Chancellor and the Vice-Chancellor that effect might be given to the various resolutions in a feasible manner by appointing one man to hold the combined posts of Principal of the Oriental College and Registrar of the University. The Oriental College was part and parcel of the University, and its interests were bound up with the University, and such an arrangement would further the interests of both. The Vice-Chancellor had no doubt that, so far as an institution of that kind could be managed by a non-Orientalist, Mr. Lewis had been an efficient Principal of the Oriental College, but as the Senate had resolved to have an Orientalist, he proposed as follows :—

> That in view of a former resolution of the Senate that a full-time Registrar should be appointed, and in view of the further resolution of the Senate that an Oriental scholar should be appointed to the post of Principal of the Oriental College whenever a suitable opportunity occurred, the Senate resolves that, as the funds available are not sufficient to offer a sufficiently liberal salary to attract the services of good and reliable men for the above offices if held separately, the Syndicate be authorised to combine the said offices and to appoint a competent person to perform the duties of Registrar and Principal of the Oriental College on such salary as it may deem proper, subject to the confirmation of the Senate.

This was seconded by Mr. Baden-Powell, and, after some remarks from Mr. Lewis in which he stated his reasons for resigning the Principalship of the Oriental College, was put to the vote and carried unanimously.

3. The third proposal on the agenda was—

> That, if necessary, a Committee be appointed to carry on the further enquiry into the charges brought against the Registrar.

To this Mr. Baden-Powell proposed the following amendment :—

> That the report of the Sub-Committee having now been sent in, the Syndicate should consider it, and should be empowered either to report the matter through the Vice-Chancellor to the Government with a view to ascertain what action, if any, Government may think necessary to take, or, if the Government take no action, to nominate (if it so desires) a further Committee for its own purposes, at which, of course, Mr. Larpent or his Counsel would be heard.

This was seconded by Mr. T. Gordon Walker, and carried unanimously.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 1 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 96.)

Dated Lahore, the 6th January 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Importation of the Shahjehánpur Rum into the Punjab.

IT appears from recent correspondence that doubts are felt by some officers in regard to the rules under which Shahjehánpur rum can be imported into the Punjab by private persons for their own consumption, and in regard to the power of the Collector of Shahjehánpur to issue passes for the export to the Punjab of rum and spirits of wine distilled at the Rosa Distillery without a permit from the Deputy Commissioner of the district to which the liquor is to be exported.

2. The Financial Commissioner desires to invite the attention of all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners to rule 1 of the rules relating to distilleries worked after the English method (published with Book Circular VI of 1874). This rule should be held applicable to the Rosa Distillery, and the Collector of Shahjehánpur's special pass in Form III should be held to be a valid pass in the Punjab within the meaning of Sections 21 and 36 of the Excise Act, 1881.

3. It is to be observed that special passes in Form III are only granted to "accredited individuals." The Collector of Shahjehánpur will usually issue passes for private consumption without question to officers of Government, Native Chiefs, large landholders, merchants other than licensed vendors of liquor, and persons holding a similar social position, but will refuse to grant passes to other persons (including licensed vendors of liquor) without an order or certificate from the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the person resides.

4. Duplicates of all passes issued by the Collector will be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of the district to which the liquor is to be sent. All such duplicates should be entered in a register, one register being maintained for duplicates of passes in Form II, and another register for duplicates of passes in Form III. The Deputy Commissioner should examine these registers from time to time, and satisfy himself that rum is not being obtained for illicit sale under cover of passes issued for private consumption, and the register of duplicates in Form II should be occasionally compared with the accounts of receipts and issues which licensed vendors are bound to maintain. The practice of testing and measuring consignments of rum on arrival and comparing them with the duplicate passes received, which is reported to have prevailed in some districts, appears to the Financial Commissioner to be an unnecessary interference with trade, and should not be resorted to unless there is any reason to suspect an attempt to commit fraud or to evade compliance with the rules.

By order, &c.,

R. E. YOUNGHUSBAND,

Offg. Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 2 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE :

(No. 371.)

Dated Lahore, 19th January 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Revision of Income Tax Assessment Lists for the year 1888-89.

THE Financial Commissioner is particularly anxious that great care should be taken in revising the Income Tax Assessment Lists for the year 1888-89. In order to attain this object the Financial Commissioner is willing to extend the period allowed for the preparation of these lists by paragraph 10 of Circular No. 14 of 1886. Deputy Commissioners are authorized to publish the Assessment Lists for 1888-89 on the 1st April 1888 or as soon after as possible, if they consider that the additional time thus allowed can be usefully employed in the more careful revision of the lists.

By order, &c.,

(Translated.)

R. E. YOUNGHUSBAND,

CIRCULAR No. 3 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE :

(No. 394.)

Dated Lahore, 20th January 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Treatment of village máfis by Settlement Officers.

THE following instructions as to the treatment of máfi grants during settlement operations are issued by the Financial Commissioner with the sanction of the Local Government.

2. It has been the practice in re-settlements for the Settlement Officer to examine and attest all máfi holdings and to report all cases requiring fresh orders. It has also generally been found necessary for him to prepare fresh registers. For his guidance in these matters Settlement Circulars have been issued from time to time, and again in 1883 the Financial Commissioner (Mr. Lyall) issued instructions to the Settlement Commissioner with special reference to the number of máfis released for term of settlement in parts of Hoshiárpur, many of which were extremely petty, and ought originally to have been treated as lands excluded from the Báchh (Khárij Báchh or Khárij Parta) by the village owners rather than as Government grants. These instructions may be summarized as follows, viz. :—

(A).—Procedure.

(1). Where a plot has been released revenue-free for the term of settlement, the Settlement Officer can resume of his own authority from the date of the new assessment if he thinks resumption clearly advisable and in accordance with his instructions. In that case he need not report the resumption for sanction. If he is in doubt, he should report either individual cases or cases of one class for orders in the form of a letter.

(2). If the Settlement Officer thinks such grants should be continued, he should report them in the form of a register.

(3). The same procedure may be followed in dealing with cases of land held revenue-free without proper authority.

(4). As regards grants sanctioned for life or lives, only those cases should be reported in which the Settlement Officer proposes continuance of the grant beyond the term already sanctioned.

(5). The Settlement Officer should, if possible, pass his orders resuming grants the period of which has expired before he assesses the villages in detail. He should record an order in the record of enquiry regarding the grant, giving his reasons for resuming and directing the land to be excluded from the revenue-free area and to be included in the area on which the revenue is to be distributed, unless the proprietors of the village choose to exclude it. In this way the villagers will have an easy opportunity of continuing, if they please, to the holders of these petty grants the exemption from assessment they have hitherto enjoyed.

(B).—Principles.

(6). Where the grant is attached to a dharmsála or takiya which still exists, and is served in the same fashion as at last settlement, the grant should be maintained (subject to revision by the Deputy Commissioner on the death of present holders) notwithstanding that the building may be only kacha, and that the grant in value or area may be very petty, and may have originally been granted by the villagers only.

(7). Where the grant is attached to a Thákardwára, Shiwála, or Khánkah consisting of a mosque or tomb containing a chapel for prayers, it should be maintained for another term of settlement if the building be a real religious edifice still kept up as a place of worship, whether in the same village or district or not.

(8). If the Thákardwára to which the grant is attached is merely the residence of a Brahmin with a Thákar in some room of it, it should generally be resumed if the grantee of last settlement is dead and the present holder is not a fit object of charity.

(9). Where the grant is not supposed to be attached to any building which worshippers can enter, but to small erections of the nature of Muhammadan graves, Hindu cenotaphs, Sarwar Sultán "makáns," platforms of Pírs or Devís, &c., the grant should generally be resumed.

(10). Where the grant was given by the villagers to Brahmins for service as Pandit, Pandha, Parohit or Acháraj, or to artisans and kamíns for village service, it should be resumed, or at most be only continued for life to old men or women out of charity.

(11). If such a grant as that last described was made by a Rája or ruler to a respectable family of Brahmin Parohits as a subsistence grant, it may be maintained for another term of settlement if the family is still respected and engaged in religious offices.

(12). If the grant was made either by a ruler or by the villagers to men for keeping a school or for supplying water on a public road to travellers, it should be treated as a grant for public rather than for village service, and should be maintained, unless it appears that the original purpose is not fulfilled.

3. These instructions have been acted on in Hoshiárpur, Umballa and Karnál; but, as they were thought somewhat too lenient and not altogether suited to all districts, a draft Circular, for general application, was lately prepared by the Financial Commissioner and submitted to Government for sanction. The proposals in this draft were, however, considered too stringent, and, when declining to sanction them without modifications, the Punjab Government made the following observations, viz.:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to approve the Circular. His Honor sees no reason for any change of policy, and considers a change in the direction of less liberality very inexpedient. Any change now-a-days should be in the opposite direction, as the work of reducing the inordinate amount of revenue assignments in the Province has been accomplished, and the amount left is not very great. Mr. Lyall thinks that Settlement Officers and Deputy Commissioners are apt to be influenced somewhat unduly towards the resumption of petty grants because they give trouble, and because they are, so to speak, anomalies and awkward exceptions from general revenue rules. But we ought not to be led to adopt a severe and unpopular line of policy by such considerations. It is well known that máfis are valued much beyond their worth by the people, and sympathy with this feeling should be shown when the money value involved is not serious.

"3. * * * The rule given in paragraph 34 of Appendix III to Barkley's Directions to Settlement Officers, page 88, is still substantially in force as indicating the right policy; that is to say, it is expedient that all endowments boná fide made for the maintenance of religious establishments or buildings for public accommodation should be maintained as long as the establishments or buildings are kept up, provided that when such grants are of great value they should be restricted to such smaller amounts as it may be thought politically expedient to grant. Where the terms of the original order were release during maintenance or during the pleasure of Government, the Settlement Officer or Deputy Commissioner can only propose an alteration if he finds the establishments or buildings not kept up for their original purposes. When, however, the original order was for release for the term of settlement, the case is different. Such cases are provided for by paragraph 2 of this office letter No. 447, dated 13th April 1881, published with Financial Commissioner's Circular No. S. IX—258 of 1st August 1881, which lays down the rule that these grants should be continued for another term of settlement if there are no new and special reasons to the contrary, and gives the Financial Commissioner power to pass orders for release or resumption in case of grants not exceeding 10 acres.

"4. In the case of all grants for life or lives, except Bedi and Sodhi grants, the Deputy Commissioner or Settlement Officer can resume in the ordinary course in accordance with the original terms of release. The restriction originally laid down was meant to apply to the original inquiries only. But the case of grants for the term of settlement is peculiar, as the meaning of these orders was not that the grants should be resumed at the end of the term of settlement, but merely that they might be reconsidered at the end of that term, and the intention was no doubt that expressed in paragraph 2 of the letter of the Punjab Government above referred to, viz., that in default of special reasons or new orders such grants would ordinarily be continued if no material change in character had occurred.

"5. The foregoing remarks describe the existing rules and regulations on the subject of the treatment of village and petty máfis. I am further to say that the Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to agree to the following new or additional instructions being issued. In the draft Circular which should now be drawn up a clause should be introduced to the effect that if any máfi is found existing by the Settlement Officer or Deputy Commissioner at settlement for which no order of release is forthcoming, which appears in fact to have been overlooked at former settlements or at the original máfi inquiry, then the Settlement Officer should ordinarily resume of his own authority, if it appears to have been granted by zamíndárs or by a kárdár or jágírdár only, and should only propose continuance in such a case if the grant serves some really useful purpose. If, however, the grant was originally made by the ruler of the day for a purpose to which it is still applied, the case should be reported for orders either of resumption or continuance in accordance with the principles laid down in Appendix III of Barkley's Directions to Settlement Officers.

"6. As regards resumption of life máfis on lapse, no new orders are necessary in the case of purely personal grants, which do not purport to benefit other persons than the holders; but it is advisable that the Settlement Officer should take the opportunity of the settlement to review the case of all life máfis which appear to have been granted in return for service of any kind to the public or to the people of the village, or to be connected with any institution, such as a school, temple, mosque, dharmsála or takiya. The original orders sanctioning for life only were very hurriedly made, and in many cases really amounted only to a refusal to release in perpetuity. Such cases were treated differently in different districts; in some the release was ordinarily allowed for life of holder; in others, for the term of settlement. Hence it has been the practice to permit and encourage reconsiderations in such cases on lapse. But this is very troublesome and inconvenient, and tends to very unequal treatment. Hence it is advisable that the Settlement Officer should generally review such cases, whether lapse has occurred or not, and, if he thinks the grant should be continued for a longer term than the life of the incumbent, he should enter the case in a register for report, and should generally propose to release for the term of settlement, as that is safest, and allows reconsideration.

"7. In respect to purely village service or village institution máfis, of which the sanctioned term is for the period of settlement or for life, the Settlement Officer should be empowered in the case of petty grants of not more than three acres in extent to practically resume at settlement, so far as Government is concerned (without, however, actually imposing any assessment or bringing the land into calculation in fixing the jama of the village), by recording orders in the máfi misl and the fard lákhiráj that the grant shall be struck off the fard lákhiráj and the registers, and the land be included at the báchh in the málguzári area, with permission, however, to the zamíndárs, if the majority so wish, to exclude the land from the báchh during their pleasure. In such cases if the zamíndárs decide to exclude, the fact will be noted in the báchh rubakár, and the land will be held revenue-free from the zamíndárs only, but, as far as Government is concerned, will be considered as khálsa. The adoption of this procedure will place a number of these petty grants in their proper position of grants held from the zamíndárs. They were originally allowed by the Government at the request of the zamíndárs, but by granting them independently of the zamíndárs' wishes and authority we have altered their character in an undesirable way. The exclusion of the grants from the registers will save much trouble at a very slight loss to Government, which loss will only be for the term of the settlement. But this procedure should not be followed where there are clearly no grounds for continuance, and where the grant serves no good purpose; e.g., where no service is now rendered, and the zamíndárs clearly do not care for the grant to be continued. In life tenure máfis of this kind, where the term has not yet lapsed, the case cannot, of course, be so treated; but the order may be passed that at the death of the holder the máfi will be assessed, and the revenue will go to the village malba."

4. Under these instructions the work devolving upon Settlement Officers will be as follows:—

(1). As to máfis released during maintenance of institutions or pleasure of Government, all that has to be done is to make a general enquiry as to whether the conditions of the grant are fulfilled, and to report for resumption any cases in which it is clear that they have been plainly and persistently neglected or infringed.

(2). As to máfis not yet reported or sanctioned, such cases will be exceedingly rare, and the only new feature in the orders now issued is that under the fifth paragraph of the above-quoted Government letter Settlement Officers will now have power to resume such máfis without reference to higher authority except in certain special cases.

(3). As regards máfis for life, no new orders are required as to grants of this kind which are purely personal. But such of these grants as are of the particular classes described in paragraph 6 of the Government letter should be reviewed by the Settlement Officer, who will decide whether—

(a) former orders are to be left undisturbed; or

(b) release is to be recommended for another settlement term; or

(c) orders are to be issued that in case of petty grants of not more than three acres the land shall, on the death of the existing máfidár, be excluded from the lákhiráj and máfi registers and assessed; provided always that the assessment will not be brought on the rent-roll, and will be levied only when the zamíndárs so desire, and will then be credited to malba income.

(4). As regards all grants released for term of settlement, the Settlement Officer must consider, with reference to the circumstances of each case, whether—

(a) recommendations should be made to release for another term; or

(b) the grant should be resumed and assessed either at once or on death of the present holder on account of material change of character or other special reason; or

(c) the grant should be excluded from lákhiráj area after the new assessment of the village has been fixed and included at the settlement báchh in the málguzári area by the Settlement Officer, but with power to the zamíndárs to exclude from the báchh during their pleasure.

This third course (c) is one that should be adopted only in the case of petty máfis granted originally by the zamíndárs themselves or by some high official or jágírdár at their request, and for a purely village object only. It is not meant that a grant should be treated in this way, even though less than three acres, if it be attached to a village institution of more than ordinary note or importance or antiquity. In such cases it would be better to continue the grant for another settlement term as a regular máfi. It is only in doubtful cases, when there is no sure reason either for continuance for another term or for resumption and assessment, that the procedure of giving the zamíndárs an option of making the land either within or without the báchh should be adopted.

5. Settlement Officers, who under these instructions determine to resume village máfis, may resume them without reference to any other authority. For máfis not resumed registers must be prepared. Where the máfi is maintained only for a period already sanctioned, the Settlement Officer can pass his own order for such maintenance and file the registers in the District Office. Where it is proposed to maintain a máfi on conditions or for a period in excess of that which has been sanctioned, the registers must be submitted for orders.

Registers which require to be submitted should be prepared in English and separately for máfis which require sanction (1) of the Financial Commissioner or (2) of Government. Each register should be arranged in two groups, viz. :—

(a) Grants to institutions,

(b) Grants to individuals, and within itself each group should be topographically arranged. When two or more grants are held by any person or institution this fact should always be noted on the entry of each of such grants in the register. The form of the register is given at page 84 of the Directions to Settlement Officers, and the registers themselves may be submitted either for the whole district or for a single tahsíl. When the registers are complete, Urdu translations should also be prepared. For registers on which the Settlement Officer himself passes final orders no English version is necessary.

6. Every register submitted for the orders of higher authority should be accompanied by a skeleton abstract giving, in the same order as that of the register, the numbers of the cases, the names of the holders, and blank columns for the orders of superior authority. The orders passed on the register will be copied into this skeleton abstract, and will be communicated to local authorities by the return of the abstract.

7. Pending the orders of competent authority on the registers, the Settlement Officer may act as if his recommendations had been accepted, provided that he makes it clear that this action is merely temporary until final orders can be issued.

8. In this Circular Settlement Officer means not only a Settlement Officer hitherto so called, but any officer making a re-assessment or special revision of the Record of Rights under the provisions of the Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887; and the period or term of settlement means the term for which such re-assessment may be sanctioned, or (when no re-assessment is in progress) the term which may elapse before the village is re-assessed.

Inspection of Treasuries by Commissioners.

THE following correspondence is circulated by order of the Financial Commissioner for information and guidance.

By order, &c.,

D. C. JOHNSTONE,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Copy of paragraphs 1 to 3 from a letter No. 519, dated 1st July 1887, from the Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, to the Junior Secretary to Government, Punjab.

I AM directed to reply as follows to your letter No. 982 of 3rd May 1887 as to the intervals at which District Treasuries should be inspected by Commissioners.

The Punjab Government Circular No. 112 of 11th January 1878 directs Commissioners to inspect Treasuries each year before the 31st of March. The Financial Commissioner understands from this that one inspection is to be made in each financial year. It might, however, be inconvenient to go further and say that in no case should more than a year intervene between two inspections. It would be preferable to declare that each Treasury must be inspected at least once during each financial year, and that ordinarily speaking there should be an interval of not less than six months between two inspections.

The Financial Commissioner wishes, however, to draw attention to the nature of these inspections. He considers that they should be authoritatively confined to the matters specified in Resolution No. 3853 issued by the Financial Department of the Government of India upon 19th June 1874. If any further information is required it should be obtained from Deputy Commissioners or from some Accounts officer specially deputed to inspect. This seems to be the procedure contemplated by Rules 32-33 in Chapter XXXII of the Civil Account Code. But the practice is very different. Attached to this letter is a printed copy of the inspection questions supplied by the Accountant-General for answer by Commissioners. To these questions is prefixed a heading stating that the answers should be in the Commissioner's own handwriting, and that the inspections should be made half-yearly. These instructions are supposed to be based upon the Civil Account Code, Rule 32, Chapter XXXII ; but if reference be made to Rule 33, sub-rule 3, in the same Chapter, it will be seen that these questions are not to be sent to Commissioners at all, but to District Officers, and there appears to be not a single word about the Commissioner answering them or any of them in his own handwriting. Such a procedure indeed is opposed to the spirit of Resolution No. 3853 already referred to and to that of Rule 33 of Chapter XXXII of the Civil Account Code.

Copy of paragraphs 1 to 4 of a letter No. 216, dated 30th September 1887, from the Junior Secretary to Government, Punjab, to the Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner.

I AM directed to reply to your letter No. 519, dated 1st July 1887, in which, with reference to a report by the Accountant-General that certain Treasuries had not been inspected by Commissioners for more than a year, the Financial Commissioner recommends the issue of revised orders in regard to these inspections, and requests that his own position in respect of the control and management of Treasuries may be reconsidered and defined.

The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Financial Commissioner in thinking that each District Treasury should be inspected by the Commissioner of the Division once in each financial year ; he is therefore pleased to direct that this shall be regarded as the rule in future. Commissioners should be informed accordingly, and also be told that His Honor considers it desirable that, as far as can be arranged consistently with the due discharge of their other duties, not less than six and not more than twelve months should elapse between any two inspections of the same Treasury.

The Lieutenant-Governor observes that in regard to the nature of these Treasury inspections by Commissioners the present practice is not in accordance with the intention and orders of the Government of India. The orders which state definitely the requirements are those contained in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Financial Department, No. 3853, dated 19th June 1874, and repeated in paragraph 33 of Chapter XXXII of the Civil Account Code. By these Commissioners were relieved of the duty of replying to a long list of questions on points of detail into which their enquiries could not be expected to extend, and it was explained that the inspection required of them was one of a more general character. Subsequently, in re-affirming the general responsibility of Revenue officers for Treasury administration, the Government of India suggested (Financial Department Resolution No. 1796, dated 24th July 1876) that the questions which had been cancelled by the order of 1874 above mentioned would serve to show the various points to which the attention of the Executive officers of the general administration might be properly directed, and should be considered to this extent revived. There have been no further orders on the subject by the Supreme Government, whose instructions, therefore, while imposing on Commissioners the duty of a general inspection of Treasuries and directing their attention to the questions as a guide to the objects to be kept in view, do not require these officers to answer all or any of the questions.

It appears, however, that Commissioners are still supplied with the questions, and that they are required to examine the Treasuries by them and to submit their inspection reports in the form of answers to the questions. Authority for this practice is to be found in the Circular of the Punjab Government, No. 3186, dated 14th November 1877, as modified by Circular No. 112-14, dated 11th January 1878. But it is clear that these instructions do not carry out the intention then entertained by the Government, which was to relieve Commissioners from unnecessarily minute enquiries. The Circulars just quoted are accordingly cancelled, and in lieu of them the Lieutenant-Governor directs that Commissioners shall be guided in their inspections of Treasuries by the Financial Department's Resolution of the 19th June 1874, which was sent to them with the Punjab Government's Circular No. 44-1139, dated 16th July 1874, and by the paragraph of the Civil Account Code already quoted. The list of questions which they have hitherto been required to answer is published as Appendix B of the Code (Vol. I), and will of course be useful as suggesting points which at their discretion they may take up in their inspections in addition to the general examination required by the Supreme Government's orders. But they are not required to go into the details indicated by the questions, nor need their inspection reports take the form of replies to them.

The 21st January 1888.

Proxy papers.

The Registrar laid on the table a statement of the proxy papers that had been received.

Dr. Thibaut's resignation accepted with regret.

1. The first proposal on the agenda was as follows: That the resignation by Dr. Thibaut of the Registrarship be accepted with regret that the University should have been so early deprive of his services in consequence of his ill-health.

This was carried unanimously.

Dr. Thibaut's remuneration.

2. The second proposal was: That in consideration of Dr. Thibaut's services he be allowed one month's salary.

This was also carried unanimously.

Arrangements for filling up vacant posts.

3. The Chancellor then read the third proposal which was: That in order to carry out the resolution of the Senate to appoint a permanent full-time Registrar who should also be qualified to hold the position of Principal of the Oriental College, a notice be published in the Pioneer, the Englishman and the Times of India, inviting applications for the combined posts; the salary to be stated as rising from Rs. 700 to Rs. 1,000 per mensem by annual increments, and that the Vice-Chancellor be also authorised to address Sir William Muir, Dr. Markby, Professors Cowell and Max Müller, and the Secretary to the Asiatic Society of London, with the view of securing the services of a really competent scholar for the vacant posts.

Mr. T. C. Lewis rose to propose an amendment to the following effect :—

(a) That having regard to the recent serious failure of several of the University Examinations, and to the complicated nature of the duties of the Registrar, as well as to the difficulties against which he has to contend in conducting the examinations, it is unsafe and unwise to appoint to the Registrarship any one who is a perfect stranger to the Punjab and unacquainted with the work and with the pecular difficulties of the office.

(b) That a Principal of the Oriental College (to take part in the teaching work of the College) be appointed on a salary of Rs. 500 per mensem, to take charge of the duties of his office before November 1888; and that an endeavour be made to secure, if possible, for this post a person likely to be qualified to succeed to the Registrarship on the next subsequent vacancy.

The amendment had previously been circulated by printed notice amongst the members and was now seconded by Díwán Narendra Náth, M.A. After Mr. Lewis had spoken in support of his amendment, the Chancellor questioned whether in view of a previous resolution of the Senate the amendment could be entertained by the meeting. The Vice-Chancellor was of the same opinion; in fact he considered that proposal No. 3 should not have been on the agenda at all. But he desired that the matter should now be settled once for all by discussion, and therefore waived any technical objection he might have had. Mr. Powell pointed out that the difference between the original proposal and the amendment was small; Mr. Lewis merely desired that the gentleman appointed according to the Senate resolution should not be put in charge at once of both offices. After a lengthy discussion, the Chancellor ruled Mr. Lewis's amendment out of form, and said that Mr. Lewis's proper course would be to bring forward a new proposition amending the resolution passed by the Senate in June.

Mr. Lewis then brought forward an objection to the words permanent and full-time in the proposal. He pointed out that it was not within the power of the Senate to appoint a permanent Registrar, and he thought that the word full-time was contrary to common sense. The Vice-Chancellor had no objection to see the word permanent struck out, but he contended that the word full-time ought to remain. It was finally decided to put the proposal in the following form :—

That in order to carry out the resolution of the Senate to appoint a full-time Registrar and Principal of the Oriental College, a notice be published in the Pioneer, the Englishman, and the Times of India, inviting applications for the combined posts; the salary to be stated as rising from Rs. 700 to Rs. 1,000 per mensem by annual increments, and that the Vice-Chancellor be also authorised to address Sir William Muir, Dr. Markby, Professors Cowell and Max Müller, and the Secretary to the Asiatic Society of London, with the view of securing the services of a really competent scholar for the vacant posts.

In this amended form the proposal was carried almost unanimously.

Officiating Registrar appointed.

4. The fourth proposal was carried as follows: That Mr. Bell be appointed to officiate as Registrar, under Rule 34 of the rules sanctioned by the Local Government, until a full-time Registrar and Principal of the Oriental College is appointed by the Senate in accordance with the above Resolution.

Principalship of the Oriental College.

5. The fifth proposal on the agenda was carried in the following amended form That Lála Munshi Lál, M.A., be appointed to officiate as Principal of the Oriental College on a salary of Rs. 200 until further orders of the Senate.

Reorganisation of the office of the Registrar.

6. The sixth proposal was: That having regard to the recent scandals connected with the leakage of examination and other papers and to the desirability of reorganising the Registrar's office on a more economical and efficient footing, the services of the undermentioned clerks be dispensed with upon receipt of salary for the period stated opposite their names :—

Bábu Jaggan Náth ...	Three months.
Munshi Karm Iláhi ...
Pohlu Rám ...	One month.
Ráj Rúp ...
Nand Lál.

The Vice-Chancellor stated at length the circumstances under which this was adopted by the Syndicate, and the Chancellor also supported it. He stated that petitions had been presented to him by Bábu Jaggan Náth and Munshi Karm Iláhi, but that he had no sympathy with these, and desired to see the Syndicate's resolution adopted by the Senate. Díwán Rámjas spoke of the difficulty the clerks named above would have in obtaining employment. Muhammad Abdul Ali Qári also spoke against the proposal and proposed as an amendment that the clause "to the recent scandals connected with the leakage of examination and other papers and" should be struck out. This was seconded by Díwán Rámjas and supported by Lála Kanhya Lál, but was lost, and the original proposal carried.

Sub-Committee to reorganise Registrar's office.

7. The seventh proposal was: That the post of head-clerk be abolished, that the duties of that post be now regarded as part of the duties of the Assistant Registrar, Babu Chandra Nath Mitra, and that a Sub-Committee, consisting of Mr. Baden-Powell, Díwán Narendra Náth and the Registrar, be empowered to consider the reorganisation of the duties and salaries of the establishment.

The Vice-Chancellor proposed that the first portion be omitted, and that the proposal read as follows :—

That a Sub-Committee, consisting of Mr. Baden-Powell, Díwán Narendra Náth and the Registrar, be empowered to consider the reorganisation of the duties and salaries of the establishment. This was seconded by Sheikh Nának Bakhsh and carried.

Proposal to confer D. O. L. on Bishop French.

8. The eighth proposal was then read, and the Vice-Chancellor and Mr. Baden-Powell spoke warmly in favour of it. On being put to the vote, it was passed with acclamation :—

That the Right Reverend Thomas Valpy French, D.D., Bishop of Lahore, is by reason of eminent position and attainments a fit and proper person to receive the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning, and that under the provisions of Section 16 of the Act of Incorporation of the Punjab University (1882) the said degree be conferred upon him honoris causâ.

Degree to be conferred in absentiâ.

9. The ninth item was also carried: That in the event of Bishop French being unable to present himself at the Convocation to be held on the 12th December 1887 for the purpose of receiving the said degree, the said degree be conferred upon him in absentiâ.

Ordinary degrees.

10. The degrees earned by the various candidates at the University Examinations were laid before the meeting as in Appendix I.

It was resolved: That the degrees specified in Appendix I be conferred upon the candidates named therein, who are duly certified to have passed the examinations and fulfilled the other conditions necessary for the several degrees referred to in accordance with the Statutes, Rules, and Regulations now in force and with the provisions of Section 14 of the Punjab University Act.

Scholarships, medals, &c.

11. It was further resolved that the various medals, scholarships and special prizes be awarded as specified in Appendix I.

Examiners in Law in 1887 (February 1888).

15. The Vice-Chancellor stated the circumstances under which this next proposal had been adopted by the Syndicate. On being put to the vote, it was adopted without discussion: That the courses of reading in Mathematics for the B. A. and M. A. Examinations of the Punjab University shall be those already prescribed by the Calcutta University: the A course for the B. A. degree being the ordinary B. A. course of Calcutta, and the B course the Honours course of Calcutta.

Courses in Mathematics.

16. In the original proposal regarding the costume of Medical graduates it was suggested that the Gown for M. D. should have a hood lined with purple silk. Mr. Powell proposed to add or satin. This was adopted and the proposal carried as follows:—

Academical costume of Medical graduates.

That the academical costume for graduates in Medicine be:—

For M. D.: Gown as that of a Fellow, hood lined with purple silk or satin.

For M. B.: Gown as for M. A., sleeves full, hood lined with purple cloth.

17. The following revised regulations in connection with the First Examination in Medicine were adopted:—

Regulations for the First Examination in Medicine.

(1) That a student who fails in two or more subjects be not allowed to begin the fourth year's course of studies till he pass in all the subjects.

(2) That a student who fails in only one subject be allowed to begin the fourth year's course, but that he pass in that subject before beginning the fifth year's course.

(3) That if a student fail in the First Examination in one subject, he be allowed to go up next year in that subject only; and if successful, that he be granted a certificate of having passed the First Examination.

18. The next proposal was carried in the following form: That candidates who pass the Middle School Examination without taking up English, shall be allowed to present themselves afterwards for examination in English only, on payment of a fresh fee of Rupees three.

Fee for those taking English only in the Middle School Examination.

19. In the original proposal by the Syndicate regarding the regulations for admission to the Middle School and other Examinations Mr. Channing took exception to the rule "Every private student shall be required to produce a certificate, &c.," as it afforded no guarantee that the certificate had been signed by a responsible person. He therefore proposed that the word satisfactory be inserted before certificate. This was seconded by Mr. Clarke and carried.

Regulations for admission to the Middle School, Entrance, Intermediate and B.A. Examinations.

In the case of the Entrance Examination, Mr. Chatterji thought that the phrase "signed by the Deputy Commissioner of the District, or (in the event of the certificate being signed by any other officer in the district of not less position than a Tahsíldár) countersigned by him" was unnecessarily complicated. He proposed that the phrase read "signed or countersigned by the Deputy Commissioner of the District." This was seconded by Dr. Rahím Khán and adopted both for the Entrance and the Intermediate Examinations.

Mr. Channing proposed that in the case of all the examinations the following note should be added: In the case of students from Native States, in the absence of Tahsíldárs and Deputy Commissioners, the certificate of officers of equivalent position be accepted. This was seconded by Rája Harbans Singh and adopted.

Colonel Holroyd proposed that in the case of the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations the words "The examination shall be open to any person on the production of a certificate of good character, &c.," should read: Every candidate shall be required to produce a certificate of good character, &c.

After these various amendments had been passed, the new regulations stood as follows:—

I.—MIDDLE SCHOOL AND ENTRANCE.

(1) No public school boy shall be allowed to present himself for examination unless his name has been submitted to the Registrar by the Manager or the Head Master of the public school that he has most recently attended.

Provided that if a public school boy, without any fault on his part, has been compelled by circumstances over which he had no control to leave school before the examination takes place, it shall be within the competence of the Syndicate to admit him as a private student as a special case.

A public school boy is a student whose name has been borne on the rolls of any public school or schools during six out of the twelve months preceeding the examination.

(2) Every private student shall be required to submit a satisfactory certificate showing that:—

(a) his name has not been borne on the rolls of any public school or schools during six out of the twelve months preceeding the examination; or that

(b) he has been compelled, without any fault on his part, by circumstances over which he had no control, to leave school before the examination takes place.

(3) Every candidate shall produce a certificate of good character—

(a) In the case of the Middle School Examination—signed by a Civil Officer of not less position than a Tahsíldár; by the District Inspector or some higher Educational Officer; or by the Head Master of a public school (as defined in the Punjab Educational Code) which teaches at least up to the standard of the Middle School Examination.

(b) In the case of the Entrance Examination—signed or countersigned by the Deputy Commissioner of the District; by the Inspector or Assistant Inspector of the Circle; or by the Head Master of a public school which teaches at least up to the Entrance standard.

Provided that the Syndicate shall have power to exclude any candidate from the examination notwithstanding the production of such certificate, if it is satisfied that such candidate is not a fit person to be admitted thereto.

II.—INTERMEDIATE.

Every candidate shall be required to produce a certificate of good character, signed or countersigned by the Deputy Commissioner of the District; or, in the case of an undergraduate attending a College, by the Principal or Manager of the College.

Provided that the Syndicate shall have power to exclude any candidate from the examination not withstanding the production of such certificate, if it is satisfied that such candidate is not a fit person to be admitted thereto.

III.—B. A.

As for Intermediate Examination.

Note to regulations for admission to Middle School, Entrance, Intermediate and B. A. Examínations :—

In the case of students from Native States, in the absence of Tahsíldárs and Deputy Commissioners, the certificate of Officers of equivalent position shall be accepted.

Patiála Translatorship.

20. The Senate then proceeded to appoint a person to hold the Patiála Translatorship. Notices had been circulated among the members of the Senate, but only one candidate had been proposed. This was Lála Chuni Lál, B. A., who was strongly supported by Mr. T. C. Lewis. As he seemed to be thoroughly qualified for the post, the Senate decided to appoint him.

This was all the business. The meeting broke up with a vote of thanks to the Chancellor for presiding.

From

T. GORDON WALKER, Esquire,

Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

All CIVIL COURTS in the PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 9th January 1888.

The annexed directions, under Section 9 of the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887), which have received the sanction of the Local Government, are published in supersession of the directions circulated with the Court's Book Circular VII of 1887.

2. The directions now issued will have effect in all suits instituted on and after February 15th, 1887.

By order, &c.,

T. GORDON WALKER,

Registrar.

(Translated.)

Notification under Section 9, Act VII of 1887.

WHEREAS the subject-matter of the following classes of suits does not, in the opinion of the Judges of the Chief Court, admit of being satisfactorily valued, the Chief Court, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, directs that they shall be treated for the purposes of the Court Fees Act, 1870, and of the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, and the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, as if their subject-matter were of the value hereinafter stated :—

1. Suits in which the plaintiff in the plaint asks for a decree against the other party to the alleged marriage, either alone, or with other defendants, for restitution of conjugal rights, or for a decree for the recovery of a wife.

2. Similar suits for a decree establishing, or annulling, or dissolving a marriage.

3. Suits in which the plaintiff in the plaint asks for a decree establishing a right to the custody or guardianship of a minor, including guardianship for the purpose of marriage.

4. Suits in which the plaintiff in the plaint asks for a decree establishing or annulling an adoption, including under the expression "adoption" the customary appointment of an heir.

Value.—The value of suits of these four classes shall be deemed to be as follows:—

(a) For the purposes of the Court Fees Act—

Suits of class 1, Rs. 100.

Suits of classes 2, 3 and 4, Rs. 200.

(b) For the purposes of the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, and the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, such sum exceeding Rs. 500, and not exceeding Rs. 1,000, as the plaintiff shall specify in the plaint.

5. Suits by a plaintiff during the lifetime of a person alleged to have a restricted power of alienation in respect of immovable property, in which the plaintiff in the plaint seeks to have an alienation of immoveable property made by such person declared to be void except for the life of such person or for some other determinate period.

Value.—When the alienation is by a written instrument which declares the value of the interest purporting to be created, or the amount of the consideration for which the alienation is made, such value or amount.

In other cases the value, at the date of institution of the suit, of the property alienated.

Explanation.—When the property alienated is a right of occupancy in land, the value shall be deemed to be half the value of the land discharged from such right of occupancy.

6. Suits in which the plaintiff in the plaint asks for accounts only, not being suits for the amount which will be found due to the plaintiff on taking unsettled accounts between him and the defendant, or suits of either of the kinds described in Section 213, Civil Procedure Code.

7. Suits in which the plaintiff in the plaint seeks to establish or to negative any right hereinafter mentioned, with or without an injunction, and with or without damages, viz., a right of way; a right to open, or maintain, or close a door or a window, or a drain or a water-shoot (parnála) ; a right to or in a watercourse or to use of water; a right to build, or raise, or alter, or demolish a wall, or to use an alleged party wall or joint staircase.

Value.—(1). If damages are not claimed, such amount, exceeding Rs. 100 and not exceeding Rs. 500, as the plaintiff may state in the plaint.

(2). If damages are claimed, the amount of such damages increased by Rs. 100.

Explanations to the foregoing rules.—

(1). The term "plaint" includes an amended as well as an original plaint.

(2). Classes 1 and 2 do not include petitions under any special Act relating to the dissolution of marriage.

(3). Class 3 does not include proceedings under Act IX of 1861 or Act XIII of 1874.

(4). A suit falling within any of the above descriptions shall not be deemed to be excluded therefrom merely because the plaint also seeks additional relief, which is capable of valuation.

IN continuation of Part VII of the Summary of Orders relating to village records, appended to Circular No. 66 of 1886, the Financial Commissioner, with the sanction of Government, publishes the following instructions for the guidance of Revenue and Forest Officers.

2. It is the duty of the Collector to furnish to any party of the Survey of India employed in his district, on the requisition of the officer in charge of the party, a list of all the estates, forests and Municipalities included in the district, and a skeleton map thereof.

3. The Collector is responsible for the correct spelling according to the authorized system of all names entered in the list referred to in paragraph 1. Each name should be plainly written both in Urdu and in English. And the list should further show the patwárí circle, thána and tahsíl in which the estate or forest is included.

4. The skeleton map referred to in paragraph 2, commonly called a mujmili map, may be prepared very roughly and need not be drawn to scale, but it should roughly indicate the limits of all estates and forests. It is required by a survey party as a rough guide to the position of each estate or forest, and as a safeguard against omissions and oversights in the earlier stages of their work.

5. When the operations of the Survey of India in progress in any district include the survey of village or forest boundaries or of tri-junction pillars, it is the duty of the Collector to arrange that the boundaries and pillars under survey are indicated to the surveyors in the one case by the patwárís, and in the other case jointly by the patwárís and by the forest officials in charge of the village or forest.

6. It is not intended by this rule that either patwárís or forest guards should continuously attend on the surveyors during the progress of the survey. When the survey has reached the stage at which the boundaries or pillars will be surveyed, the officer in charge of the survey party or his authorized assistant will intimate to the Collector, or (if so previously arranged with the Collector) to the Forest Officer or to the Tahsíldár the dates on which the attendance of each local official will be required, and any temporary inconvenience to current work involved in these attendances, which will seldom exceed three or four days, must be accepted.

7. The Government will hold Collectors and Executive Forest Officers responsible for any errors of survey which may arise from inattention to this order.

8. If in any case for which the above directions provide, the boundaries are found to be uncertain or not to be adequately indicated by existing pillars, the Collector should avail himself of the powers provided in Chapter VIII of the Land Revenue Act, in order to supply such deficiencies in the demarcation as he may consider material.]

By order, &c.,

Offg. Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

PUNJAB UNIVERSITY.

NOTIFICATION.

Report of the Sixth (Special) Convocation of the Punjab University, held in the Montgomery Hall, on Wednesday, the 30th March 1887, at 4-30 p. m.

THE Senate of the Punjab University assembled in Convocation for the purpose of conferring the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning honoris causa on Sir Charles Umpherston Aitchison, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., LL.D., Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and Chancellor of the University, in the Montgomery Hall, on Wednesday, the 30th March 1887, at 4-30 P.M.

His Honor the Chancellor was received at the door of the Hall by the Vice-Chancellor and Fellows of the University, and was conducted to the dais. All present, including several native princes, remained standing until His Honor was seated.

The Vice-Chancellor requested the Chancellor to declare the Convocation open. The Chancellor having done so, the Vice-Chancellor (W. H. Rattigan, Esquire) addressed the Convocation in the following words :—

"Your Honor, Princes, Chiefs, Fellows, Graduates and Under-graduates of the Punjab University,—As you are aware, we are all assembled here to-day for a special purpose, a purpose which I am sure could not more fittingly or more completely give expression to the universal feeling which animates every one connected with the Punjab University, of doing honour to one who, on his part, has done so much for this institution, of which he may be said to be the founder, before he leaves us for good. And I am sure it must be gratifying to him to know that the resolution to confer the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning upon him was passed with acclamation at a very full meeting of the Senate; while the crowded assembly which I see before me to-day bears further testimony to the hearty approval which that resolution has everywhere met. It is not customary among Englishmen, and it would ill become me as your Vice-Chancellor, if I were to speak words of flattery in the presence of him to whom they are intended to refer. Such words would be as distasteful for him to listen to as they would be for me to utter. But on an occasion like the present, it is appropriate that I should refer to the valuable services which he has rendered, not only to the cause of education generally, but to this University in particular. During his rule education has made rapid strides in this Province. It has spread everywhere, and there is hardly a village, however small, where its benefits are not now felt, and where some sort of instruction is not available. Education, too, has been systematized, and it has been made the test for advancement in every department of the Government service. And then turning to our own University, it was, as you all know, through the untiring efforts of Sir Charles Aitchison that the scheme which was formed under his predecessors ripened into maturity, and that the old Punjab University College received its Charter of Incorporation as the Punjab University. Not only this. It was also through his fostering care that this youthful institution, destined, let us hope, to accomplish many high aims in the future, was saved from the rocks and shoals which at one time threatened to wreck its career of usefulness. With a firm hand and clear-shighted judgment, he succeeded in bringing the barque, of which he was the appointed helmsman, out of the stormy billows of strife and faction into calm and smooth waters. And he has now the satisfaction of seeing, on the eve of his departure, that barque, freighted with so many and important interests, lying in a haven of safety, unthreatened by a single element of danger, with an unclouded sky over-head, and holding high the beacon of Eastern and Western learning in this the youngest province of the Indian Empire. It is no wonder then that we, Members of the Senate, and you Graduates and Under-graduates of the Punjab University, should feel a deep sense of gratitude for services such as these, and that we should all seek some way of giving a substantial proof of the reality of that feeling. In conferring then upon our first Chancellor, upon his approaching departure, the highest honour which it is in our power to confer, we desire not only to show and to give public expression to that feeling of gratitude, but at the same time to recognise the high position and attainments by which he is distinguished. On one then who may be said to be the founder of this University, who holds the high position of Lieutenant-Governor of a large Indian Province, and who only leaves that office to enter the Executive Council of the Governor-General, and who already enjoys the high academical distinction of Doctor of Laws in the Senior University of his own country; on one so eminent and so distinguished, and to whom we owe so much, we are about to confer the highest honour in our gift. And I feel it a high privilege that I should be called upon as your Vice-Chancellor to confer this distinguished honour upon him in the name of the Senate. I shall now call upon the Registrar to read the resolution of the Senate conferring the Degree upon His Honor."

The Registrar (Mr. F. Larpent) then read the resolution passed by the Senate at a meeting, held on the 26th day of February 1887 :—

"That His Honor Sir Charles Umpherston Aitchison, Knight Commander of the Most Exalted Order of the Star of India, Companion of the Order of the Indian Empire, and Doctor of Laws in the University of Edinburgh, Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies, and Chancellor of the University of the Punjab is, by reason of eminent position and attainments, a fit and proper person to receive the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning, and that under the provisions of Section 16 of the Punjab University Act, 1882, the said degree be conferred upon him honoris causa."

The Vice-Chancellor then conferred the degree of D. O L. upon His Honor in the following words :—

" Bar hasb-i-qarárdád-i-Senate ki hálá khwánda shud ba ikhtiyáre ki mará ba haisíyat-i-Vice-Chancellor University hásil ast man darja-i-Hakím-i-Mashraqí pesh kash huzúr mu' allá me kunam, wa ín Sanad ki banazar-i-wálá meguzáram ki nishán-i-ost wa ikhtiyár me diham ki huzúr ín libás rá ki alámat ín darja muqarrar ast zeb-i-tan-i-mubárak farmáyand."

The Registrar then proclaimed the conferring of the degree as follows :—

Ham, Chancellor Sáhib, wa Vice-Chancellor Sáhib, wa Fellowán-i-University-i-Punjab, i'lán karte hain ki hamne Hazúr Sir Charles Aitchison Sáhib Bahádur, Chancellor-i-University wa Lieutenant-Governor-i-Punjab bi alqábihí ko darja Hakím i-Mashraqí ka 'ata kiya.

His Honor the Chancellor next addressed the assembly in the following words :—

" MR. VICE-CHANCELLOR AND GENTLEMEN, —I am no oriental scholar and can make no pretension on the score of attainments in Oriental learning to the high academic distinction with which you have honoured me. I accept it rather as a mark of your kindly appreciation of what little it has been my privilege to do in the interests of the Punjab University. As such I highly value it; and I thank you sincerely not only for the degree itself, which is the highest in your power to confer, but for all the attendant circumstances both of kindly word and of ceremony by which you have shown a desire to enhance the honour done to me. Having been personally and intimately associated with the movement for the establishment of a University in the Punjab from its first inception in 1865, and having been appointed the first Chancellor of the University on its actual establishment by law in 1882, the few words I have to address to you, at the close of my office, might appropriately have been directed to a review of the history of the University movement and an exposition of the general principles on which the University has been established—with reference more especially to Eastern and Western learning. But I have so recently dealt with that subject in lengthy official papers which have been made public that there would be no advantage in going over the ground again, even if you had patience to bear with me in the repetition. I will, therefore, on the present occasion limit myself to a few observations on the relation of the University to the educational development of the Province, in the promotion and supervision of which the Senate is, in the Preamble of the Act of Incorporation, declared to be associated with the officers of Government. The usefulness of the University, as we all know and regret, has been to some extent impaired by what may be called a false start and the controversies which arose therefrom. But these difficulties, we may fairly hope, are now almost at an end; and we can, I venture to think, look forward with confidence to a progressive, vigorous and useful future for this the highest educational institution of the Province. The effect of the University in stimulating higher education has already been felt in a very marked degree. Thus we find that, during the last five years, 20 students have taken the degree of M.O.L. or M.A. and 54 the degree of B.O.L. or B.A. against 8 and 28 who have previously passed the corresponding examinations of the Punjab University College in the twelve years that intervened between its establishment in 1870 and the incorporation of the University in 1882. The fees paid for examinations during the last year exceeded Rs. 33,000, which is considerably more than double the amount realised in 1881; and the number of students studying English in colleges affiliated to the University has increased more than threefold during the last five years. One of the most remarkable signs of the present time indeed is the strong and growing desire among all classes of the community for education, and more especially for English education. The Muhammadans, who were formerly inclined to hold aloof from the study of English, are now fully alive to its advantages, on which they have learned to set as high a value as Sikhs and Hindús. Wherever instruction in English is available, a purely vernacular education is ceasing to be acceptable unless perhaps to stipendiary students. As a rule, however, it is only in large towns that education in English is to be had; and it is gratifying to find that, when Anglo-Vernacular Schools are not within reach, vernacular ones are eagerly sought after. At the same time the chief promoters of English education amongst the Native community are by no means unmindful of the importance of encouraging the study of the classical languages of the East. While, on the one hand, Anglo-Vernacular Board Schools find it difficult to provide accommodation for the numbers who seek admission, there are springing up, on the other hand, institutions under private management in which an English education is combined with religious teaching and with instruction in Arabic and Sanskrit It is a special feature of the Punjab University to encourage the enlightened study of the classical languages and literature of the East; and if, as I hope, in the development of education in this Province, Eastern and Western learning continue to go hand in hand, we may soon realize the aspiration which Sir Donal McLeod, the originator of the University movement, set before its supporters. It was his hope that the University would train scholars who should combine the highest results of Western culture with the learning of the East; and the strength and clearness of mind and enlightened views engendered by modern research with the influence that must spring from a familiar acquaintance with the sacred books revered by the people, and from the power of writing the vernacular languages with elegance and vigour. But if this the primary object for which the Punjab University was established is to be attained, the University must be true to its principles and must make every sacrifice necessary to ensure that the oriental studies, to which it lends its high authority, are studies conducted on enlightened principles; that is to say, on the comparative and inductive method which, in the hands of European scholars, has of late years thrown such a flood of light on the history of the human race. The University must make up its mind, once and for all, to reject traditional methods which have ever been barren and unfruitful. The priceless treasures of Sanskrit literature, for example, were in the hands of the Pandits for centuries upon centuries, with no results better than verbose commentaries, ingenious grammars and subtle wranglings over words and texts which none but the Brahminical eye dare looks on without impiety. With ceaseless activity there was no progress :—

'Every one leads as he is led,
The same bare path they tread,
And dance like fairies a fantastic round,
But neither change their motion nor their ground.'

To inquirers of this sort Sanskrit refused to reveal her secrets. But when others came who knew to question her aright they forced her to break the silence of the ages and to disclose her treasures. The study of Sanskrit in the modern method of comparative philology has enabled European scholars to discover truths which, to the old method, would for ever have remained concealed. Applying their principles of criticism and research, they have been able to determine the internal constitution of prehistoric peoples and kingdoms, and their position in the progress of the human race, with almost as much certainty as if their history had been engraven upon the rocks. Provided only that all empirical ways are firmly rejected and the true scientific method is followed, the Punjab University has before it a brilliant future in connection with the study of Oriental languages and literature and the various branches of research, historical, geographical and archæological, on which such studies, if properly conducted, may be expected to throw light. The movement which has recently commenced in favour of technicle education is one with which the University will ere long have to deal. Government has already decided to introduce in this Province measures to provide for the training of youths who are likely to be employed as clerks or in mercantile pursuits; and also to place the elementary education of agriculturists on a baisis more suited to their practical requirements. The children of artizans receive for the most part little, if any, systematic instruction, though they acquire a certain amount of mechanical skill in their fathers' workshops. Those who attend our ordinary public schools too often abandon the occupation of their fathers. One of the first problems that presents itself, under these circumstances, is how to provide for the primary education of the sons of artizans without withdrawing them from their hereditary occupations; and how to modify the existing schemes of study so as to embrace, as far as possible, subjects which will be of practical utility to boys of this class. Technical instruction, properly so called, combined with education of a more advanced kind, can be most advantageously given to boys who have passed through such a course. The Railway workshops at Lahore and Ráwalpindi seem to afford facilities for the development of such a system; and the principal officers of the Railway Department are anxious, I am informed, to see it introduced. The same principle will no doubt be kept in view in framing measures for more general adoption. A committee has been recently appointed to consider the whole question and to draw up practical recommendations. I will not attempt to anticipate their report. The University will no doubt be ready and willing, at the proper time, to perform its part; to enlarge the scope of its examinations by which the work of Middle and High Schools is regulated and tested, so as to provide for the encouragement and development of teaching of a practical kind; and to assist also in making provision for scientific and technical instruction of a higher order such as may be found essential for those who seek employment as teachers of such subjects in the more advanced schools. Female education is not a subject with which the University has as yet had much to do. But it is satisfactory to find that some of the Aided Schools of the Province have now begun to send up successful candidates for the Middle School and Entrance Examinations. Hitherto such candidates have been confined to members of the Native Christian Church. But there is reason to hope that the desire for female education is beginning to take root in other branches of the community; and the University may, I think, look forward to no distant day when, as in Calcutta, female students will come forward for degrees. In particular, special efforts are now being made for the higher education of girls in view to their afterwards entering on the study of medicine. This is absolutely essential if the philanthropic scheme of the Countess of Dufferin is to bear full fruit. Hitherto it has been impossible for a Hindu or Muhammadan girl in this Province to obtain a preliminary education that would qualify her to study medicine to any good purpose; and it is a matter of the highest importance that this want should be supplied. Eventually, it may be hoped that Native ladies of the Province will receive an education which will enable them to obtain the degree of M. D. and to enter on a career alike honourable and lucrative to themselves and of incalculable advantage to their fellow-countrywomen. Some few years must no doubt elapse before this can be accomplished, but the time need not be far distant. Much depends on the influence of the Native gentlemen I see around me, and the object is one to hope and strive for. The staff of our excellent Medical College has lately been strengthened so that it is now fully capable of teaching up to the highest standards; and it is a sincere pleasure to me now to announce that the last communication it will be my privilege as Lieutenant-Governor to make to the Senate is the intimation that the Government of India has empowered the Senate of the Punjab University to grant degrees in the Faculty of Medicine. And this brings me to a subject on which, before I yield up the office of Chancellor, I feel it my duty once again to speak out with no ambiguous utterance—I refer to the systems of physical science and of Yúnáni and Vedic medicine as taught in the Oriental College. Much of what passes there for science is a cosmogony known to be false; the oriental systems of medicine also, though they possess a useful pharmacy, are based on conceptions of the structure and functions of the human body which are demonstrably untrue. It has always seemed to me, as I have already said elsewhere, that the teaching of these systems, as pursued in the Punjab University College, was a violation of the condition on which that College was allowed by Government to be established, viz., "that the teaching which is to be afforded through the medium of the vernacular languages shall be free from the patent errors which prevail in ancient and even in modern vernacular literary and scientific works." But that the University itself should continue the same course and, under its auspices, permit that to be taught in its College as truth which every boy in our Primary Schools knows to be false is, to my thinking at least, nothing short of treason to the academic spirit. By all means let these subjects be studied as other matters of historical or antiquarian interest are studied. They represent interesting stages in the development of human knowledge which it is always useful to know. So do alchemy and astrology and magic. But they are not truths. Like the philology of the Pandits, to which I have already referred, they are founded on error which the methods of investigation adopted by them perpetuate and can never detect and correct. They are and must ever remain barren and unfruitful or fruitful only in error. Hindu medicine, for instance, claims thousands of years as its life. What has it then contributed to the progress of man? What advance has it made in the discovery of truth? Through all those ages it has scarcely added a single new fact to the sum of human knowledge. It classifies diseases by purely accidental symptoms, such as whether they are accompanied with much pain, whether they are accompanied with local swelling, or with mere general swelling, and so forth. As a consequence it inculcates dangerous principles in the treatment of disease; for the laws of nature work mechanically and make no allowance for mistakes. Its general movement has been retrograde, away from the light of inquiry and research to the blind acceptance of authority, till it has mixed quackery and superstition with such truths as it possesses, and till charms and incantations, as in the system of Bhutaredya, take the place of diagnosis and scientific prescription. With the Greek or Arabian system it is just the same. During all the centuries the Arabians were in possession of the results and the principles of Greek science they made hardly any progress. They enlarged the pharmacopœia no doubt, but they made no advance in anatomy and physiology. They also made some astronomical discoveries, and have in this and other departments of science left marks upon the languages of Europe; they improved a little upon Greek arithmetic and trigonometry; and they introduced from India into Europe the present system of numerical notation. But they opened up no living spring of truth; they left no key which could unlock the treasure-house of nature. The Abassides of Baghdad alike with the Ommaiads of Cordova, the wise men of the East and the learned men of the West, Alkandi and Abuzan Hali, Avicenna and Averroes were followers of the Greek systems, commentators upon Aristotle, Hippocrates and Galen, and little more. From Archimides to Galilee, from Ptolemy to Copernicus, from Galen to Veselius and Harvey, the ancient methods led to no "general discoveries," as Lewes calls them. Nay more, with the Arabians as with the Hindús, the movements of science became retrograde. Astronomy degenerated into astrology, chemistry into alchemy, arithmetic into the science of cabalistic numbers, and the search for the philosopher's stone and the elixir vitæ took the place of the search for truth. To teach such systems and methods now is deliberately to perfer the darkness and ignorance of the Middle Ages to the light of science and truth. Nature will not reveal her secrets to false inquirers. She will disclose her boundless treasures to none who do not search in the right way, who do not go ever on "searching what we know not by what we knew; still closing up truth to truth as we find it." A science that is stationary and unprogressive stands in its methods self-condemned.

At the conclusion of the address, the Chancellor declared the Convocation closed; and was then conducted to the west door of the Hall by the Vice-Chancellor and Fellows, and took his departure.

The Vice-Chancellor having asked His Honor to declare the Convocation open, His Honor did so. Copies of the annual report on the operations of the University were circulated amongst the Fellows of the Senate, and extracts from it were then read in the Vernacular by Maulvi Muhammad Husain Azád.

The Vice-Chancellor then, on behalf of the Senate, prayed the Chancellor to confer the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning honoris causá on the Right Reverend Thomas Valpy French, Bishop of Lahore. He said :—

YOUR HONOR,—It is now my pleasing duty to read the Resolution which was recently passed with acclamation by the Senate, and which, I am sure, will receive the hearty approval of all who are connected with this University. But before I do so, I would wish, with your permission, to say a few words by way of introduction.

It is known that Bishop French is very shortly to leave India for good, where he has spent the best part of his useful life, working earnestly and zealously throughout, first as a Missionary, then as Principal of the Divinity College, and lastly as Bishop of Lahore; and it has been thought that it would be a well-earned distinction if, before his final departure, this University, of which he is a most distinguished Fellow, conferred upon him the Degree of D. O. L. In adopting a Resolution to this effect, the Senate has been mindful of the eminent position and attainments of Dr. French, who is not only a profound classical scholar, but is also well versed in several Eastern languages. Hebrew, Persian, Hindi and Urdu are as familiar to him as Greek and Latin; and by enrolling his name on the roll of Doctors of Oriental Learning of this University, the furthest Province of England's Eastern Empire may be said to link itself, as it were, in the bonds of friendly association with one of the oldest Universities of the far West: for he whom Oxford decorated with her honors as a young man just entering on his worldly career, the Punjab now desires to distinguish by conferring upon him, in his old age, and at the close of his active career, the highest academical honour in her gift. The Punjab thus sends back to Oxford, with this testimony of her high respect and esteem, one who brought from thence the learning, the piety, and the high character of a cultivated English gentleman. And I am sure I only express the feeling of all who now hear me when I say that no one is more eminently entitled to have his name included amongst the few distinguished names which already appear on the rolls of this University as Doctors of Oriental Learning than Bishop French. I can only regret that he is not present in person to receive the Diploma and Insignia of this Degree from the hands of Your Honor, but, with that modesty which is the characteristic of true learning, Bishop French, while expressing his deep sense of gratitude for the honour we desire to confer upon him, begged that he might be allowed to receive the Degree in absentiá, and this request has been conceded by the Senate.

It now only remains for me to read the formal Resolution, and to ask Your Honor, in the name and on behalf of the Senate, to confer the Degree named therein on Dr. T. V. French, Bishop of Lahore. The Resolution of the Senate is as follows :—

That the Right Reverend Thomas Valpy French, Doctor of Divinity, Bishop of Lahore, is, by reason of eminent position and attainments, a fit and proper person to receive the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning, and that, under the provisions of Section 16 of the Punjab University Act, 1882, the said degree be conferred upon him honoris causá.

His Honor the Chancellor then conferred the degree of D. O. L. on Bishop French in absentiá in the following words :—

Bar hasb-i-qarárdád-i-Senate ki hálá khwánda shud ba ikhtiyáre ki mará ba haisíyat-i-Chancellor-i ín University hásil ast, man ba darja-i-Hakím-i-'ulúm-i-Mashraqí (Degree of

The conferring of the degree was proclaimed to the assembly by the Registrar as follows :—

Ham, Chancellor Sáhib, wa Vice-Chancellor Sáhib, wa Fellowán-i-University-i-Punjab, i'lán karte hain ki hamne Makhdám-i-ázam Thomas Valpy French Sáhib Usquf-i-Lahor bi alqábihí ko darja Hakím-i-Mashraqi ká 'atá kiyá.

The Registrar next announced the names of those who had been selected by the Senate for the ordinary degrees of B. O. L. and B. A., after which these degrees were conferred by His Honor the Chancellor on the individual candidates in accordance with the procedure laid down in the rules of the University. Nábha-Jínd Scholar, Ganesh Dás, of the Municipal Board School, Ludhiána, for standing first in the Entrance Examination.

His Honor the Chancellor then addressed the Senate as follows :—

MR. VICE-CHANCELLOR AND GENTLEMEN,—When Sir Charles Aitchison became the first Chancellor of this University all felt that he was pre-eminently the right man in the right place; and when he resigned the office last spring, all who had seen how much he had done for the University during his five years of office, and what difficulties his strong character and great abilities had overcome, agreed that he had proved himself the right man. It was therefore with general acclamation and the approval of all parties that the University at the last Convocation conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Oriental Learning, the highest honour it has power to bestow. I am sure that the public will be equally unanimous in applauding the University's action to-day in conferring the same honour on one who is not only an old and useful member of the Senate, but is, as the Vice-Chancellor has just said, also a real scholar in both Oriental and European learning. I am sorry that Dr. French is not here to-day to receive the degree of honour in person, and to take my place in delivering this address to the Convocation. His life may, perhaps, be usefully held up to-day to the particular notice of those in this Hall who are still in the student stage with their lives all before them. He was by nature a lover of learning, and took high degrees at his College, but he was also an earnest seeker after the true path or right way of life. With this end, though a man of means and connection, he chose the humble life of a Missionary in the hope of spreading in India the knowledge of that which he believed to be the true wisdom. I hope that some of the students of this University will develop a similar love of learning and desire to use it for high purposes. At present there does, no doubt, appear to be some foundation for the complaint commonly made that the students in our Indian Colleges treat the literature and sciences which they study solely as steps to a personal end, some appointment or profession, and when that is attained, carry their studies no further, and only retain what is barely necessary. If this is true, it is to be regretted, but is not astonishing. True students are not common anywhere, and the fact is that Western literature and science are not yet properly domiciled in this part of India: they are felt to be alien and are somewhat coldly received. The case is already somewhat different in old centres like Calcutta and Bombay. Truth, however, is great and will prevail, and in the Punjab as elsewhere, the intelligence of India now generally admits that in the last 300 years or so, while Oriental science has been standing still, Western science has hit on the true path of knowledge, and has made great strides in advance. Hence, as Sir Charles Aitchison said last year, young India feels that real progress is to be obtained only by following the modern methods, and popular instinct is in favour of making that the essential part of education, and, I think, rightly, though of course there is much that is valuable as well as inspiring in the old-fashioned literature, and no man can be said to be fully educated who is not well acquainted with the classics of his own country.

But I must get back from this diversion to my main subject, which is the year's operations of the University. This year as in previous years the growing desire for high education is shown by the very large increase in the number of students who present themselves for the different examinations, but the number of candidates who have succeeded in passing has fallen off this year, except for the degree of B. A. and in the Faculty of Medicine. This is to be regretted for the sake of our candidates, but fluctuations are to be expected, and it would be unsafe to draw any conclusions from these results as to the success or failure of the teaching. But it may be noted that complaints have been rife during the last four years of the fluctuating character of the examinations, and that steps have been taken to meet these complaints; the University has determined to assimilate the examinations in Mathematics by the Intermediate and B. A. standards to the corresponding examination of the Calcutta University, and the courses of reading for the Arts Examinations in English, Philosophy, Arabic, Sanskrit and Persian have all undergone revision. Numerous meetings of the Syndicate have been held to consider these matters and other questions connected with the examinations.

Though the condition of the Oriental College is said to have been considerably improved, I believe that much still remains to be done before it can be placed on a really efficient footing. The University has, however, taken the most hopeful course to secure this result by determining to have as Principal of this College a competent scholar trained by the European methods in Oriental literature and philology. This is in accordance with the spirit of Sir Charles Aitchison's advice on the subject in his speech at the last Convocation. In connection with this subject the expediency of devising measures to induce the most promising Oriental scholars from the indigenous schools of the Province to enter as students in the Oriental College seems to require consideration, and an attempt should, I think, be also made to persuade some students who have already received a thorough English education to carry on in the College the study of Oriental languages to a high standard. In this seems to be the best hope of realising Sir Donald McLeod's aspiration that the University should train scholars who would combine the highest results of Western culture with the learning of the East, the enlightened views engendered by modern research with the influence that must spring from a knowledge of the sacred books revived by the people, and from a power of writing the vernacular languages with vigour and elegance.

In his address at the last Convocation, Sir Charles Aitchison referred to the subject of technical education, and mentioned that a Committee had been recently appointed to consider the whole subject, and draw up practical recommendations; the report of this Committee has only just been received by the Local Government, and no orders have yet been passed upon it.

In addition to the want of funds, there are great difficulties in the way connected with the system of hereditary castes and occupations which prevails in this country. I am not sanguine that it will be possible or advantageous to now attempt any wide extension of technical education in the Punjab, but I hope that it may be possible to carry out at once certain proposals for the establishment of schools in connection with the Railway Workshops at Lahore and Ráwalpindi, and for the extension of the scope and functions of the Mayo School of Industrial Art. I may mention here that a small Committee of experts has been recently appointed on the recommendation of the last Educational Congress to consider in detail the alternative course which it has been decided to provide in our schools and colleges for youths who are likely to be employed as office clerks or in mercantile pursuits. The general principles to be followed were settled by the Congress and have been approved by Government. I am glad, by the way, to take this opportunity of bringing to public notice the very important part which the Congress now takes in the educational administration of the Province. The rules and regulations regarding grants-in-aid, the encouragement of indigenous schools, certificated teachers, departmental standards of education, tuition fees, scholarships, boarding houses, and many other matters have been considered in detail by this body with the most satisfactory results. Managers of aided schools, representatives of Missionary Societies, and native gentlemen interested in education are thus brought into intimate relations with the officers of Government. The questions are discussed with the greatest freedom, and it has thus been found possible to legislate on principles generally acceptable to those immediately concerned, and at the same time calculated to advance the best interests of education. Such a result is due to the wisdom and temper of the members, and their sincere desire to work in unison for the public good, and I consider that the sincere thanks of the Local Government and of the University are due to all the private gentlemen, European or Native, who attended the Conference.

During the year the University has received the munificent gift of Rs. 25,000 from Rái Bahádur Seth Rám Rattan for the foundation of scholarships. Another generous donation for the advancement of education was made by Rái Bahadur Mela Rám in the shape of a contribution of Rs. 15,000 towards the erection of the Central Training College, that most important institution on which the efficiency of the secondary schools of the Province so largely depends. The Punjab Association also, which devotes its efforts principally to the promotion of female education, has been liberally supported by the principal Native Cihefs, more especially by His Highness the Mahárája of Patiála, who has contributed Rs. 20,000. With these funds and a grant-in-aid from Government a purely secular girls' school with boarding-house attached will be established, the first, it is believed, of its class in Upper India Though female education is still backward in this Province, there are many signs of improvement: among them is the fact that the number of girls successful in the last year's Primary School examinations was more than treble the number of those who passed in the previous year.

There is one disagreeable subject which I should have been glad to leave unnoticed if that had been possible. In his parting address Sir Charles Aitchison referred to what he called the false start made by this University, but expressed the hope and belief that difficulties were almost at an end, and that a progressive, vigorous, and useful future might thenceforth be anticipated. In most respects that hope has not been belied, but in one the bad after-effects of the false start have this year again been visible in our style of running. I allude of course to the gross irregularities which have occurred in connection with some of the examinations, and which have grievously shaken the credit and dimmed the reputation of the University. It is, however, some sign of progress that this year these frauds have at least been detected and rigorously dealt with. Whether any of the officers of the University have been actually concerned in these frauds is a matter which is still sub judice and on which no remark should now be made, but the Senate has decided to secure as soon as possible a full-time Registrar, and in the meantime the Registrar's office has been reorganised, an entirely new set of men being engaged. These measures and the complete cancelling of the Licentiate Examination in Law has shown the Examiners and the public generally that the University is prepared to act strongly and rigorously in matters of the kind, and to enforce joint responsibility at the cost, no doubt, of hardship to individuals. With the example of these measures and with proper caution there ought to be no fear of the recurrence of such humiliating incidents, and in that expectation and with regard to the large amount of useful work which has been done this year or which is in hand, I feel able to-day, in spite of all that has passed, to confidently support and respect Sir Charles' prognostication of a useful and honourable future for this University.

When His Honor had finished speaking, he declared the Convocation closed. He was then conducted by the Vice-Chancellor and Fellows of the University to the west door of the Hall, and took his departure.

CHIEF COURT.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. II—382.

FROM

T. GORDON WALKER, ESQUIRE,
Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

ALL CRIMINAL COURTS IN THE PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 21st January 1888.

IN Appendix VII A. to the 3rd Edition of the Judicial Circulars has been embodied a note on certain matters in connection with the commitment and trial of Sessions cases which appeared to be most frequently overlooked. The Judges think it desirable to draw particular attention to the points of greatest importance which are dealt with in that note, and the annexed instructions have been framed with this object. In the Court's Circular Memo. No. 22 of 1887 instructions have been separately issued directing that in trials of offences affecting the human body before a Sessions Judge or a District Magistrate exercising powers under Section 30, Criminal Procedure Code, weapons produced in evidence shall be described as accurately as possible.

By order, &c.,
T. GORDON WALKER,
Registrar.

(Translated.)

Instructions.

Object of the instructions.

1. The following instructions are issued with a view to Sessions Judges satisfying themselves as to the validity of the commitment and the completeness of the case as shown by the file of commitment, and in order to avoid the inconvenience caused by the discovery of deficiencies at the time of the trial.

Sessions Judge to examine the file to see that commitment is valid and the case complete.

2. The Judges desire to point out that the interests of justice require, at least until such time as there are specially appointed persons to conduct prosecutions in Courts of Session, that the Sessions Judge should examine the file of each commitment at an early date after receipt in order to see that the commitment is valid; and in particular to assure himself that the calendar contains the names of all the necessary witnesses. If the record shows that other witnesses are needed, the Sessions Judge should inform the committing Magistrate through the District Magistrate, with a view to the exercise of the powers conferred by Section 219, Criminal Procedure Code.

The fact of such examination to be certified on the record.

3. Every Sessions Judge should at the time of such examination certify on the record that he has examined the file of commitment, giving the date of the examination.

All Police papers require to be proved.

4. It is to be remembered that all Police documents, including in particular maps and first reports at a Police Station, are not of themselves evidence, and that, when they are to be used in evidence, they must be proved by the person who prepared them, or some other competent witness.

Maps and plans of locality of offence.

5. The Judges will endeavour to arrange with the Inspector-General of Police for measures being taken in order that maps or plans of the scene of the offence, or otherwise illustrative of the case, may be prepared and proved before the Magistrate through the Police who conduct the case. The Sessions Judge in examining the file should satisfy himself that any such maps or plans as may be required for the purposes of the trial are with the file, and that they have been duly proved.

Names, &c., of persons conducting prosecution and defence to be noted.

6. Further, Sessions Judges are desired to note on the first page of the record of the trial the name and official position, if any, of the person who conducts the prosecution, and the name of the person or persons, if any, by whom the accused or any of the accused is defended. When the accused or any of the accused is undefended, this should also be noted.

THE following alteration in the Rules relating to Process Fees and Process-serving Establishments, which were issued with the Court's Book Circular No. V—148, dated 9th May 1887 (Judicial Circular No. CXXXII), has been sanctioned by the Government of India:—

In Rule IV after the word "persons" the words "being parties" are added.

2. It may be explained this alteration was necessary in order to make it clear that the rule is not applicable to processes issued for service on witnesses.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE:

(No. 797.)

Dated Lahore, 9th February 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Correct maintenance of addas by Patwáris enjoined.

ATTENTION is invited to paragraph 23 of the Summary attached to Circular 66 of 1886 concerning the maintenance at each Patwári's office of an adda, or standard, by which the chain can be readily tested. The Financial Commissioner attaches importance to the correct maintenance of these addas, and requests that Revenue Officers in their visits to Patwáris' offices will see that the orders for their maintenance are duly observed, and that the length of the adda is strictly accurate. Field Kánúngos should be held responsible for any inaccuracies in the addas and for any neglect of the orders relating to them. CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 6.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 883.)

Dated Lahore, 11th February 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Heading of column 10 of Hal Tauzi altered.

OWING to the instructions contained in this office Circular Memorandum No. 6855 of the 6th October 1885 not being properly attended to by District Officers, considerable inconvenience is caused to this office in asking for explanations of differences between the demand for broken periods as shown in column 10 of the Divisional Abstract of Lapsed and Resumed Máfis submitted every half-year and that exhibited in the monthly Tauzi.

2. The Financial Commissioner accordingly directs that in future the heading of column 10 of the Divisional Abstract be altered to "Amount recovered or to be recovered on account of harvests prior to inclusion of each resumption in the rent roll." This column should then show the whole sum due as land revenue on this lapsed máfi from date of lapse up to date of inclusion of the assessment in the regular rent roll; e.g., if a máfi lapse in May the entry in the column will show not merely the sum due on the lapse as assessment for the rabi but also that due for the ensuing kharif. Similarly if some time has elapsed between the lapse and the actual resumption of a máfi, the whole of the sum due as assessment for that time will be included in the entry in the column. In other words, the entry will show the whole sum due on account of a lapse up to inclusion of its assessment in the regular rent roll. Similarly as to the entries to be made under heading B 6, column 2 in Tauzi Form XII (5). The entry in column 4 should show nothing but the amount carried on from column 26 of the Tauzi for the previous March. All other sums, whether due for the current or for previous years, should be shown in column 3. To make this clear the headings of columns 3, 4 and 5 of Tauzi Statement XII (5) should be altered thus:—

Demand for current year.
Balances carried on from column 26 of last Tauzi of previous year.	New assessments of this year.	Total.

If these instructions are observed, the discrepancies which now cause troublesome correspondence will be avoided in future.

By order, &c.,
D. C. JOHNSTONE,
Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

CIRCULAR No. 6 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE :

(No. 1086.)

Dated Lahore, 23rd February 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Quarterly business returns.

THE business statements of which forms are annexed to this Circular should be submitted for each quarter of the year which begins upon 1st October. The first set of statements will be due for the quarter ending 31st March 1888.

2. These statements will be used alike by Deputy Commissioners and Settlement Officers, but Nos. V and VI need not be submitted by Deputy Commissioners of Districts in which no general re-assessment or special revision of the record of rights is in progress.

3. Commissioners, when forwarding the district returns, should add a statement of the appellate work of their offices in the same form as that of Statement III.

4. The quarterly returns should in every case be accompanied by a brief letter written upon half-margin, containing such additional explanations and details as may be necessary to enable the Commissioner and Financial Commissioner to appreciate fairly the work of the quarter under report. The work shown in the statements for the whole year will be noticed in the annual report.

5. The Commissioner, before forwarding quarterly returns to this office, should record on them such remarks, and issue such instructions, as are called for by the state of current business. If the Commissioner's duty in this respect is efficiently discharged, it ought not ordinarily to be necessary for the Financial Commissioner to issue any additional orders.

6. It will assist the Commissioner in the convenient discharge of this duty if the District Officer will send to him both the faired and the office copy of the report and returns for each quarter. The Commissioner will record his remarks on both copies, and then forward the faired copy to the Financial Commissioner and return the office copy to the District Office.

7. With the report and returns for each quarter the Deputy Commissioner should also forward to the Commissioner, for perusal and return, the office copy of the report for the previous quarter.

8. Miscellaneous business which does not fall under any of the descriptive headings in Statement II must not be entered in the quarterly returns.

9. Partition and Revenue Court cases, on which further action is deferred pending decision of suits filed in the Civil Courts, should, for the purposes of these returns, be reckoned as decided. The files of cases in which further action is thus deferred should not be left in charge of the departmental clerks, but should be sent into the record office. When, by the termination of proceedings in the Civil Court, either of the parties to a revenue case of the nature above referred to desires to revive proceedings, the file will, on application being made, be restored to the register of pending cases, and be reckoned in these returns as a new institution.

10. All former circulars as to the submission of quarterly business returns are cancelled.

By order, &c.,

Offg. Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

INSTRUCTIONS.

(1). This statement should be sent separately from the other quarterly returns, bearing a despatch number and date, but with no covering docket. It should be forwarded by the Commissioner to the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, not to the Senior Secretary to the Financial Commissioner.

(2). All remarks relating to the statement, both of the Deputy Commissioner (or Settlement Officer) and of the Commissioner, should be written on the face of the statement, and if necessary continued on the reverse.

(3). In stages 4 to 9 enter the number of estates in which mutations have been attested (whether in whole or part) in black ink, and the total number of mutations attested in red ink under each entry.

(4). Stage 10.—At the end of each quarter the Patwárí will report the number of mutations written up in the mutation registers of the estates in his circle, but not attested by the Tahsíldár, Náib-Tahsíldár, &c. All that has to be done is to add up these unattested mutations for each estate.

(5). Stage 15.—Only those estates will be entered which have been entirely re-measured on the prescribed system.

(6). In the quarter ending 30th June it should be expressly stated in the remarks whether all the extra rabi abstracts have been filed or not, as the number of these will usually be less than the whole number of estates.

(7). Entries 15 to 18 are required only when this work is going on.

CIRCULAR No. 7 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 1087.)

Dated Lahore, 23rd February 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Duties of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture defined.

THE following revised instructions, defining the duties of the officer hitherto styled the Director of Settlements and Revenue Records, have received the sanction of the Punjab Government, and are published for information and guidance, in supersession of those contained in Circular No. 24 of 1885.

2. This officer will in future be designated the Director of Land Records; and the Department of which he is in charge will be known as the Department of Land Records and Agriculture.

3. The title of Director of Land Records has been substituted for that previously in use at the suggestion of the Government of India. But to avoid misapprehension in connection therewith, it is necessary to explain that it is not intended thereby, or by the instructions now issued, in any way to set aside the superintendence, control and responsibility which under the provisions of the Land Revenue Act appertain to Collectors, to Commissioners and to the Financial Commissioner in respect of village records and Land Revenue Establishments.

4. Subject to this understanding, it will be the duty of the Director of Land Records—

(1) to supervise and inspect the village records of every district, and the statistical records of Tahsíl and District offices connected therewith; and

(2) to similarly supervise and inspect the Patwári and Kanúngo agency of the Province.

5. In discharging these duties the Director will be guided by the rules issued by the Financial Commissioner under the Land Revenue Act and by other orders of the Financial Commissioner in force in each district; and he will bring to the notice of the Collector or other superior authority, as occasion may require, any failure to give effect to those orders efficiently. On all matters of detail connected with these subjects the Director's recommendations should usually be accepted as those of an expert specially charged with duties of a technical character. But all important questions will be referred by the Director for the orders of the Financial Commissioner.

6. In any case in which the Commissioner has authority under the Patwári Rules to alter the limits of Patwári circles, appointed dates or other details, he will consult the Director before disposing of the case.

7. The control of the income and expenditure of mutation fees and of the Patwári cess, as also the control of all charges on account of the permanent Kanúngo agency, will rest in the Director of Land Records.

8. He will also have charge of the following subjects :—

Crop, price and weather reports; agricultural experiments; horse and cattle fairs; horse-breeding and cattle-breeding operations; Lahore Veterinary School; Agri-Horticultural Gardens.

9. In dealing with the matters set out in paragraph 7 the Director will usually correspond directly with Collectors. In dealing with all other matters referred to in this Circular, he will address Commissioners, except when dealing with matters of routine and statistics.

10. As regards the Director's relations with the higher authorities, he will in respect of the matters referred to in Rule 8 ordinarily address the Government direct, and in respect of other matters he will address the Financial Commissioner.

11. An abstract of the Director's correspondence will be submitted weekly to the Financial Commissioner.

By order, &c.,

(Translated.)

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 8 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE :

(No. 1367.)

Dated Lahore, 6th March 1888.

To

THE COMMISSIONERS OF LAHORE, RAWALPINDI, DELHI AND JULLUNDUR.

Instructions for guidance of Revenue Officers in which re-assessment operations have been commenced.

THE Financial Commissioner with the sanction of Government issues the following instructions for the guidance of the Revenue Officers of the districts* in which re-assessment operations have been or will shortly be commenced.

* 1. Hissar.	4. Lahore.	7. Gujrát.
2. Kángra.	5. Amritsar.	8. Gujránwála.
3. Gurdáspur.	6. Siálkot.	9. Shahpur.

Principle on which this work is to be carried out.

2. The circumstances of all these districts, a small portion of the Kángra district excepted, are similar in this respect, that there already exists an efficient record of rights. And in the operations now commenced or about to be commenced the Financial Commissioner is anxious that the Revenue Officers of each district should refrain from all avoidable elaborations of new records, and should devote their attention primarily to the continuance and perfecting of the ordinary operations of the village record agency, and to the early revision of the Land Revenue assessments, which have expired or are about to expire in each district.

Kánúngos.

3. The extent to which it is necessary in each district to strengthen the Kánúngo establishment is a matter that has been dealt with separately. But the Kánúngos thus added should have distinct circles allotted to them; and should work on the same system and will be subject to the same rules as have been laid down for the guidance of the permanent Kánúngo establishment.

Tahsíldárs.

4. Hitherto when a tahsíl has been placed under settlement, a specially trained Superintendent or Settlement Tahsíldár has been appointed to the tahsíl, who has relieved the Tahsíldár of the supervision of the Patwárís and Kánúngos. It is the desire of Government to discontinue this practice. The Settlement Tahsíldárs who are still employed in some tahsíls will be gradually absorbed. The supervising officials of each tahsíl will consist of the permanent Tahsíldár and Náib-Tahsíldár, and additional Náib-Tahsíldárs added as may be required by the circumstances of each tahsíl. And throughout the operations now commencing the responsibility of the permanent Tahsíldár for the correctness of the village record work of his tahsíl should be fully maintained. The general principle which should guide a Collector in distributing the current duties between the Tahsíldárs and the Náib-Tahsíldárs of each tahsíl is expressed in Chapter XIII of the Patwári Rules; but the particular manner in which this principle should be applied in each tahsíl is for the decision of the Collector, with reference to the number of Náib-Tahsíldárs allowed, and the nature and extent of the Tahsíldár's other duties. In particular every proper allowance should be made for the judicial and other case work which falls to the Tahsíldár and which he alone can discharge.

Officers exercising the powers of a Collector.

5. The responsibility attaching to the Collector of the district in respect of these operations will vary according to the circumstances of each district, and according to the orders passed from time to time in respect of it. At present in (A) Hissar, Kángra and Shahpur the Collector of the district is himself directly responsible for the record and assessment operations; such assistance as he requires in respect of his other duties being given to him by strengthening the staff ordinarily at his disposal. In the other districts (B and C detailed below) a selected Assistant Commissioner invested with the powers of a Collector has been or will be appointed. In (B) one or two of these districts this officer being of junior standing will, though devoting his entire time to the village records and assessment work as an Assistant to the Collector of the district, the responsibility of the latter officer remaining in full force. In (C) other cases, as in Gurdáspur, Lahore and Amritsar, the Assistant Commissioner so appointed (hereinafter referred to as the Settlement Collector) will be solely responsible for the village record work and re-assessment operations; and in respect of these classes of business the Settlement Collector will therefore have the complete control and direction of the Tahsíldárs, the subordinate establishment and the Patwári agency of each tahsíl.

Distribution of business between officers exercising these powers.

6. In two (viz., A and B) of the cases above described, viz., in districts where the Collector of the district is himself responsible for the village record work and for the re-assessments, whether he is or is not aided by an Assistant Commissioner specially invested to this end with the powers of a Collector, it is for the Collector himself, subject to the usual control, to distribute the business arising under the Land Revenue and Tenancy Acts as he finds convenient. In the third (C) case, viz., where the orders of Government make another officer, that is to say the Settlement Collector, responsible for the village records and the assessments, the Settlement Collector will dispose of all the business detailed in the table annexed to this Circular; all other business arising under the Land Revenue and Tenancy Acts remaining in the hands of the Collector of the district. This distribution of business is so designed as to leave in the hands of the Collector of the district everything not immediately connected with the village record work and assessments; the object in view being to leave the officer charged with the duty of re-assessing the Land Revenue as free as possible to devote his whole attention to that work.

Returns.

7. Of the quarterly and annual business returns, Part V, which relates to village records, and also all crop returns and agricultural statistics (other than those relating to prices and rainfall), will be submitted by the Settlement Collector, and all other returns by the Collector of the district.

Matters not specially provided for.

8. And in deciding any minor questions which may arise relating to these operations, for which no special direction is contained in this Circular, that course should be chosen which on the one hand will involve the least departure from the ordinary routine of the Revenue Administration, and on the other hand will avoid imposing on an officer charged with the re-assessment of a district any duty that is not essential to the progress of that work. These officers should be confined to the work by which their appointment has been necessitated, and they should not be regarded in any avoidable respect as intended to relieve the Collector of the district of duties other than those relating to assessments and village records.

9. In so far as these officers will exercise control over Tahsíldárs and Tahsíl establishments jointly with the Collectors of the districts under assessment, the Financial Commissioner confidently expects that Collectors of districts will do all in their power to facilitate the progress of assessment operations.

By order, &c.,

R. E. YOUNGHUSBAND,

(Translated.) Offg. Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Table showing business arising under the Punjab Land Revenue and Tenancy Acts, 1887, which will be disposed of by Settlement Collectors :—referred to in paragraph 6 of this Circular.

7 ...	Punjab Tenancy Act, Section 76, sub-section (1), clause a ; and Section 77, sub-section (3), clauses a, b, and c ; also clause m so far as concerns Káúngos and Patwárís.

Additional instructions. Entry No. 1 in above table.

In any district in which a revision of existing Zaildári arrangements will probably be required, the Collector of the district should consult the Settlement Collector before finally disposing of successions to Zaildárships, as it may be convenient temporarily to hold back final orders on such successions. Proposals for revision of Zaildári arrangements should be prepared by the two Collectors jointly.

Collection of Land Revenue.—The Settlement Collector has no powers under Chapters VI and VII of the Land Revenue Act ; but the Collector of the district should refer to him for report all cases in which remissions or suspensions of the Land Revenue appear to be required on account of calamity of season or other failure of assets. Similarly the Settlement Collector may of his own motion report such cases to the Collector of the district for orders. It is important that the officer who is charged with the duty of revising the assessments should enquire into all cases of this kind ; and the Collector of the district should not set aside his recommendations in any case without the sanction of the Commissioner.

CIRCULAR No. 9 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE :

(No. 1382.)

Dated Lahore, 7th March 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Objections and penalties under Act II of 1886.

UNDER Act II of 1886 no person who has within the prescribed period filed an objection to the amount of income tax to which he has been assessed, can be compelled to pay the amount of the tax until his objection has been heard and decided. It is therefore essential that such objections should be decided with the utmost promptitude.

2. It is also very essential that when objections have been decided, no delay should be allowed to occur in the collection of the tax, and that defaulters should be summarily proceeded against under Section 30 of the Act.

3. At the same time the Financial Commissioner desires to point out that, in proceeding under Section 30, it is not obligatory to impose a penalty; and if a penalty is imposed, it is not necessary in every case to impose the maximum penalty permissible under the Act. It will generally be found sufficient at first to issue a notice calling upon the defaulter to pay the amount of the tax and the cost of issuing the notice within a week or ten days. In case of failure to comply with this notice, a penalty, but not necessarily the full penalty, may be imposed.

4. The accompanying form of register is substituted for Registers 4 and 4 A prescribed in Circular 14 of 1886. All proceedings under Section 30 should be shown in this register, and every entry should be dated and signed by the Collector; in cases in which a penalty is imposed, an autograph order of the Collector should be recorded in column 7.

By order, &c.,

III.—Branded mares proved to be barren, i.e., mares that have not held to Government stallions for the last two years, will not be eligible to compete.

IV —No mares or stock will be allowed to compete as "served by Government stallions" or "got by Government stallions," unless a certificate to that effect is produced by the exhibitor. These certificates are obtainable from officers in charge of stallions.

V.—Branded fillies (Class II), if out of branded mares by Government stallions, may also compete in "Class III, Fillies."

VI.—Geldings (Class VI), if out of branded mares by Government stallions, may also compete in "Class V, Yearlings" (colts) and in "Class IV, Remounts," if purchased at the show for Government, Army and Police purposes.

VII.—Intending exhibitors should, on arrival at the show, apply to the Secretary of the Judging Committee for a ticket or tickets, as the case may be, stating the class in which they purpose to compete.

VIII.—Each ticket will be worn by the animal as a token of the right to compete.

IX.—When the tickets are given, the Secretary will name the date, hour, and place at the show when and where horses should be brought for examination. A shamiána, or large tent or shed, to afford shade to the Committee, within a temporary rail enclosure, should be erected, to allow of the members to carefully examine the stock. The public should not be permitted to enter the enclosure during the Committee's proceedings.

X.—Prizes will be awarded on the day appointed by the President of the Judging Committee.

XI.—A certificate (parwána) will be given to each winner, whether he takes his prize in money, khillat, or medal, as he may think best.

XII.—One or more of the District Officers of each district represented, and the Assistant Superintendent, Horse-breeding Operations, will act as Judges of the Committee.

XIII.—Discretion is to be used by the Judging Committee in awarding only a portion of prizes to any class, if the stock of that class be not considered worthy of all prizes noted, and the money not awarded may be devoted to the giving of extra prizes in other classes deemed by the Judging Committee as worthy of them, as it is the desire of Government to award the total sum granted, provided any of the classes of stock competing are in any way worthy of it.

XIV.—The system of marks will be adopted as follows :—

For mares.		All other stock.
Soundness	25	Soundness	25

Quality	25	Quality	25
Produce at foot	25	Action	25

Marks for "action" have not been accorded to mares, as some competing may be too heavy in foal to allow of their action being shown. The Judging Committees are requested to be good enough to attach a return to their reports showing the number of the several marks allotted to winners of prizes.

NOTE.—1. To enable a horse to become eligible to compete in the "Gelding" class, both testicles must have been excised.

2. The prizes allotted to the "Gelding" class are to be invariably awarded to the best competing, irrespective of their worth in other respects. 4. B.

Rules for the guidance of Judging Committees of District Horse Shows.

I.—Only bonâ-fide horse-breeders of the districts named will be allowed to compete for the above prizes. The Judging Committee will decide as to the eligibility of competitors.

II.—A branded mare of 4 years of age, in foal or with foal at foot, the result of having been covered before 4 years of age, will not be eligible to compete.

III.—Branded mares proved to be barren, i.e., mares that have not held to Government stallions for the last two years, will not be eligible to compete.

IV.—No mares or stock will be allowed to compete as "served by Government stallions" or "got by Government stallions," unless a certificate to that effect is produced by the exhibitor. These certificates are obtainable from officers in charge of stallions.

V.—Branded fillies (Class II), if out of branded mares by Government stallions, may also compete in "Class III, Fillies."

VI.—Geldings (Class VI), if out of branded mares by Government stallions, may also compete in "Class V, Yearlings" (Colts) and in "Class IV, Remounts," if purchased at the show for Government, Army and Police purposes.

VII.—Intending exhibitors should, on arrival at the show, apply to the Secretary of the Judging Committee for a ticket or tickets, as the case may be, stating the class in which they purpose to compete.

VIII.—Each ticket will be worn by the animal as a token of the right to compete.

IX.—When the tickets are given, the Secretary will name the date, hour and place at the show when and where horses should be brought for examination. A shamiána, or large tent or shed, to afford shade to the Committee, within a temporary rail enclosure, should be erected, to allow of the members to carefully examine the stock. The public should not be permitted to enter the enclosure during the Committee's proceedings.

X.—Prizes will be awarded on the day appointed by the President of the Judging Committee.

XI.—A certificate (parwána) will be given to each winner, whether he takes his prize in money, khillat, or medal, as he may think best.

XII.—One or more of the District Officers of each district represented, and the Assistant Superintendent, Horse-breeding Operations, will act as Judges of the Committee.

XIII.—Discretion is to be used by the Judging Committee in awarding only a portion of prizes to any class, if the stock of that class be not considered worthy of all prizes noted, and the money not awarded may be devoted to the giving of extra prizes in other classes deemed by the Judging Committee as worthy of them, as it is the desire of Government to award the total sum granted, provided any of the classes of stock competing are in any way worthy of it.

XIV.—The system of marks will be adopted as follows :—

For mares.		All other stock.
Soundness	25	Soundness	25
Power	25	Power	25
Quality	25	Quality	25
Produce at foot	25	Action	25
Total	100
If no produce, the total	75	Total	100

Marks for "action" have not been accorded to mares, as some competing may be too heavy in foal to allow of their action being shown. The Judging Committees are requested to be good enough to attach a return to their reports showing the number of the several marks allotted to winners of prizes.

NOTE.—1. To enable a horse to become eligible to compete in the "Gelding" class, both testicles must have been excised.

2. The prizes allotted to the "Gelding" class are to be invariably awarded to the best competing, irrespective of their worth in other respects. Prizes in this class to be awarded only to stock that have been castrated when in possession of their present owners, bonâ-fide horse-breeders, and provided the Judging Committee are satisfied the animals have been castrated with a view of competing for the prizes.

3. In the North-Western Provinces approved mares and fillies were, up to the year 1877, branded V. R.; since that time they have been branded V. I. In the Punjab approved mares and fillies were, up to the year 1885, branded B. M.; since that time they have also been branded V. I. In the Bombay Presidency, Sind and Bilúchistán approved mares and fillies are branded /|\ . The brand will be found either on the off or near shoulder, or on the saddle place.

4. In case of Remounts not being purchased for one branch of the service of the class for which prizes are offered, the prizes for that class will be added to the prizes offered for Remounts of the other branch of the service. For instance, if no Remounts, over 3 years of age, are bought for the British service, the prizes will be added to Native Cavalry Remounts, over 3 years of age, and vice versâ.

Notifications by Chief Court, Financial Commissioner, Accountant-General, &c.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 11 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 1621.)

Dated Lahore, 17th March 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Responsibility of Collectors defined in districts in which Forest Officers are employed.

WITH the sanction of the Local Government the Financial Commissioner issues the following instructions with the object of defining the responsibility of Collectors of districts in which Forest Officers are employed in respect of the duties discharged by these officers. But nothing in this Circular applies to the working of the Punjab River Rules, to the collection of drift and stranded timber under Chapter IX of the Indian Forest Act, to forests in Native States, nor to the Chánga Mánga Reserve. Neither does it apply to limited areas in one district managed by a Forest Officer whose main duties lie in another district.

2. When the Collector considers it desirable that Magisterial powers for the trial of forest offences should be conferred on a Forest Officer, the Local Government will be prepared to consider such a recommendation; but each case of this kind will be separately treated with reference to local requirements and the personal qualifications of the Forest Officer concerned.

3 (a). In respect of the matters mentioned in clause (b) of this paragraph the District Forest Officer is under the control of the Collector in his management of—

Relation of District Forest Officer to Collector.

(i). Reserved forests.

(ii). Protected forests.

(iii). All unclassed forest and waste land owned by the State, or in which the State has forest rights.

In a sub-division of a district, as for example in the Kulu Sub-Division of the Kángra District, the control of the Collector may be exercised through the Assistant Collector in charge of the sub-division.

(b). The control of the Collector will be exercised in respect of the taking up of new forests, the recovery of monies due to Government, the prosecution of forest offences, so much of the forest administration as affects the use of the forests and waste lands by the adjacent population, and the appointment, posting and transfer of establishment, so far as they affect these questions.

Assistance to be rendered as heretofore by the Collector's establishment.

4. The Collector will see that Tahsíldárs and the subordinate revenue agency of all grades not only render the same assistance as heretofore in the management of Government waste lands, and especially in the assessment and collection of Government dues, but also that these officials render assistance in the management of all forests. All distinctions and practices which are likely to encourage the impression that forest work lies outside the ordinary duties of land revenue officials should be gradually abolished. The Collector will also authorize the District Forest Officer to address orders to these officials direct in matters in which it may be convenient that he should, in ordinary cases, act without the intervention of the Collector.

5. The District Forest Officer will keep a diary, in which will be briefly noted from day to day—

(a) all occurrences of importance relating to duties discharged by him;

(b) the substance of any reports or representations (verbal or written) addressed by him to the Collector, and all orders received from that officer.

Should a Forest Officer be District Forest Officer of more than one district, he will write a separate diary for each district.

This diary, written on half-margin, will be sent weekly to the Collector, and will be accompanied by a brief précis of any correspondence with the Conservator affecting the matters in respect of which the control of the Collector is exercised. The Collector will retain the précis, but will forward the diary without delay to the Conservator of Forests, adding any remarks he may wish to make.

The Conservator of Forests will return the diary direct to the District Forest Officer, who will lay before the Collector any remarks that the Conservator may have made thereon.

Forests and waste lands to be administered according to working plans and sanctioned plans of operations.

6. All the lands mentioned in paragraph 3 (a) shall be administered in accordance with working plans sanctioned by Government, and with temporary plans of operations as provided in Chapter II, Part I, of the Forest Department Code, and in the following paragraphs.

Working plans.

7. It has not yet been possible to provide working plans for all these lands. But when the Conservator of Forests is in a position to provide a working-plan he will, in consultation with the Commissioner of the Division, issue orders for its preparation. All working plans require the countersignature of the Collector, Commissioner and Financial Commissioner, whose duty it is to see that a proposed plan is framed with due consideration to local requirements.

When the working plans are so countersigned, they will, if they relate to (i) reserved forests or to (ii) protected forests, be submitted by the Conservator to the Inspector-General of Forests for scrutiny and approval of technical points. The Inspector-General will forward them to the Local Government with his opinion and remarks, and the Local Government will pass orders upon them, furnishing a copy of the same to the Government of India for confirmation or record. But if they relate to (iii) unclassed forests and waste lands owned by the State, or in which the State has forest rights, they will be sent by the Conservator to Government through the Financial Commissioner.

Working plans, when sanctioned by Government, cannot be altered except under the procedure and sanction above prescribed.

Annual plans of operations.

8. In addition to such details as may from time to time be prescribed by the Conservator of Forests, the annual plans of operations shall state—

(a). The grazing management, viz.,—

(i) Absolute closings.

(ii) Closings for part of the year or against certain animals only.

(iii) Temporary closings for improvement of fodder.

(iv) Grazing permits and leases.

(b). Temporary cultivation subsidiary to forest management.

(c). Cuttings and sale of timber, fuel and other forest produce.

(d). Protection from fire and from trespass.

It is not, however, intended that arrangements previously approved and found to work satisfactorily should be re-stated at length each year. It will be sufficient under such circumstances to state briefly that previous arrangements will be continued. The annual proposals for the regulation and management of grazing will be in accordance with the system prescribed by the orders of the Financial Commissioner; and in framing proposals under this paragraph for the closing of areas which have not been declared reserved or protected forests under the Indian Forest Act, 1878, due consideration should be shown for the grazing convenience of adjacent villages.

9. Annual plans of operations will be framed by the financial year. There will be a separate plan for each district. It will be prepared in duplicate by the District Forest Officer, who, in respect of the matters mentioned in paragraph 3 (b), will, in preparing it, be guided by the instructions given by the Collector. The Collector will submit the plan to the Conservator for sanction.

The Conservator in framing his orders on the plan will consult the Commissioner in respect of the matters mentioned in paragraph 3 (b). If in regard to any of these matters he disagrees with the Commissioner, he will refer the point at issue to the Financial Commissioner for his orders, or for the orders of Government, as the case may require. Final orders should be issued before the 15th March in each year.

Subsequent alterations.

10. If, during the currency of any annual plan of operation so sanctioned, it becomes necessary to revise it in respect of any matter mentioned in paragraph 3 (b), the procedure laid down in paragraph 9 will be followed.

11. The District Forest Officer will be consulted by the Collector with reference to all proposed alienations of forests or waste lands by grant, lease, or sale; and he will give such assistance in cases of this nature as the Collector may require, especially in the selection of the sites and determination of the boundaries of proposed grants. No land, whether protected or unclassed forest or waste, the revenue of which is credited to the Forest Department, will be granted, leased, or sold until the consent of the Conservator of Forests to its alienation has been obtained.

Office and routine.

12 (a). The offices of District Forest Officers will, so far as possible, be located in or in the immediate vicinity of the Collector's office.

(b). Formal official correspondence between the Collector and the District Forest Officer concerning matters dealt with by these instructions should be avoided as far as possible; written communications, when necessary, being carried on by the transmission on original files and cases under the same rules as apply to the transaction of business between a Collector and his Revenue Assistants.

(c). The Collector may direct the District Forest Officer to file in the District Record Office such of the Forest records as relate to Forest settlements or revenue leases, or other matters affecting the use of the forests and waste lands by the population adjacent thereto.

13. Proposals of importance for the formation of new forests, or which affect the use of the forests and waste lands by the adjacent population, will be addressed by the Conservator to the Financial Commissioner for submission to Government.

14. Nothing in this Circular is to be understood as affecting the responsibility of the Revenue Officers in respect of the special assessments described in clause (f) of Section 59 of the Land Revenue Act.

15. The attention of Revenue and Forest Officers is invited to the following Circulars, viz. :—

No. 37 of 1879, relating to realization of forest income.

No. 60 of 1886, relating to the compounding of forest offences.

No. 26 of 1887, relating to forest settlements.

Circular No. 42 of 1885 and Circular Memo. No. 30 of 1887 are hereby cancelled.

By order, &c.,

T. GORDON WALKER,

(Translated.) Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

CIRCULAR No. 12 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 1622.)

Dated Lahore, the 17th March 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Instructions for the preparation of the Excise Report for 1887-88.

THE following instructions are issued for the preparation of the Excise Report and Returns for the year 1887-88.

2. Attention is invited to the general instructions issued in Circular No. 4 of 1888.

3. Much trouble was caused last year both to this office and to Government by the careless way in which many of the district excise returns were prepared, and it is particularly requested that Deputy Commissioners will insist on the correct preparation of the annual returns by intelligent clerks. The Financial Commissioner hopes that it may be possible in future years to reduce the number of the excise returns. In the meantime the following notes may be found useful.

Return No. I.—Column 7 * should be the same as column 10 of Return No. II; column 8 should be the same as column 18 of Return No. VI; column 9 should be the sum of column 11 of Return No. VII and column 32 of Return No. VIII; column 10 is the total of columns 7, 8 and 9, and column 12 is the sum of column 12 of Return No. II, columns 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of Return No. VI, column 7 of Return No. VII, and column 12 of Return No. VIII.

Return No. II.—Column 7 should be the sum of column 7 of Return No. III and column 8 of Return No. IV; column 8 should be the same as column 17 of Return No. III; column 9 should be the same as column 21 of Return No. IV; column 10 is the total of columns 8 and 9, and column 12 is the sum of column 8 of Return No. III and column 9 of Return No. IV.

Return No. III.—Column 7 should show the total number of wholesale licenses granted under excise rule 39; column 8 should be the number of licenses granted for the retail sale of imported liquor plus the number of licenses granted for the sale of rum; the entry in column 9 will be Rs. 16 for every district; column 10 should be obtained by dividing the revenue from licenses for the sale of imported liquor and rum by the number of licenses entered in column 8; columns 11 to 15 will be blank for every district except Simla and Gurdáspur, unless rum has been imported in bond into any district, and the duty has been levied on the rum being taken out of bond.

* NOTE.—These numbers refer to the numbers of columns in the forms of returns and statements which are now being issued for 1887-88, which are not in all cases the same as the numbers of the columns in the form issued for 1886-87.

Return No. IV.—Columns 8 and 10 should be left blank for the present, as no wholesale shops have been established in the Punjab; column 11 should be obtained by dividing column 13 by column 9. The other columns in this return do not require explanation.

Return No. V.—In some districts columns 22 to 26 have been filled up instead of columns 7 to 11, because kíkar bark and spices are mixed with the gur or molasses in order to flavour the spirit. The entries should be made in columns 7 to 11 whenever gur is the main ingredient. The entries in columns 17 to 21 (column 6 of the Provincial Return) for the Umballa District in 1886-87 were wrong, because they related, not to a license under which spirit was distilled from tári or toddy, but to a license for the preparation of toddy by fermentation, which is shown in its proper place in Return No. VI.

Return No. VI.—No separate licenses are granted in the Punjab for the sale of wine or beer, and licenses for the sale of imported liquor are shown in Return No. III. This return will therefore be blank, except for the districts in which tári and pachwái licenses are given, that is to say Umballa and Kángra.

Return No. VII.—The rate of license duty (column 8) should be obtained by dividing the revenue derived from licenses by the number of licenses (column 7). Column 9 should only show opium and preparations of opium, and should not include poppy-heads. Column 10 should be left blank for the present, as the import of Málwa opium is prohibited. Column 11 should show the total revenue derived from opium, including license fees, and the acreage duty on poppy cultivation, but excluding miscellaneous collections.

Return No. VIII.—The rules do not provide for the grant of wholesale licenses for the sale of intoxicating drugs, and column 7 should be left blank. The other columns of this Return will give no trouble.

Detailed instructions for the preparation of the remaining statements do not appear to be required. It should be borne in mind (1) that the returns and statements should in all cases (unless the contrary is expressly specified) show the collections on account of the year under report, (2) that Returns Nos. I to VIII do not show realizations from fines and forfeitures, distillery fees, and other miscellaneous items, and (3) that where the same information is given in more than one statement or return, the figures must in all cases agree. For instance, the total of columns 7 and 8 of Return No. I should be the same as column 27, less columns 25 and 26 of Statement B. The profit on sales of excise opium should be shown in column 14 of Statement D.

4. Deputy Commissioners are requested to submit an additional statement reconciling the total receipts in column 29 of Statement B and column 17 of Statement D with the treasury accounts. The principal cause of difference will be the inclusion in the latter of realizations during the year on account of the coming year, and the exclusion of advance realizations in the previous year on account of the year under report.

5. The report should be divided into the following parts:—

I.—Abkári, that is, country spirits, rum, and imported liquors.

II.—Opium and preparations of opium.

III.—Drugs.

IV.—Excise offences.

Parts I, II and III should each commence with a discussion of the realizations during the year with reference to the demand for the year, the realizations of previous years and the prospects of the coming year. Notice the effects of any changes in the excise system or management which have taken place during the year, such as the opening or closure of distilleries, closure of chandu shops, increase or reduction of establishment, &c. The following subjects should also be noticed: the comparative consumption of country spirits, country-made rum, and imported spirits, the strength at which each is usually sold, its cost price, and the class of consumers to whom it is sold; the increase or decrease of poppy cultivation, with reasons, the price of opium (wholesale and retail) as compared with the prices prevailing in other districts (see Statement C of Excise Report of previous years), the amount of excise opium sold, and its price, the extent to which madak and chandu are smoked; the kinds of drugs used, their source of supply, the extent to which they are imported or exported from the district.

Part IV should include a notice of any important cases of smuggling or of illicit distillation which have taken place during the year, and the Deputy Commissioner should say how far in his opinion these offences escape detection.

This list of subjects is not intended to be exhaustive, it is merely intended as a general guide to the scope and character of the report.

By order, &c.,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

B.

Rules for the guidance of Judging Committees of District Horse Shows.

I.—Only bonâ fide horse-breeders of the districts named will be allowed to compete for the above prizes. The Judging Committee will decide as to the eligibility of competitors.

II.—A branded mare of 4 years of age, in foal or with foal at foot, the result of having been covered before 4 years of age, will not be eligible to compete.

III.—Branded mares proved to be barren, i.e., mares that have not held to Government stallions for the last two years, will not be eligible to compete.

IV.—No mares or stock will be allowed to compete as "served by Government stallions" or "got by Government stallions," unless a certificate to that effect is produced by the exhibitor. These certificates are obtainable from officers in charge of stallions.

V.—Branded fillies (Class II), if out of branded mares by Government stallions, may also compete in "Class III, Fillies."

VI.—Geldings (Class VI), if out of branded mares by Government stallions, may also compete in "Class V, Yearlings" (Colts) and in "Class IV, Remounts," if purchased at the show for Government, Army and Police purposes.

VII.—Intending exhibitors should, on arrival at the show, apply to the Secretary of the Judging Committee for a ticket or tickets, as the case may be, stating the class in which they purpose to compete.

VIII.—Each ticket will be worn by the animal as a token of the right to compete.

IX.—When the tickets are given, the Secretary will name the date, hour and place at the show when and where horses should be brought for examination. A shamiána, or large tent or shed, to afford shade to the Committee, within a temporary rail enclosure, should be erected, to allow of the members to carefully examine the stock. The public should not be permitted to enter the enclosure during the Committee's proceedings.

X.—Prizes will be awarded on the day appointed by the President of the Judging Committee.

XI.—A certificate (parwána) will be given to each winner, whether he takes his prize in money, khillat, or medal, as he may think best.

XII.—One or more of the District Officers of each district represented, and the Assistant Superintendent, Horse-breeding Operations, will act as Judges of the Committee.

XIII.—Discretion is to be used by the Judging Committee in awarding only a portion of prizes to any class, if the stock of that class be not considered worthy of all prizes noted, and the money not awarded may be devoted to the giving of extra prizes in other classes deemed by the Judging Committee as worthy of them, as it is the desire of Government to award the total sum granted, provided any of the classes of stock competing are in any way worthy of it.

XIV.—The system of marks will be adopted as follows :—

For mares.		All other stock.
Soundness	25	Soundness	25
Power	25	Power	25
Quality	25	Quality	25
Produce at foot	25	Action	25
Total	100
If no produce, the total	75	Total	100

Marks for "action" have not been accorded to mares, as some competing may be too heavy in foal to allow of their action being shown. The Judging Committees are requested to be good enough to attach a return to their reports showing the number of the several marks allotted to winners of prizes.

NOTE.—1. To enable a horse to become eligible to compete in the "Gelding" class, both testicles must have been excised.

2. The prizes allotted to the "Gelding" class are to be invariably awarded to the best competing, irrespective of their worth in other respects. Prizes in this class to be awarded only to stock that have been castrated when in possession of their present owners, bonâ fide horse-breeders, and provided the Judging Committee are satisfied the animals have been castrated with a view of competing for the prizes.

3. In the North-Western Provinces approved mares and fillies were, up to the year 1877, branded V. B.; since that time they have been branded V. I. In the Punjab approved mares and fillies were, up to the year 1885, branded B. M.; since that time they have also been branded V. I. In the Bombay Presidency, Sind and Bilúchistán approved mares and fillies are branded /|\ . The brand will be found either on the off or near shoulder, or on the saddle place.

4. In case of Remounts not being purchased for one branch of the service of the class for which prizes are offered, the prizes for that class will be added to the prizes offered for Remounts of the other branch of the service. For instance, if no Remounts over 3 years of age are bought for the British service, the prizes will be added to Native Cavalry Remounts over 3 years of age, and vice versâ.

CHIEF COURT.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. IV—1172.

FROM

R. L. HARRIS, ESQUIRE,
Offg. Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

ALL CIVIL COURTS OF APPEAL SUBORDINATE TO THE CHIEF COURT.

Dated Lahore, 9th March 1888.

THE Judges desire to draw the attention of the subordinate Civil Courts, exercising appellate jurisdiction, to the effect produced on the course of appeal in civil suits by the coming into force on July 1st, 1887, of the Provincial Small Cause Court Act, 1887.

Under Section 38 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, appeals from the decrees of Munsifs in small causes not exceeding Rs. 500 in value lie to the District Judge.

The term "small causes" since July 1st, 1887, means suits of the nature cognizable by a Provincial Small Cause Court under Act IX of 1887, that is to say, all suits of a civil nature, which are not excepted in the second schedule of that Act, or which under the provisions of any other enactment for the time being in force are not cognizable by a Small Cause Court.

Accordingly, the appeal from an appellate decree made in a Civil suit instituted on or after July 1st, 1887, which is of any of the descriptions mentioned in the second schedule to Act IX of 1887 does not lie to the District Judge, even when the value of the suit does not exceed Rs. 500, and the decree is made by a Munsif, but lies to the Divisional Court, unless the value of the suit exceeds Rs. 5,000.

In applying the directions contained in Book Circular VIII of 1886 to appeals from orders, the alteration in the definition of "small cause" as respects suits instituted on or after July 1st, 1887, should be borne in mind.

By order, &c.,

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 13 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 1745 (a).)

Dated Lahore, 21st March 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Instructions for the preparation by Patwárís of maps needed to illustrate Police inquiries.

PURSUANT to paragraph 26 of the Patwári Rules the Financial Commissioner, with the concurrence of the Inspector-General of Police, issues the following instructions concerning the preparation by Patwárís of maps needed to illustrate police inquiries.

2. In ordinary cases no demands for such maps will be made upon Patwárís.

3. In the case of heinous crime, especially in cases of murder or riots connected with land disputes, the Police Officer investigating the case (not being below the rank of Deputy Inspector) will, if he considers an accurate map is required, summon to the scene of the crime the Patwári of the Circle in which it occurred and cause him to prepare such a map as may be needed to illustrate the statements of the witnesses. He will be careful not to detain the Patwári longer than is necessary to the preparation of the map.

4. It is necessary to define clearly the responsibility of the Patwári and Police Officer in respect of these maps.

5. The Police Officer will indicate to the Patwári the limits of the land of which he desires a map, and the topographical items to be shown therein. The Patwári will then be responsible for drawing the map correctly, for marking accurately on the map all these items, and for entering on the map true distances. He will not write on the map any explanations.

6. It is for the Police Officer himself to add to the map such remarks as may be necessary to explain the connection of the map with the case under enquiry. He is also responsible equally with the Patwári for the correctness of all distances.

7. It will be convenient if all the entries made by the Patwári are made in black ink, and those added by the Police Officer in red ink.

8. Patwáris will not in any case be required by a Police Officer to make a map of a habited enclosure, or of land inside a town or village site.

Salaries of employés of Missionary Societies not exempt from Income Tax.

THE Government of India having ruled, in their letter No. 386, dated the 24th of January 1888, a copy of which is annexed, that the incomes of Missionary Societies and not those of their employés are exempt from Income Tax, by Section 5 (1) (e) of Act II of 1886, the rulings conveyed in Financial Commissioner's Circulars Nos. 2 and 14 of 1887 must be regarded as no longer in force.

2. The salaries received by Missionaries, Mission School Teachers or other Mission employés, if otherwise liable to assessment, are not, therefore, exempt from liability to Income Tax merely on the ground that such salaries are derived from the income of Missionary Societies or from similar sources. The incomes derived by Missionary Societies, whether from house property or other sources, are exempt from liability to Income Tax, as already pointed out.

CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 8 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 1801.)

Dated Lahore, 24th March 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Instructions for the preparation of the Income Tax Reports for 1887-88.

THE following instructions for the preparation of the Income Tax Reports and Returns for 1887-88 are issued in supersession of Circular Memo. No. 14, dated the 14th April 1887.

2. Deputy Commissioners are required to submit the Returns Nos. II-VI prescribed by the Government of India, together with their reports on the working of the Income Tax Act for the past year, so as to reach the Commissioner's office by the 1st of May 1888. The Commissioner of the Division will forward the Returns and Report for each district, with such remarks as he may deem necessary, to this office as soon after their receipt by him as possible, but not later than the 15th May. No Divisional Reports will be required.

3. With regard to the Returns, the instructions given below should be carefully observed. They will be found to differ in some respects from those contained in the Circular Memo. issued last year.

Return No. I.—This return shows the collections of the Tax from salaries, pensions, annuities and gratuities paid by Government. It will be prepared by the Accountant-General for the Civil Department, by the Comptroller-General for the Provincial Forest Department, and by the Examiners of Accounts in the Public Works and Railway Departments. The figures will be totalled, classified, and incorporated in the Provincial Returns prepared in this office. Deputy Commissioners will have no concern with this return.

Return No. II.—This return shows realizations from interest on securities under Part III of the second schedule to the Act. District Officers will fill in the particulars required by columns 7 and 8, which relate to securities issued by local authorities or companies,—vide Part III, clause (c), of the second schedule.

The rest of the return will be prepared for the Province by the Accountant-General,—vide Part III, clauses (a) and (b), of the second schedule.

Return No. III.—This statement embraces the income under all four parts of the schedule. Columns 3 and 4 will be filled up in the Financial Commissioner's office from the totals given in columns 9 and 10 of Return No. I; District Officers will fill up the figures in columns 5 to 10, which relate to the tax on salaries, pensions, annuities and gratuities paid by local authorities, companies, public bodies, &c., thus completing the collections under Part I of the second schedule.

Column 13 represents the collections made under Part III of the second schedule. District Officers will fill in the figures relating to interest on loans issued by local authorities, or companies, the Provincial Returns being completed in the Financial Commissioner's office from the Accountant-General's Return (No. II) under Part III, clauses (a) and (b), of the schedule.

Deputy Commissioners will fill up the remaining columns from their Registers, giving the totals as far as their returns go. Columns 11 and 12 correspond with Part II of the schedule (profits on companies), and columns 14 and 15 to Part IV (other sources of income). In filling in column 21—Refunds—care must be taken to enter only the amount of cash actually refunded to assessees. Sums remitted before actual collection will of course have no place in this return as columns 14 and 15 will give the final figures for the year after disposal of objections and appeals.

Return No. IV.—This return classifies the assessments, collections, &c., under the four heads given in schedule II of the Act, and will be filled up in district detail by Deputy Commissioners, and in total for the Province by the Accountant-General as regards the first line (salary deductions) and third line (securities). The second line (companies) and the fourth line (other sources) will be filled in by Deputy Commissioners.

Return No. V.—Return No. V shows the detailed classification of incomes under various heads. Nos 1, 2 and 3 will be filled up by the Accountant-General; Nos. 4, 5 and 6 should be filled up from district register No. I. Nos. 32, 33 and 34, interest on securities, will be filled up from Return No. II as explained above, and the rest will be filled up by Deputy Commissioners and the totals given as far as the figures go.

Return No. VI.—This return shows the expenditure and presents no difficulties. It should include the pay and deputation allowances of officers on special duty, and the pay of District, Tahsíl and Cantonment Muharrirs. Travelling allowance should not be debited to Income Tax expenditure unless an officer goes into camp for the sole purpose of the administration of the Income Tax. The charges for country paper, lithography, &c., for income tax need not be kept separately from the general district expenditure under these heads, nor need they be shown in this return.

4. The Financial Commissioner does not consider it desirable to add to the labours of District Officers by prescribing any additional returns for provincial purposes, such as the bringing out of percentages, &c. This will be done, as far as practicable, in this office from the general returns prescribed by the Government of India.

5. In preparing the reports on the working of the Income Tax Act, Deputy Commissioners will be expected to give some account of the mode in which the assessment lists for the year under report were prepared; variations in the initial demand as compared with the initial and final demands of previous years should be commented upon. The extent and character of objections and appeals, the agency by which they have been disposed of, and the mode in which they have been investigated should be described. The way in which the penal provisions of the Act have been applied should be specially noticed, and attention should also be paid to the following points, viz., the statistics of large towns in regard to the incidence of the tax, particulars as to European and other tax-payers in large civil stations and Military cantonments, and the state of the balances. Estimates of the probable amount of the assessments for the ensuing year should be given. The instructions here given are not to be regarded as exhaustive, and any points of interest should be noted.

6. Efforts should be made to have the figures entered in the returns checked and scrutinized before submission. The returns of last year have, in some instances, been found to have been defective and inaccurate, owing evidently to the absence of careful supervision. The following instances will illustrate what is meant :—

(a). In some districts 'objections' were shown as having been almost universally successful, and it seems clear that in these cases all the objections presented were not entered in column 4 of Return IV, Part IV, but only the total number accepted.

(b). In the case of one district the income tax deductions from official salaries made by the Accountant-General were included in column 9 of Return IV, Part I, of the district returns, whereas only the collections on account of salaries not paid by Government should have been shown. In another instance no income was shown under Part I of Schedule II, although the salaries of Municipal and similar bodies must have been taxed under that part of the schedule.

By order, &c.,

D. C. JOHNSTONE,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 15 OF 1888.

(No. 1950 (a).)

Dated Lahore, 29th March 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Instructions for the preparation of the Monograph on wood manufactures.

Circulars issued in former years

Circular No. 7, dated 19th February 1884.
Circular No. 1, dated 2nd January 1885.
Circular Memo. No. 3587, dated 25th May 1886.
Circular Memo. No. 27, dated 2nd August 1887.

THE subject chosen for the next of the annual Monographs on the industries of the Punjab is Wood Manufactures. For the scope of the enquiries to be made and the nature of the information required concerning processes of manufacture, &c., the and noted in the margin may be consulted; and attention is also drawn to Class XV and other parts of Mr. Baden-Powell's "Punjab Manufactures." The note by Mr. Kipling which is appended hereto also contains useful suggestions.

2. The reports now called for should include all manufactures in which wood takes a prominent part, and should not be confined to the articles mentioned in Mr. Powell's Class XV.

3. In the reports of past years the descriptions of processes and specimens have usually been both valuable and interesting, but in the statistics supplied there has been so little uniformity that the figures, however carefully ascertained, have been of little use in the compilation of the Provincial Monograph. The Financial Commissioner therefore wishes all the reports to give at least the following items of information :—

I. Names of a few places whereof the wood-work is famous, and articles (or kind of work) for which each is noted.

II.

Branches of industry.	Castes and religions engaged in each.	Number of workers in each branch in district.*	Number of factories in each branch.	Remarks (inter alia Number of factories employing 20 hands or over.)
3.
&c.
TOTAL ...

* Please underline the caste most proficient in each branch. If a single caste is most proficient in more than one branch, doubly underline the entry of that caste opposite the branch in which its proficiency is most marked.

III.

Castes engaged in wood manufactures in district.	Number of each engaged in wood manufactures.
TOTAL ...

[N.B.—II and III should be made out, mutatis mutandis, also for really important centres of industry, i.e., the places mentioned in I.]

IV (1). What departments of the manufacture are thriving and what languishing.

(2). What classes of workers are thriving.

V (1). The wages of each class of workman and for each of the important kinds of work.

(2). The profits of trade in the manufactured articles.

VI (1). Prices of the raw materials, with note of how much is exported to places beyond the Punjab and how much imported from such places.

(2). Total value of raw material worked up per annum in each district.

(3). Prices of more important articles.

(4). Total value of annual outturn in each branch mentioned in II.

VII (1). Total annual value of export from district of manufactured articles (under each branch) beyond Punjab, with note of destination.

(2). Same of imports from beyond the Punjab into the district, with note of places of manufacture.

(3). Value of exports into or imports from other districts of the Punjab where either export or import is great.

(4). Each Deputy Commissioner should submit his report to the Commissioner of the Division by 1st July, and it is hoped that the Commissioners will be able to forward the district reports with remarks by the 15th of that month. The office copies need not be sent to this office as was done last year.

By order, &c.,

(Translated.) D. C. JOHNSTONE,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Note by Mr. J. L. KIPLING, Principal, Mayo School of Art, Lahore, in connection with wood manufactures.

Scope of the enquiry.

1. I doubt whether enquiry made by any but an expert would materially add to the facts already known of Punjab wood-work on its technical merits as a handicraft. But careful research into the economic questions of the wood-supply of the province, its sources quantity and prices, and the present state of its distribution ought to produce useful results. This would involve statements of the number of persons and the approximate amount of capital now engaged in the timber trade. The present rates of wages earned by wood-workers, the development in some regions of the sep tarkhân or agricultural carpenter, into the more skilled workman of to-day, the changes in the use of various woods are also matters that if properly sifted would furnish a record of one phase of the industrial growth of the Punjab. No specific record of the condition of the wood trade and wood-working of fifty years since exists, but sufficient is known of more recent periods to make comparison between yesterday and to-day possible. Accurate statements of selling, rates of wages, of net value of local outturn, I venture to think should be asked for, because I am persuaded that a false, or at least an exaggerated, impression of the intrinsic importance, in a commercial sense, of some Indian industries has been conveyed by writers who have confined themselves to technical or artistic considerations, ignoring relative commercial values.

Discursive notes on wood-supply.

2. It is not necessary to go at length into the suggestions offered above, but as to the supply of wood there is a popular impression that it is now scarce and dear, while on the other hand the Forest authorities and other large holders have stocks for which there is but little enquiry. It is also reported that where shisham was formerly used in house building and decoration, deodár is now made to serve. Popular impressions are almost as liable to be wrong as right, but it would be well to know the facts. Deodár itself can scarcely be so cheap as it ought to be when American pitch-pine imported by way of England is sold at Sukkur on the Indus at a lower rate. Increased strictness in measurement may count for something. Formerly about a foot at each end of river-borne logs was given in for waste by splintering and chafing, while now, it is said, no allowance is made. The tassu measurement is used in native transactions, while in Public Works Department, Railway and English dealings the cubic foot is the unit. Care should be taken to discriminate these measurements, and local variations of the tassu, if any exist, should be noted. American pitch-pine has been mentioned. The only other foreign wood imported in any quantity is teak, and that, I believe, exclusively for Railway work, and for use in the most important Government buildings. Statements of prices and consumption of this wood would be useful. Wood said to be failing in quantity and quality are walnut and kikar (pistacia integerrima).

Timber trade.

3. I think enquiry would show that the number of persons who deal in wood has largely increased of late years. If this is the case, it is a significant fact. It is obvious that with the establishment of timber yards a supply of seasoned wood, which has hitherto been practically unattainable, may eventually be looked for. And this is a notable step in advance. Careful local enquiry may reconcile the apparent incompatibility of an increase in the number of timber traders with the alleged growing scarcity and dearness of the staple. Local imposts, such as octroi, should be specified, and, when possible, their effect on trade fairly stated.

Present condition of wood-workers.

4. The special aptitude of certain castes, especially the Sikhs, for wood-working has led to their being employed in Railway and other works, where the standard of technical skill and the rate of wages are higher than anything previously known. Authentic information would probably show that the wage earning power of the Punjab carpenter has greatly increased, and that he is appreciated beyond the limits of the Province. It is customary to speak of Sikh carpenters, but, as a matter of fact, there are many excellent workmen of Muhammadan birth. The Railway authorities could furnish specific information, while other employers of labour, such as contractors, would probably be able to show that a higher average of technical ability than is commonly believed is available for sufficient pay. No notes of prices, wages, &c., are given in Mr. Baden-Powell's book.

Changes in the village system.

5. Many of the best carpenters are of families who were originally village servants. In agricultural districts the wood-work of the well and of small implements is still made by village carpenters from wood furnished by the zamíndár, who pays in kind. But even in these things there is a tendency to change. Colonel Harcourt in one of his reports on the Gurdáspur district speaks of quantities of plough pieces passing through the district from an unknown source and of a different pattern from those in local use. The large wheels of the Persian Wheel are also now made for sale. The reports of District Officers on agricultural implements have gone into the question of smaller agricultural implements pretty exhaustively, and no great addition to our present information can be expected.

Industries of European introduction.

6. In wheeled conveyances a change is taking place, for although ekkas are still made in large quantities, and something like a special trade in ekka wheels is located at various places, e g., Ferozepore and Guru ka Jandiála, it is believed the ekka, the baili and the rath are being supplanted by the tum-tum, or dog-cart, the fitan, or phaëton, or barouche, and the chhej ghari, or shigram, while the wagnit, or waggonette, is coming into great favour from its carrying capacity and social potentialities. In places where up to recent times only indigenous forms were known, these new shapes are now made, and with yearly improving skill. An account of wood-working trades should include this branch, with statements of the number of men capable of such work, and, where possible, their outturn.

Furniture.

7. As to furniture for European use, it is only in the large towns that this trade is followed. In connection with the Kabáriyás, or furniture dealers, there is a slop trade similar to that of Whitechapel and the regions off Tottenham Court Road, where flimsy articles made for the most part of the outsides of deodár logs and smeared with ral varnish are made. This might be worth enquiring into, and statements of prices taken (not asked) would be instructive. The shapes and patterns in vogue should be noted. Very occasionally something like an establishment may be met with where good work is made at higher prices than in the dealer's shops. There would be no harm in noting and naming workshops of this kind, for they are indications of industrial improvement. Under this head the localised industries of ivory inlaid furniture at Hoshiárpur, the camp and easy-chair work in shisham of Gujrát, and the tun wood armchair trade with which Kartárpore is credited, invite enquiry. In this connection it may be noted that the localisation of a trade is often at once an evidence and a cause of its prosperity. Wood-work is less liable to being fixed to one place than other crafts, but all signs of localisation ought to be noted.

English tools, screws, nails, &c.

8. Some notice might be taken of the consumption of imported nails, screws, hinges, locks, springs, handles, wheel-boxes and other articles in brass or iron which are indispensable parts of all wood-work. I have never seen a tassa or an adze of foreign make; but with this exception, and that of drill-bits for the native burma, and a few carving tools, I am under the impression that nearly all the tools now used are foreign. Excepting a few large clout-headed nails, I believe all the nails now used are English. The clamps used in some kinds of boat-building and a few other things only are of local make.

The Kharádi or wood-turner.

9. The turner's trade has a slightly exaggerated prominence in European eyes from the fact that some of its products are pretty and saleable. And we are in the habit of speaking of the work of Hoshiárpur, Dera Ismail Khan, Pákpattan, Ferozepore, &c., as if there was a large production by a great number of hands. It would be interesting to know exactly how many artisans are engaged in the best kind of this work for export at the places named and others. The use of shísha, bottle colours, generally aniline, is creeping into this trade and spoiling the wares of Hoshiárpur and Dera Ismail Khan, except for Hindu dealers and middlemen, who allow their own taste for tawdry colours to spoil their market with complete complacency.

Doors and windows, bukharchas, &c.

10. The most characteristic, and on the whole the best, work in an artistic sense that the Punjab produces is architectural wood-carving. There are especially excellent workmen at Bhera, Chiniot, Amritsar and Hoshiárpur. At Peshâwar the Arabic trellis-work known as pinjra is made of exceptional fineness, and at Mooltan of exceptional cheapness. But it would appear that good carven work of this school is by no means limited to a few places, and that most carpenters trained in the native system can turn out good examples. New houses, both in large towns and villages, undoubtedly show less decorative use of wood in their frontages than formerly; but District Officers will be able to state whether the art is really decaying.

Kamagri work.

10 a. Kamagri work (painting on woodwares in water-colour heightened with tin or sometimes gold, and, protected by varnish) is practised in many places, notably at Chiniot Mooltan, Delhi, Kángra, Lahore, Muzaffargarh. The wood-work as carpentry is generally rough or somewhat flimsy. The articles made are women's dressing cases, qalamdáns, píras, bed legs, wedding chests, sometimes doors, and the bows from which the art takes its name. In this work carpentry counts for little, the whole external surfaces being covered with colour and varnish.

Boats.

11. It is not likely that much change has taken place in boat-building. Small row-boats on English models are occasionally made, but it is doubtful whether they are coming into regular use. But whether for comparison with the past or the future, the present state and value of Punjab boat-building might well be reported on.

Basket-making.

12. This trade, in the hands mostly of chamárs and possibly changars, is certainly improving at Delhi, Lahore and Umballa. Workers in cane and bamboo might be looked up and the quality of their wares, their earnings, numbers and outturn reported.

Combs.

13. In comb-making there are but three woods in common use—box wood, karil or leafless caper and the white wood—used at Sahâranpur for carved trivialities sold at Railway Stations, &c., and the trade per se is not very important. It is localised, however, at Amritsar and Sri Hargovindpura, and seems to have recently spread a good deal, e.g., to Delhi and Lahore. The low prices at which fairly well finished combs are produced wholesale would be surprising if fairly set forth, seeing that no machinery is employed.

Miscellaneous.

14. I am not sure whether musical instruments should be included in this enquiry, as the trade is so slender and intermittent. Tun and occasionally mulberry are the woods employed. The tennis and badminton bats of Siálkot and Simla seem to be improving and are notable for the utilisation of rauns—a useful elastic wood little known except by native artisans. The very numerous native cricket clubs use bats of native make copied from English patterns and made of willow wood, as in England; and since cricket is being adopted with something like enthusiasm in many parts of the Province, a small trade will probably grow.

Among trivialities are the kan, olive wood, walking-sticks brought in some quantity from Peshâwar, and the lún (mountain ash) sticks from the hills. The Nechabands of Delhi use a good many ringall bamboos for hookah nechas. A curiosity of this small trade is the regular fabrication by Sikhs, to whom the hookah is an abomination, of hookah mouth-pieces.

CIRCULAR No. 16 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 1950 (b).)

Dated Lahore, 29th March 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Quarterly Statements of Income Tax.

THE accompanying Quarterly Statements of Income Tax Balances and Collections are prescribed in supersession of those given in Circular No. 39 of 1886.

2. The statements should be submitted for the quarters ending the 30th June, 30th September and 31st December respectively in each year, and should reach the office of the Commissioner of the Division within fifteen days of the date on which they become due. Commissioners will forward the statements of each district to this office as soon as possible after their receipt with such remarks as may be thought necessary. Duplicate copies of the statements should not in future be sent direct to this office, but the procedure prescribed in regard to the quarterly business returns in Circular No. 6 of 23rd February 1888, paragraphs 5, 6 and 7, may be followed with advantage.

3. The Memo. of Balances of previous years has been simplified and none of the columns should present any difficulty.

4. The first twelve columns of the Statement of Income Tax Collections take the place of the former return; the remaining columns relate to the disposal of objections. The headings of all the columns have been revised so as to be easily understood and to ensure uniformity of practice in filling up the figures.

Column 1 should show the lump sum demand without any detail of classes. In the return for the quarter ending the 30th June column 1 should show the initial demand for the year according to the assessment for the district under Part IV of the 2nd Schedule of the Act. Column 12 will give the balance outstanding at the close of the quarter after deducting the amounts collected or remitted shown in columns 5 and 11. In the returns for the second and third quarters column 1 should show the same as column 12 of the previous quarter in each case. Column 9 should show refunds made during the quarter on account of the current year only; those relating to previous years (if any) being entered in the column of remarks of the Memo. of Balances of previous years. It may be observed that actual refunds should be very rare indeed if the procedure laid down in the Act is followed, as the amount assessed should ordinarily be paid only after disposal of objections (Sections 16 (3), 25 and 30 (1) proviso).

Column 2 should show the income under Part I other than that on salaries, &c., paid by Government. Column 4 should contain the income under Part III (c) only.

5. No Treasury certificates are now required to be sent with the quarterly returns, but such certificates should accompany the annual returns.

By order, &c.,

[Translated.]

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

CHIEF COURT.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. V—1440.

FROM

R. L. HARRIS, ESQUIRE,

Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

ALL JUDICIAL OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 27th March 1888.

THE Judges of the Chief Court have been pleased to substitute for Rules 2 and 20 of the Rules made under Section 14, Clause (1) (c), Act XVIII of 1884 (published as Judicial Circular CXXVIII, 3rd edition), the following rules referring to copies and copyists.

Rule 2.—Each copyist will receive nine-tenths of the entire copying fee taken from the person demanding a copy; the remaining one-tenth shall be the remuneration of the Head Clerk of the English Office, Clerk of the Court, or Superintendent of the Vernacular Office, as the case may be, whose duty it will be to see that the copy tallies with the original, and is thoroughly well written. This rule should be strictly adhered to. The practice of funding the fees and entertaining copyists on fixed salaries is forbidden.

Rule 20 (i).—For every copy there will be charged a copying fee and a record office fee.

(ii). The record office fee will be a sum charged in addition to the copying fee, equal to one-fourth of its amount.

(iii). The following will be the scale of copying fees:—

English copies.

		Rs.	A.	P.
Two hundred words and under	...	0	6	0
Every additional 100 words	....	0	2	0

Vernacular copies.

Two hundred words and under	...	0	3	0
Every additional 100 words	...	0	1	0

These rates include the cost of the paper, which will be supplied by the copyist. For field maps, boundary maps, tabular work, &c., a special charge will be fixed by the officer granting the copy.

(iv). The Judges desire it to be understood that this scale of fees is intended to show the maximum rates leviable, and that a lower scale may be fixed in any district if it is found possible to get really good copying done at a cheaper rate.

(v). The copying fees levied should be disposed of strictly in accordance with Rule 2. The record office fee will be credited to the record office fund.

By order, &c.,

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 17 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 2193.)

Dated Lahore, 12th April 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Rent Rolls, Balance Statements to be submitted according to the agricultural year.

WITH the sanction of the Local Government, the Financial Commissioner directs that, commencing with the kharíf of 1888, all assessments, leases, rent rolls, demand statements, collection and balance statements relating to revenue assessed under the Land Revenue Act, or to rates and cesses,* be in future made, granted, framed and submitted in correspondence, not with the financial year, but with the agricultural year.

* See Section 3 (9) of Land Revenue Act, 1887.

2. The agricultural year referred to is that which commences with the agricultural operations of the kharíf and ends with the harvesting of the rabi. But for the purposes of the collection and balance statements it will be taken as commencing on the 1st October and ending on the 30th September next following.

3. The year may be distinguished in correspondence and statements by the initials of the two harvests; e.g., K. R., 1888-89, will stand for the agricultural year which comprises the kharíf of 1888 and the rabi of 1889.

4. The rent roll of each district for the coming agricultural year should hereafter be submitted punctually not later than the 1st of November. No attempt should be made to show in it the effect on the rent roll of the alluvion and diluvion caused by the kharíf rains. The increases and decreases due to this cause will be assessed in the same way as hitherto during the cold season. And after they have been sanctioned in the manner prescribed by the system current in each district, decreases will be shown as nominal balances, while increases will be credited for the current year to fluctuating revenue, the result in both instances being incorporated in the rent roll of the year following.

5. Annual grazing leases, where it is usual to grant such leases, should be sold at the commencement of the rains. And if by the conditions of the lease a lessee is required to pay an instalment of revenue before entry, that instalment will be shown in the collection returns ending 30th September as revenue of the coming year paid in advance.

6. Subsidiary instructions showing the manner in which demands, collections and balances of rabi 1888 should be reported are being issued separately by Circular Memo.

By order, &c.,

T. GORDON WALKER,

Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 11 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE:

(No. 2195.)

Dated Lahore, 12th April 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Substitution of the agricultural year for the financial year in respect of all assessments, leases, Collection and Balance Statements.

IN Circulars No. 17 and No. 18 of this date, the agricultural year, which commences with the Kharíf and ends with the Rabi, has been substituted for the financial year in respect of all assessments, leases, and Collection and Balance Statements, and also as the year of the Revenue Report. The Circulars direct that this change shall have effect from the Kharíf of 1888. And in this Circular Memo. it is intended to instruct Collectors how they should deal with the Rabi of 1888.

2. Fixed Rent Rolls should be submitted showing the fixed revenue demand for Rabi 1888.

Statements of Fluctuating and Miscellaneous Land Revenue will be also submitted for the same period. In both instances the ordinary forms will be used; but the entries will be only for one harvest.

3. Demand Statements of Rates and Cesses should similarly be framed for the Rabi of 1888.

4. In the same way, Collection and Balance Statements for the Rabi 1888 (1st April to 30th September) will be submitted in the usual form.

5. Leases hitherto sold by the financial year may either be sold for the Rabi 1888 separately or for the 3 harvests, Rabi 1888, Kharíf 1888, and Rabi 1889, the demand for Rabi 1888 being in the latter case distinguished in the Collection and Balance Statements from that of Kharíf Rabi 1888-89.

6. No Revenue Administration Report on the Rabi of 1887 will be submitted. The next Revenue Report will be due after 30th September 1888 and will deal with the Kharíf of 1887 and the Rabi of 1888. Any remarks specially required in respect of the Rabi of 1887 can be given in that Report, but the returns appended to it will deal with the statistics of the Kharíf of 1887 and the Rabi of 1888, and will compare those statistics with those of the year Kharíf 1886 and Rabi 1887.

7. The changes thus introduced involve no change in the prescribed periodical forms, except this, that the Kharíf will now become the first half of the Collector's year, and the Rabi the second half. In all returns which distinguish these two harvests their position should be thus transposed. And where the months of the year are shown, the series should commence with October and end with September.

8. In the Deraját Division the di-alluvial assessments of each cold season have been hitherto made as for the coming financial year Rabi and Kharíf.

This practice was introduced a few years ago owing to the difficulty of carrying these assessments into the Rent Roll of the current financial year.

The Commissioner of the Deraját should now inquire and report whether these assessments, which are made on the assets of the past Kharíf and coming Rabi, cannot now be treated as the assessments of those harvests, that is to say of the current agricultural year. Primâ facie, this course would appear to be desirable.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 14 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 2485.)

Dated Lahore, 23*rd April* 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Attention drawn to rules regarding supply of carriage to troops on the march.

A CASE has recently occurred in which neglect of the standing rules regarding the supply of carriage to troops on the march resulted in loss to Government. These rules are very clear and simple, and the Financial Commissioner wishes to impress upon all District Officers the absolute necessity of complying with them in all points.

2. The case was as follows :—

A regiment was to march from A through B to C. The Officer Commanding, instead of applying for carriage in the form prescribed in Section 1, paragraph 97 (a), of the Inland Transport Regulations, republished in part in Financial Commissioner's Circular No. 18 of 1887, applied by ordinary letter ; and the Deputy Commissioner of A, instead of demanding an indent in the prescribed form with the usual undertaking at foot to the effect that on arrival at B the Officer Commanding would exchange his carriage for the fresh carriage to be supplied by the Deputy Commissioner of that place, made over the animals required ; and, without advising the Officer Commanding, as required by clause (f) of the paragraph 97 aforesaid, sent word to the Deputy Commissioner of B that on such a day such and such carriage would be required for the aforesaid regiment. Meantime, the Officer Commanding, finding that the owners of the animals did not wish to be relieved at B, agreed to take them on, and on arrival at B refused to take over the carriage the Deputy Commissioner of that place had collected ; the result being that the Deputy Commissioner had to pay Rs. 61 to the owners as demurrage.

3. Had the Deputy Commissioner of A either asked the Officer Commanding to sign the usual undertaking as to change of carriage, or informed the Officer Commanding of the notice being sent to B for relief, the loss would have been averted.

By order, &c.,

D. C. JOHNSTONE,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Notice.

In the Court of the District Judge of Simla.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SIMLA BANK CORPORATION, LIMITED.

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of the notice issued by the Liquidators on the 25th November 1887, in accordance with the order of this Court of the 21st idem, a meeting of the Creditors and Contributories of the Bank was held (under the chairmanship of the Rev. W. Rebsch) at the Office of the Liquidators at Simla on the 15th March 1888.

The Meeting was summoned for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the said Creditors and Contributories as to the following matters, viz :—

I.—The final appointment of Liquidators, and

II.—The remuneration to be paid to the Liquidators, and

III.—The form and amount of Security to be taken from them (vide notice of 25th November 1887).

A memorandum of the proceedings of the said meeting, which was reported to have been attended, either personally or by proxy, by 128 Creditors and Contributories, holding 1,341 Shares, and debts against the Bank amounting to Rs. 4,56,277, was laid before the Court on the following day, the 16th March. The question submitted to the meeting was "whether Resolutions Nos. II, III and IV of the Extraordinary General Meeting of the 16th May 1887 should be adopted by the Court." These related to the confirmation of the appointment of Liquidators, their remuneration and the Security to be deposited by them; to the confirmation of the action of Messrs. Elston and Chisholm between 2nd March and 16th May, and other matters.

The Memorandum of proceedings filed showed that some 99 shareholders voted for and 76 against the Resolutions: while of the creditors those representing Rs. 4,00,325 voted for and those representing Rs. 55,952 against them. All the proxy forms against the Resolution, except 10, were unstamped. Several proxies voting against the Resolution not counted as received too late.

In accordance with the opinion of the majority of the votes, and after consideration of certain objections made by Amrao Singh on behalf of himself and others, the Court directed :—

I.—That Messrs. A. Chisholm and J. Elston, of Simla, be confirmed as Liquidators with the powers described under Section 144 of the Indian Companies Act, 1882, to be exercised by them under supervision of the Court ;

II.—That their remuneration be 4 per cent. on all amounts realized : this sum to cover all expenses of collection and establishment, save and except Law expenses : this order is open to reconsideration ;

III.—That all collections be lodged in the Alliance Bank of Simla until further orders ;

IV.—That the actions of Messrs. Chisholm and Elston during the interval between 2nd March and 16th May 1887 be confirmed ;

V.—That all the directions of the Court contained in the order of November 21st, 1887, except such as are necessarily affected by this order, remain in force and be duly observed ;

VI.—The Court found that the Security deposited, viz. Rs. 15,000, now lodged in the Alliance Bank, Simla, was, in consideration of the directions contained in paragraph 3 (C) of the Court's order of 21st November 1887, sufficient.

The Court further announced that it was still ready to favourably consider any application duly made on behalf of any considerable number of the dissentient Contributories and Creditors to appoint a third Liquidator, provided a suitable person were nominated.

Copies of the order in full can be obtained by application to the Court or to the Liquidators, a printed list of contributories is available and copies will be supplied to persons interested on application to the Liquidators. Information as to the interest of creditors in the assets of the Corporation will be afforded to persons interested on order of the Court.

District Judge.

INSTRUCTIONS.

N.B.—This return is exclusive of Native States dealt with in the Foreign Department. If the area returned for column 2 by the Surveyor-General includes any such States, they should be excluded before the initial figures for column 2 are accepted. If the figures include any area or areas of Feudatory or Tributary States not under the direct administration of the Foreign Department, such area or areas should be shown separately as a deduction in column 3. Feudatory or Tributary States of this class not included in the Survey area of any District will be shown at the foot of the form when compiled for the Province, so that the total area of the Province, as shown in the statement, may agree with the area of the Province shown by the Survey Department.

Columns 2—6 (a).—The entries to be made here will not be by Tahsíls, but single entries for the whole District.

Column 4.—Any entry in this column should be explained by remarks at foot.

Column 6 (a).—The entry here will be column 2 minus column 5.

Column 6 (b).—The total will usually differ slightly from the previous entry in column 6 (a). It is requested that any material differences may be explained. See remarks at foot.

Column 8.—Current fallows.—Will be the difference between the area actually cropped (column 7) and the total cultivated (column 9). The entry in column 7 will agree with the last column of Form VI C.

Columns 7 and 9.—Fruit-bearing groves and gardens should be included in the cultivated area.

Column 10.—All lands bearing trees which fall neither in column 9 nor in column 13 should be included in column 10.

Column 11.—Not available for cultivation.—The entry in this should be confined to land absolutely barren (ghair mumkin) and also to land covered by buildings, water or roads or otherwise devoted to uses alien to agriculture.

Column 13.—Forests means lands administered as reserved or protected forests under the Indian Forest Act, 1878, or under the Hazára Forest Regulation; also any other lands specially devoted to forest growth under the control of Government or any Local Board or Municipality. But lands administered under Section 48 of the Punjab Laws Act will not be included in this column, unless specially devoted to forest growth.

Cantonment lands, Civil and Military, will be included in the return if possible. If returns are not forthcoming, enter in column 4.

The entry in column 1—6 (b) inclusive will be in square miles and decimals; the other entries will be in acres.

Remarks on column 6 (a) and 6 (b). However accurate the village or Patwári Survey of the Province may be, it is impossible that its aggregate result in any District shall agree with the Surveyor-General's returns. The Surveyor-General calculates the area of the District in block; the Patwári Survey is by fields and villages; at the best a difference of one per cent. between them is unavoidable. And in the Punjab there is another source of divergence which operates in many cases, viz., the action of rivers. The Patwári Survey does not always include the beds of the rivers, and where it does not, as also in cases where the District boundary varies with the deep stream of a river, the agreement of the District returns with those of the Survey of India is impossible. It is better to recognize these unavoidable discrepancies than to conceal the difference by adjustment in column 11.

Explanation.

(1). The irrigated and unirrigated area of each crop will be shown in separate lines.

(2). Returns A and B will be amplified in each District according to the crop lists, and all copies of returns A and B furnished to higher authorities will show the complete entries; their reduction, as may be suitable before publication, being left to the Financial Commissioner's discretion. There will thus be an invariable agreement between the Patwári's crop abstracts and returns A and B. With return C the Patwáris and Tahsíl Kánúngos have nothing to do; it will be compiled in the Deputy Commissioner's office from returns A and B, and the columns given in return C will be strictly adhered to without reduction or amplification of any kind.

Mixed Crops will be treated as directed in Chapter IV of the Patwári Rules (see note 9 under Harvest Inspection Book); that is to say, for mixed crops of importance a separate heading will have been provided in the Deputy Commissioner's list of crops, and the area of mixed crops for which no such separate heading has been provided will be distributed by the Patwári under appropriate headings of single crops at the time of his crop inspection. At the foot of return C Deputy Commissioner will add a remark stating the proportion by which the mixed crops shown under separate headings in returns A and B have been distributed in compiling return C:—

(e.g., mixed wheat and gram in return B has been distributed ½ to wheat and ½ to gram, or as the case may be).

(3). Column 37 of Form C will be filled in from column 10 of the Area Register (Patwári Rules, para, 113 (iii)).

Note.—1. The column "Demand" of this return should contain the entire fixed revenue, including málikána, commutation for service, nazarána, &c., for both years, and should correspond with the amount entered in column 6 of the regular kistbandi heretofore submitted for the year under review and that preceding it. The collections will be those of the demand shown in the preceding column only.

2. No difference whatever can be allowed between column 4 of this return and 6 of the general kistbandi. If the latter account was erroneous, and contained items not appertaining thereto, the full demand must still appear in this return and the erroneous items shown as in balance; or if any sums were omitted from the kistbandi, they must be omitted from this return also and shown as surplus collections in Statement No. XX, the fact being explained in that return.

3. The income of estates not on the kistbandi from their having lapsed within the year, or owing to the orders of Government not having been received on them, will be excluded.

4. Again, the revenue derived from estates under the Court of Wards, or any other trust estates, must not be entered either in the "Demand" or "Collections."

5. The balance must tally with those entered in the Annual Balance Statement, and the classification must also correspond with these returns.

NOTE—In column 24 is to be entered the amount shown in the kistbandi of the current year, or that under review; in column 3 that of the year previous. This course differs from that followed in the returns of 1860-61 for the reason given in para. 588 of Administration Report for that year, from which it will be understood that the changes which have actually affected the revenue of the current year will alone be brought under review, and accordingly the amounts accruing from lapses, revisions, &c., and decreases resulting from grants, revisions, diluvion, &c., as shown in several detail columns, must be those of the year preceding the current one from the balancing of which the kistbandi of the current year has resulted.
Where the amounts entered under the headings above referred to differ from the sums reported in the separate returns appertaining thereto of the previous year, the cause of this must be explained here.

E.—Explanation of differences between the results shown in Part A and those shown in Parts B, C and D.

[There should usually be no differences except the one below mentioned. But if any others are discovered the cause should be explained. The interest items will always cause some disagreement between the last entry in Part A and the last entry in Part D ; e. g., if in the year ending 30th September 1888 the sum collected as interest is Rs. 1,200, under paragraph 6 of the circular this will not be transferred to Revenue until after the end of the year. Consequently on the 30th September 1888 the total outstandings shown in Part D will exceed the last entry in Part A by Rs. 1,200.]

CIRCULAR No. 19 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 2393.)

Dated Lahore, 20th April 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Instructions for guidance in the matter of the compulsory retirement of officials after attaining the age of 55 years.

THE annexed extract from a letter (No. 606, dated 24th March 1888) of the Punjab Government regarding the compulsory retirement, before receipt of the orders of the Local Government on their cases, of officials who have attained the age of 55 years is circulated for information and guidance. These orders do not of course affect the voluntary retirement of officials under Section 110, Rule 9, of the Civil Pension Code.

By order, &c.,

[Translated.]

T. GORDON WALKER,

Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Extract paragraph 2 of a letter No. 606, dated 24th March 1888, from the Officiating Secretary to Government, Punjab, to the Officiating Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

2. With reference to the second paragraph of your letter, I am to say that, under the provisions of the Civil Pension Code, the compulsory retirement of an officer from the service requires the sanction of the Local Government. When, therefore, an officer attains the age of 55 years before his name has appeared in the Accountant-General's annual list of those who have attained that age, that is to say, between 31st March of one year and the same date of the year following, and it is proposed to compulsorily retire him at once, the proposal should be forthwith submitted for the Lieutenant-Governor's orders instead of waiting till, on the receipt of the next list from the Accountant-General, the Local Government itself moves for a report on the case. His Honor, however, thinks that, unless in any case it is specially desirable to retire an officer from the service immediately upon his attaining the age of 55 years, the appearance of his name in the Accountant-General's list, and the usual enquiries by the Local Government consequent thereupon, should be awaited.

"I do hereby certify that I have satisfied myself that the charges in this bill have actually been incurred; that the stationery therein entered has been supplied to Patwárís under Sections 85 to 87 of the Patwári and Kánúngo Rules, no charges for additional supplies under Rule 89 being included in the bill."

Muafi cases.

Differences between the proposition statement and extract from muafi register should be explained briefly.

WITH reference to Financial Commissioner's Circular No. 51 of 1885, directing that English abstract translations should accompany vernacular papers submitted to this office, the Financial Commissioner requests that, though such abstracts are not always required in simple muafi and jagir cases, the Deputy Commissioner should, when making a reference in such cases for orders, explain any matter the explanation of which is not apparent on the face of the proposition statement and the extract from the muafi register. For example, when the value of the grant as stated in the proposition statement differs from the value as stated in the extract from the register, or when the names of villages differ, the Deputy Commissioner should invariably notice the difference, and give a brief explanation of it.

2. Powers of Commissioners and Financial Commissioner in respect of additional grants of land to lessees.

THE annexed extract from a letter of the Punjab Government containing a decision as to the powers of Commissioners and of the Financial Commissioner in respect of additional grants of land to lessees is circulated for information and guidance. It will also be observed that the practice of putting lessees in possession before the deed of lease has been formally executed is forbidden.

By order, &c.,

T. GORDON WALKER,

Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Extract from a letter No. 207, dated 11th April 1888, from the Junior Secretary to Government, Punjab, to the Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

3. Colonel Wace has correctly opined that the sanction of Government to the lease of the additional 2,0 acres is required under the waste lands lease rules, and I am to say that in general where a second grant rais the area of a lease beyond that which a Commissioner or the Financial Commissioner is competent to sanction a single grant, i.e., to more than 300 or 3,000 acres, the second lease should be submitted to the Financial Comm sioner or Government, as the case may be, for approval. Under the circumstances of the present case, the Lieu nant-Governor is pleased to sanction the lease of the additional area. I am, however, to point out the inconvenien which results from putting lessees into possession of land before the deed of lease has been formally executed, a to say that the Lieutenant-Governor desires that this procedure may be avoided in future.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 20 OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

(No. 2855.)

Dated Lahore, 9th May 1888.

To

ALL REVENUE OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Instructions for converting local measures into acres.

THE land measure used in all revenue work is the local measure and not the English acre. These local measures are of two kinds, the bígah measure, and the kanál or ghumao measure.

2. Prior to British rule, and indeed up to recent years, the size of the local measure varied from village to village. The adoption of the local measure for use by all revenue officials has given to it an exactness which it did not before possess. But both the bígah and the ghumao still vary in size in different districts.

3. The following extracts from the Patwárís' Mensuration Manual give the primary data of existing local measures.

Units of length.

Paragraph 8 of Mensuration Manual.

In the Punjab Revenue Department the following units of length are used. They are all called kadams. The chain always consists of ten kadams, but in a hilly country it is sometimes more convenient to use a half chain.

District.	Length of Kadam.	Length of Chain.	REMARKS.
BIGAH MEASURES.	Inch.	Feet.
1, Delhi, Rohtak, Gurgaon, Hissar, Ludhiána, Umballa and Karnál ...	*57	47′—7½″	* The exact length is 57·157.
2, Simla ...	54	45
3, Kulu and Plach in the Kángra District	56	46′—8″
GHUMAO MEASURES.
4, Shahpur Kandi in Gurdáspur ...	59·03	49′—2¼″
5, Jullundur, Hoshiárpur and Kángra (except Kulu and Plach) ...	57·5	47′—11″
6, Amritsar, Gurdáspur (except Shakargarh Tahsíl and Shahpur Kandi), Ferozepore (except Fázilka) and Lahore (except Sharakpur) ...	60	50
7, Shakargarh and Sharakpur Tahsíls and all districts not named above ...	66	55	The ghumao in this instance is equal to the English acre, and twelve kadams are equal to a Gunter's chain.

Unit of area.

The unit of length for patwárís' land measurements being a kadam, the unit of area is a square kadam. In the case of the local bígah measure, the square kadam is called a biswánsi, and in the case of the ghumao measure a sarsáhi.

(Paragraphs 37 and 38 of Mensuration Manual).

The following is the table of area measure :—

Bígah measure.

20 Biswánsís	=	1 Biswa.
20 Biswa	=	1 Bígah.

Ghumao measure.

* 9 Sarsáhis	=	1 Marla.
20 Marlas	=	1 Kanál.
8 Kanáls	=	1 Ghumao.

4. It follows that in the several districts of the Punjab the bígahs and ghumaos used in the revenue records represent the areas of English measure shown in the following table.

District.	ENGLISH EQUIVALENT OF LOCAL MEASURE EXPRESSED IN
	Square yards.	Decimals of an acre (4,840 square yards).
BIGAH MEASURE
1. Of the Delhi Division and Ludhiána ...	1,008·33	·208
2. Of the Simla District ...	900	·186
3. Of Kulu and Plach ...	968	·2
GHUMAO MEASURE.
4. Shahpur Kandi ...	3,872	·8
5. † Jullundur, Hoshiárpur and Kángra ...	3,674	·759
6. † Amritsar, Gurdáspur, Ferozepore and Lahore ...	4,000	·826
7. † The rest of the Punjab ...	4,840	one acre

5. Until recently the Shahjahání bígah of 3,025 square yards, commonly known as the pakka bígah, with a linear unit of 99 inches, was used in the revenue records of most districts south of the Sutlej and Beas. It is still in use in the Fázilka Tahsíl. This bígah was exactly three times the size of the zamíndárs' or kacha bígah, now used in the records of the Delhi Division, and was ⅝ths of the acre. The shortest method of converting this measure into the acre is to add a cipher and divide by 16.

6. In all village records, whether prepared by the land revenue agency, or by the Irrigation, Forest, or other Departments, areas are to be stated in the local measure; and all rates are to be expressed in village records with reference to that measure, and not with reference to the English acre. If rates have been sanctioned in the terms of the English measure, they should always be converted into terms of the local measure before being carried into village records or other vernacular proceedings.

* NOTE.—Thus the area of a square of 3 kadams each way will be one marla. As 3 kadams are called a kán, so a square kán is a marla. In some districts 2 kanáls and in others 4 kanáls are called a bígah.

† [With the local exceptions stated above in paragraph 3].

7. In revenue suits and proceedings, and in correspondence, reports and statements not intended for submission to any higher authority than the Financial Commissioner, it is unnecessary to convert the local measure into English measure. Areas should be stated in the local measure used in the village records.

[N. B.—In dealing with the bígah measure, it is usual to neglect anything smaller than the biswa; thus 5 bígahs, 13 biswas, can conveniently be written 5 $\frac{13}{20}$ bígahs. Similarly, in dealing with the ghumao measure, it is often convenient to express areas not in ghumaos, but in kanáls; thus, instead of writing 3 ghumaos, 6 kanáls, 17 marlas, it is usual to write 30$\frac{17}{20}$ kanáls, or where land is of little value, the marlas may be neglected and, reckoning to the nearest kanál, the example above given might be stated as 3$\frac{7}{8}$ ghumaos.]

8. In reports and statements intended for submission to Government, it is necessary to express areas in the English acre measure. The work of converting areas from local to English measures should never be referred back to patwárís nor to tahsíl offices, but should always be done in the headquarters office of the district. Fractions of acres should be expressed in decimals, not in roods and poles; and the fractions should not be calculated to more than two places of decimals, except for some very special necessity. Tables showing the equivalents of local measures in English measure, with rules for converting either measure to the other are appended.

By order, &c.,

T. GORDON WALKER,

(Translated.) Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

1. BIGAH OF THE DELHI DIVISION, LUDHIANA AND TAHSIL FAZILKA (DISTRICT FEROZEPORE).

Local Measure.		Acre Measure.
LINEAR MEASURE.		LINEAR MEASURE.
1 Kadam	...	= 57·157 inches.
20 Kadams	...	= 1·44 Gunter's chain.
13·8 Kadams	...	= 1 Gunter's chain.
SQUARE MEASURE.		SQUARE MEASURE.

Biswa	...	= 50·4 square yards or ·010 acres.
4·8 Bígahs	...	= 1 acre.
3,072 Bígahs	...	= 640 acres.

Rule for converting bígahs into acres.—A bígah = $\frac{5}{24}$ of an acre. Therefore mutiply by 5 and divide by 24; or add a cipher and divide by 48. A rougher rule is to divide the number of bígahs by 5, and to the product add 4 per cent., or 1 in every 25. Each Biswa can be reckoned as the hundredth part of an acre. Neglect smaller fractions.

Rule for converting acres into bígahs.—Multiply by 24 and divide the product by 5. A rougher rule is to multiply by 5 and from the product deduct 4 per cent., or 1 in 25. Each 0·01 can be reckoned as one biswa.

Reckon each biswa, as in the Delhi measure, as equal to ·01 acre.

PUNJAB PUBLIC LIBRARY.

THE annual public meeting of the Committee and Life Members of the Punjab Public Library was held on Saturday, 12th May 1888, at 8 A. M. The Hon'ble J. B. Lyall, Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, presided.

There was a large attendance of Life Members, Members of Committee and Visitors.

His Honor arrived at 8 A. M., and was met at the entrance of the Darbár tent by the Library Committee, and was conducted to his seat on the dais beneath the shamiána.

Mr. F. Maitland, Officiating Secretary to the Library, read the following Report of the Punjab Public Library :—

"The last Report on the condition of the Punjab Public Library was made on the 28th March 1887. It is now necessary to report on the progress of the Institution during the year 1887-88.

"It will be seen from the particulars given below that the popularity of the Library has continued to increase, and the Committee has endeavoured to promote the usefulness of the Institution by not only adding to the general stock of books, but by the preparation of carefully classified catalogues, the addition of new almirahs and other fittings, whereby access to the resources of the Library is rendered more easy.

"Thus it is gratifying to be able to record that while in the last Report it was stated that the number of volumes in the Library amounted to about 34,000, of which 20,000 were English and 14,000 Oriental, the year under report has to chronicle the following large and valuable additions to both classes of works :—

(1) by purchase, 300 volumes at a cost of Rs. 1,331;

(2) by gift, 3,700 volumes;

of which 700 are English and 3,300 Oriental. These do not include a valuable collection of vernacular books lent by Pandit Jwala Datt Parshad on conditions which have been approved by the Committee. On the other hand, the Committee considered that a number of surplus books in the Library, which were not needed, might be utilised by being presented to the Punjab Vernacular Library recently established by Maulvi Muhammad Hussain Azad, near the Delhi Gate of the Lahore City. Such efforts on the part of private native gentlemen to throw open to their fellow-countrymen their own collections of books, many of them extremely valuable, and thus to aid in the intellectual advancement of the people, appeared to the Committee to be deserving of all encouragement and to be more particularly entitled to the sympathetic and cordial support of an Institution like the Punjab Public Library.

"An alphabetical catalogue of the English section of the Library is now available which does not however include the books recently added to the Library, of which a separate list has been printed for the information of subscribers. A classified list of a portion of the English section has also been printed; and endeavours will be made to complete this work in the year we have entered upon. In addition to the above a Persian alphabetical catalogue and a Sanscrit catalogue have been printed, which it is hoped will place those sections of the Library, containing as they do many valuable works, more readily within the reach of students and others who desire to consult them.

"New almirahs have been placed in one of the newly-repaired upper rooms at a cost of Rs. 941 for the storage of Oriental books. Similar almirahs will be erected in two other upper rooms. This work, although very necessary, is one which involves considerable outlay, and thus causes a serious drain on the limited funds of the Library. But the Committee is fully alive to the necessity of reducing expenditure compatible with the requirements of the Library, and efforts will be made in the future to obtain almirahs of a less expensive construction.

"The following statement compares the number of readers who frequented the Library from January 1886 to the end of March 1887, a period of 15 months, with the number during the year 1887-88 :—

Period.	Number of readers.	Average daily attendance.
January 1886 to March 1887	22,584	51
From 1st April 1887 to 31st March 1888	31,532	94

"It will be seen that the number of readers has risen from 22,584 to 31,532, and the average daily attendance from 51 to 94. No more gratifying evidence of the increasing popularity and usefulness of the Institution could be desired, and it encourages the Committee to hope that this evidence will satisfy the Government and the public that their liberal support is well deserved.

"The number of annual subscribers has increased from 26 to 47. Two life subscribers joined during the year. The number of life members is 47 as compared with 44 formerly. The new life members are The Hon'ble J. B. Lyall, Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies; Mr. W. H. Rattigan, Judge of the Chief Court; and Mr. J. H. Brooke.*

"On the other hand, the Institution has suffered a loss by the death of Rái Bahadur Kanhya Lál, M.I.C.E., who had been from the beginning a useful and generous member of the Committee.

"The funds of the Library are derived from the following sources:—

	Rs.
Government fixed grant	300 per mensem.
Grant from the Lahore Municipality	50 " "
Do. Lahore District Board	50 " annum.
Do. Ludhiána District Board	50 " "
Do. Ráwalpindi District Board ...	100 " "
Do. Bannu District Board	20 " "
Do. Hoshiárpur Municipality	25 " "

"Donations were also received during the year from the following Local Bodies:—

	Rs.
Rohtak District Board	100
Gurgaon ditto	100
Rewári Municipality	200
Bannu District Board	50
Edwardes-abad Municipality	20
Gujrát District Board	50

"Appended to this Report is an account of the income and expenditure of the Institution for the year under notice.

* Since this Report was written Sir Meredyth Plowden and Mr. Mackworth Young have become life members.

† A special donation of Rs. 100 has since been received from Mr. Baden-Powell. M. Gyan Chand, Proprietor and Editor of the Victoria paper, Siálkot, in addition to previous assistance, has promised an annual donation of Rs. 40. Such public-spiritedness on the part of the Munshi is to be much commended.

"Looking at the above statement, which is intended to describe briefly the progress of the Library during the year 1887-88, the Committee entertains the hope that the present condition of the Institution may be considered satisfactory and to indicate substantial progress. The stock of books in the Departments of English and Oriental literature has largely increased, and is now considerable. Catalogues have been printed, and the building has been furnished as far as means have permitted. But although much has been done to consolidate the Library into a permanent Institution, a great deal still remains to be done before the Library can hope to fulfil those high purposes for which it was intended by its enlightened Founder. More books are needed, and the Committee hopes to be in a position to order a large supply in the current year. But the funds at its command are extremely limited, and unless the income obtains a substantial increase, much that the Committee hopes to accomplish in the current year will have to be left undone. It is true that the existing balance at the Bank is satisfactory, and looks large, amounting as it does to Rs 3,394-6-7. But it must be remembered that a great portion of this sum will be, swallowed up in providing almirahs for the upper side rooms. The Committee, therefore indulges in the hope that Government will assist the Library with a grant for the purchase of some additional books of reference. These are generally costly, and cannot be purchased out of the ordinary income of the Library and yet the Library loses much of its usefulness by the absence of such standard books. The Committee would also venture to ask the Government to procure for the Library a set of maps from the Surveyor-General's Department. To a public institution like ours such a grant would seem to be particularly appropriate, and the Committee would ask His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to use his influence in this behalf.

"If these grants are made, the Committee is assured that the condition of the Library will then be such as to attract many additional subscribers and the Institution will gain a stability which will entitle it to be ranked as one of the foremost Institutions in the Province, intimately associated with the spread of general knowledge and learning amongst the people of the Punjab, a province which includes within its present territorial limits the earliest home of the Indian Aryans, and the ancient seat of Muhammadan culture and empire.

"In concluding its report the Committee would mention that the Hon'ble Colonel E. G. Wace, Financial Commissioner, who had been President of the Committee since the foundation of the Library, resigned this office in March last on leaving Lahore. The Committee is much indebted to Colonel Wace for his valuable services to the Library as first President of the Institution, in which he took a great interest. Mr. W H. Rattigan, Judge of the Chief Court, has been appointed by Government President of the Committee in succession to Colonel Wace."

His Honor then addressed the meeting as follows :—

"MR. RATTIGAN AND GENTLEMEN,—I am glad to be able to sincerely congratulate the Committee upon the progress shown by the report we have just heard read.

"In number of books and in number of readers there has been a great improvement, and it is a good omen that so many of the new books have been presented : it is to be hoped that such gifts by private donors will form a constant source of supply in the future. I hope that owners of libraries will be liberal to us in this way. Lovers of books are no doubt apt to be stingy in parting with their best books, which are those we want for a Library like this ; it is a wrench like parting with an old friend or a trusty servant. But presenting a book to a Public Library is not like making away with it otherwise : you get your old friend a safe and permanent home : your name remains honourably connected with it as donor, and you have the pleasure of thinking that many poor students of this and future generations, who might not otherwise have the opportunity, will read your book and discover the same beauties in it as yourself. And in presenting books to a Library like this, every donor will have a chance of forwarding his own ideas as to the future education of the Province. For school reading is a mere preparation : what men read afterwards of their own free will is the real education. Those who are anxious that the Oriental classics should not be neglected can give Oriental books, and those who are all for European education, the works of Western authors. All kinds of books will be welcomed, so long as they are good of their kind. Novels, for instance, are not only amusing, but are often the best of sermons ; and some people will take a sermon in that shape who cannot swallow it in any other : the pictures of character sketched in a good novel make us study our own characters : they help us to see our own sins and follies in their real colours, and also to correct those asperities of temper and faults of manner which often cause as much unhappiness as bigger faults. Books of travels in foreign countries ought to be very useful in India in the present day, when old ideas are changing ; for a man who knows the manners and customs of other countries is able to judge what is reasonable and what is absurd in those of his own. And it is very important that the rising generation should read history, and especially the histories of old times in India. It will teach them at least not to take too black a view of the present state of affairs, and not to expect too much from any Government.

"To turn again to the Report, I see that the Committee ask Government to give a grant of money for the purchase of some additional books of reference, and to procure a set of maps from the Surveyor-General's Office. I will endeavour to meet both these requests ; but I am afraid that the grant of money will be small, and I cannot promise to repeat it in future years. I hope that the liberality of local bodies, and of rich and enlightened gentlemen of the Province, will in future provide funds for the purchase of books. The fixed Government grant more than provides for all cost of establishment and contingencies.

"I beg to say that I concur entirely in the remarks made in the Report with regard to the establishment of a Vernacular Reading Room and Library in the city by Maulvi Muhammad Hussain Azád ; and am very glad that the Committee has been able to help him in his laudable enterprise. I concur also in the expression of regret at the decease of our friend Rái Kanhya Lál, M.I.C.E.

"In conclusion, I wish to take this opportunity of publicly thanking Mr. Rattigan for accepting my nomination of him as President of the Committee in spite of his other arduous duties as Judge of the Chief Court and as Vice-Chancellor of the University. The Committee lost an excellent President when Colonel Wace went Home, and they are very lucky to get in his place a President so liberal, learned and public-spirited as Mr. Rattigan."

His Honor then inspected the Library, after which the proceedings terminated.

PUNJAB AND ITS DEPENDENCIES.

Published by Authority.

LAHORE, THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1888.

PART III.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

CIRCULAR No. 21 OF 1888.

(No. 3248.)

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,

Dated Lahore, 4th June 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Delay in reporting on suits to which Government is a party.

EXPERIENCE has shown that many Deputy Commissioners do not realize the necessity for treating as urgent all business connected with Government litigation. The rules republished with Financial Commissioner's Circular No. 62 of 1885 are very clear on this point, and yet the risk of injury to Government interests from dilatoriness in such matters is very commonly ignored.

2. For instance, though it is clearly the duty of a Deputy Commissioner, when he receives notice of suit under Section 424 of the Civil Procedure Code in a case connected with district administration and under his control, to proceed at once to make enquiries and to satisfy himself of the justice or injustice of the claim, it is not uncommon to find Deputy Commissioners allowing the whole period between service of notice and service of summons to pass without taking any steps whatever. And it has not infrequently happened that cases have been reported to the Financial Commissioner for orders for the first time within a very few days of the date fixed by the Court for the hearing of the case.

3. Thus, in a certain district a suit was instituted against Government early in October 1887, but the Deputy Commissioner made his first report to this office in a letter dated the 25th March 1888. As the date fixed for hearing was 10th April, and as the matters in issue were such that it was necessary to consult the Government Advocate, an adjournment of three months had to be applied for as a matter of grace.

4. Again, in another district a suit against Government was filed in November 1887. The summons was issued by the Court on 19th November and was served on the Deputy Commissioner a few days later. The usual two months' notice of action had been served, and yet it was found on enquiry that no steps of any sort with a view of adjusting the claim or otherwise were taken until 26th November, when an Extra Assistant Commissioner was ordered by the Deputy Commissioner to make an enquiry and report. The date of hearing was 30th January 1888. The Extra Assistant Commissioner made his report to the Deputy Commissioner on January 6th, and the case reached this office on 24th January, leaving only six days for the Financial Commissioner to make himself acquainted with the facts and to consult the Government Advocate as to the proper line of defence.

5. Many other similar instances might be given. Local Officers are warned that they will be held responsible in future that cases are reported in good time so that the Financial Commissioner may be able to consider the facts, and to consult the Government Advocate, if necessary, before issuing orders for defence or otherwise.

By order, &c.,

(Translated.) D. C. JOHNSTONE,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

1. The monthly accounts for March, April and May 1888 were examined and passed.

2. The Budget-Estimate for 1887-88 was laid before the Meeting, but it was ordered that its consideration should be postponed until the amount of the special grant by Government for the purchase of new books had been ascertained.

3. The nomination of Mr. E. S. Robertson by the Punjab University as a member of the Punjab Public Library Committee was recorded.

4. Letter No. 996, dated 21st May 1888, from the Director of Public Instruction, pointing out that the grant of Rs. 300 per mensem for the Library had been sanctioned with effect from 1st April 1886, subject to reconsideration on the expiry of two years, was laid on the table. The action taken thereon in asking Government to renew the grant was approved.

Owing to the difficulty in getting together the necessary number of members to form a quorum, there have been frequent adjournments which has led to delay in the despatch of business. AMENDED AND ADDITIONAL RULES OF BUSINESS OF THE SIMLA MUNICIPALITY.

Orders of business.

XV.—The business shall be conducted in the following order :—

(i) Minutes of the last ordinary meeting, and of any special meeting, to be read, and if approved of, shall be confirmed and be signed by the Chairman, even though he may not have been the Chairman of the meeting to which they relate. An entry of the minutes having been so read and signed, to appear in the new minutes.

(ii) Business arising out of the minutes of such meeting or meetings.

(iii) Letters to be read.

(iv) Motions of which due notice has been given, to be discussed.

Preference to Speaker.

XVI.—If two or more speakers shall desire to speak at the same time, the President or Chairman shall decide which of them is to have priority. If his decision is not approved of, it shall be competent to any one to move that another of the speakers who may have risen shall be heard in preference, but no debate shall be allowed on such a motion.

Speakers not to be interrupted.

XVII.—No person shall interrupt a speaker who is in possession of the meeting, save for the purpose of raising a point of order, nor may the same point of order be raised twice by the same person.

Points of Order.

XVIII.—Every appeal on a point of order is to be made to the Chairman, and not to the meeting. On a point of order being raised, the speaker in possession of the meeting shall temporarily cease speaking whilst the Chairman decides the point of order.

Motions to be in writing.

XIX.—Every motion and amendment made at a meeting shall be committed to writing, and be handed to the Chairman, with the name of the mover appended thereto, if so required by the Chairman.

Motions to be seconded.

XX.—Every motion duly moved must be seconded, and until seconded, no debate thereon shall take place.

Restrictions on Speakers.

XXI.—No person shall speak except to a motion which has been duly moved and seconded, unless he speaks in order to move or second some motion or amendment.

Speakers to confine themselves to the question.

XXII.—Every speaker must confine himself to the question actually before the meeting at the time he speaks, unless he wish to make a motion on a point of order.

Speakers to speak only once.

XXIII.—The Chairman shall have power to prevent any person, except the mover, from speaking more than once on any motion or amendment, unless in explanation. The mover shall in all cases be entitled to speak once in making his motion, and once by way of reply; but in his reply he must confine himself to matters raised in his opening speech, or during the debate, and must not introduce any new matter.

Explanations.

XXIV.—A speaker who conceives that he has been misrepresented by any subsequent speaker shall be entitled to offer an explanation, but his explanation is to be strictly limited to some point in his original speech: he is not to enter upon any new subject. If he does so, it will become the duty of the Chairman to call him to order.

Speeches on amendments.

XXV.—A speaker who has exhausted his right to speak on an original motion may speak on any amendment being moved, for such raises a new question.

Amendments.

XXVI.—After a motion has been moved and seconded, an amendment may be moved at any stage of the debate thereon.

Amendments must be in order.

XXVII.—When there is before the meeting a series of Resolutions, or one which embodies several distinct ideas, the Chairman shall have power to refuse an amendment which is moved at a stage of the debate not appropriate for the same.

Amendments not Seconded.

XXVIII.—An amendment proposed but not seconded is not to be entertained, and any discussion thereof is to be deemed out of order.

Time for amendments.

XXIX.—No amendment may be proposed in any part of a motion after a subsequent part has been amended, or has been proposed to be amended, unless such first proposed amendment has been withdrawn.

Wording of amendments.

XXX.—Every amendme nt shall be so worded as to be capable of making an intelli gible sentence either alone or in its proper place in an original motion as the case may be.

Successful amendments to be put again.

XXXI.—When an amendment is carried which supersedes in whole or in part the original motion, the amendment or the am ended original motion shall again be put from the Chair as a substantive motion, and may again be the subject of amendments, subject to the restrictions mentioned in Rule XVII.

Amendments when too late.

XXXII.—When a motion, or an amendment which has become a substantive motion has been put from the Chair, and been declared by the Chairman to be carried, no further proposals for amending the motion or the amendment shall be entertained.

Motions to follow in due order.

XXXIII.—All motions shall be made in the order in which they appear on the Agenda paper.

Negatived motions.

XXXIV.—A motion which has been negatived shall not be brought forward again for discussion until after the expiration of 12 months; and if, by amendments being made in it, a motion becomes substantially identical with one which has been negatived, it must thereupon be dropped: Provided that such a motion may be brought forward within six months if supported in writing by not less than two-thirds of the whole Committee.

Contradictory motions not to be put.

XXXV.—When a motion has been duly carried, it shall be the duty of the Chairman to refuse to put at the same meeting any subsequent motion which substantially contradicts, over-rides or repeats, the former one.

Effect of defeated motions for adjournment.

XXXVI.—On a mo tion for the previous question having been put and negatived the original motion shall be put from the Chair without further debate of any kind.

Adjourned debates how resumed.

XXXVII.—On a motion for an adjournment being carried, it will devolve on the mover of the adjournm ent to resume at the next sitting the debate on the original motion.

Withdrawal of motions.

XXXVIII.—Before a motion or an amendment is withdrawn by its proposer, the leave of his seconder and of the meeting must be given, expressly or impliedly.

Notices of motions.

XXXIX.—No important motion shall be discussed at any meeting unless notice of the same in writing shall have been delivered to the Secretary at least three clear days before such meeting; provided always that if the Chairman refuses to receive at a meeting a motion not pre-announced, because in his judgment it is one which must be deemed "important" and therefore needs adequate notice, any person may appeal from the ruling of the Chairman as to this, and any such motion brought forward without notice shall be taken into consideration on a motion to that effect being duly carried.

Rescinding of Resolutions.

XL.—Subject to the provisions of Rule, no resolution duly carried shall be altered or rescinded unless seven days' notice that its alteration or rescinding is to be proposed shall be given to every member of the Committee.

Complicated motions may be divided.

XLI.—The Chairman shall be empowered to divide into two or more distinct motions any motion which in his opinion is so complicated in its form that confusion or inconvenience is likely to be caused by its being kept as one motion; but when a motion is divided in virtue of this rule, it shall not be requisite, unless on the demand of some person present, for the second and following portions of the original motion to be again separately moved and seconded.

Questions to Members and Officers.

XLII.—Any member shall be at liberty to put a question to any other member, or to any officer, relating strictly to his official action or duties, after having given written notice to the Chairman of his desire to do so.

Restrictions as to questions.

XLIII.—In putting any such question, no argument or opinion is to be offered, nor any facts stated, except so far as may be necessary to render such question intelligible.

Answers to questions.

XLIV.—In answering any such question the person to whom it is put is not to debate the matter to which the same refers.

General Committee.

XLV.—For the purpose of taking into consideration any subject which may require more full and free discussion than adhesion to the Rules would allow, the meeting may resolve itself into a Committee of the whole body. When this has been determined on, the Rule prohibiting any person from speaking more than once on the same question shall be deemed suspended pro hâc vice until the meeting resumes.

Voting to be by show of hands.

XLVI.—When a debate on a motion has terminated by the mover having had his reply, the Chairman shall put the question to the vote by calling for a show of hands; first, in favour of, and then, against the motion. If the votes are equal, he shall be at liberty to give a casting vote. If he is unwilling to do so, the motion shall be deemed to have been negatived. The result of such voting and number of votes pro and con shall be recorded and form part of the minutes.

Members not to use offensive language.

XLVII.—No member may use offensive or unbecoming words in reference to any member. Any member adjudged by the Chairman to be out of order for having used objectionable words, and not explaining or retracting the same, or offering apologies for the use thereof to the satisfaction of the meeting, shall be reprimanded by the Chairman.

Debates to be orderly.

XLVIII.—All debates shall be conducted in a grave and orderly manner, and no person shall presume to cause any unseemly interruptions, or to make any noise or disturbance. In case, on a call to order by the Chairman, such noise or disturbance shall not cease, he shall be at liberty to vacate the Chair, and declare the meeting dissolved.

Rules bind Committees.

XLIX.—These Rules shall apply, so far as may be, to all Committees.

Instructions to Committees.

L.—An Instruction to a Committee is a motion to extend or restrict the order of Reference under which the Committee is performing certain duties which have been confided to it.

Notifications by Chief Court, Financial Commissioner, Accountant-General, &c.

CHIEF COURT.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. VI—2527.

FROM

R. L. HARRIS, ESQUIRE,

Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

TO

ALL CIVIL JUDICIAL OFFICERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 14th June 1888.

THE attention of all Civil Courts is invited to the provisions of Section 101 of the Land Revenue Act, 1887, and to the following remarks and suggestions.

2. It has been ruled by this Court that the suits commonly known as "Hadd Shikni" cases come within the definition in clause (m) of Section 45 of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, and as such were cognizable by Revenue Courts only (see case No. 7, P.R., 1888).

3. Chapter V of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, has been repealed by the Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, with effect from November 1st, 1887; and, there being nothing in that Act or in the Punjab Land Revenue Act to give to Revenue Courts or to take away from Civil Courts jurisdiction over suits involving a dispute as to boundaries fixed by a Revenue Officer, the former jurisdiction of Civil Courts over Hadd Shikni suits is revived. Civil Courts are by Section 158, sub-section 2 (1), prohibited from exercising jurisdiction over any question as to the limits of any land which has been defined as land to which the Land Revenue Act does or does not apply, but this is a different matter from the ordinary Hadd Shikni suit.

4. In Hadd Shikni suits and other suits involving a dispute as to boundaries fixed by a Revenue Officer falling within the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts, it is, generally speaking, desirable and convenient that the true boundary should be ascertained by inquiry, held on the spot, and, if possible, through a Revenue Officer. This can be effected by means of Section 101 of the Act.

5. If either party in any such suit should desire time for the purpose of making an application to a Revenue Officer to exercise his powers under Clause (1) of that section to fix the limits of any holding, field or other portion of an estate of which the limits are disputed, it is competent to the Court, under Section 156, Civil Procedure Code, to grant time for the purpose, and from time to time adjourn the hearing of the suit. It is also competent to the Court to draw the attention of the parties to the provisions of Section 101 of the Land Revenue Act, and to suggest that one party or the other should make an application under that section. The result of such a suggestion will probably be that one party or the other will desire to make such application. Whenever time is granted the provisions of Section 158, Civil Procedure Code, will be applicable.

6. The order of the Revenue Officer made under Section 101 of the Land Revenue Act is not necessarily conclusive in a Civil Court; but when his proceedings have been duly held in presence of, or after notice to the parties in the civil suit, such order would be valuable as evidence, subject to all just exceptions and counter evidence, of the true portion of the boundary as to which the dispute has arisen.

7. This Circular is issued with the concurrence of the Financial Commissioners.

By order, &c.,

R. L. HARRIS,

RESOLUTION.

Calcutta, the 30th March 1888.

READ—

Letter from the Government of the Punjab, No. 17½, dated the 10th January 1888.

RESOLUTION.—In the letter read in the preamble the question is raised whether, in the case of incomes taxable under Part I of Schedule II of Act II of 1886, the disbursing officer should allow exemption under Section 5 (1) (g) of the Act only on account of premia paid during the official year in which the income is received, or whether such exemption may be admitted in respect of all sums paid as premia subsequently to 1st April 1886, and on account of which no exemption has been hitherto claimed or allowed. The Governor-General in Council has decided that no claim to exemption under the section quoted on account of such payments shall be entertained if it is preferred after the expiration of six months from the last day of the financial year during which the premium was paid. A ruling to this effect will be issued under Section 38 of the Act.

2. In this connection the procedure to be adopted in regard to claims to exemption under Section 5 (1) (g) of the Act of such portions of incomes taxable under Part IV of Schedule II of the aforesaid Act as are paid as premia to an Insurance Company (including subscriptions, &c., which are exempted from taxation, as if so paid) has been considered, and the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to rule that in such cases exemption shall be granted only in respect of premia paid during the year upon the income accruing in which the tax is assessed under Section 15 of the Act.

ORDERED, that copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Government of the Punjab, with reference to its letter No. 17½, dated the 10th January 1888, and to other Local Governments and Administrations, and to all Account Officers.

CIRCULAR MEMO. No. 27. OF 1888.

FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

(No. 3868.)

Dated Lahore, 28th June 1888.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Income Tax.

Establishment and contingencies, 1888-89.

IN continuation of this office Circular Memo. No. 10—1936, dated the 29th March 1888, and with the sanction of the Local Government, the Financial Commissioner authorises Deputy Commissioners to entertain establishments for the administration of the Income Tax during the year 1888-89, according to annexed scale. The allotment of the grant for contingencies for each district is also noted in the table.

2. With regard to the continuance of the permanent establishments in future years, Mr. Elsmie desires it to be understood that it will depend entirely upon the efficiency with which assessment operations are carried out in and the amount of the income tax revenue derived from each particular district. Generally speaking, a Muharrir on the full salary of Rs. 25 per mensem will only be allowed where the yield reaches Rs. 25,000.

3. The temporary establishments which have been sanctioned must be employed within the financial year. In hill districts these establishments will ordinarily be required during the summer months, and in the plains in the early months of the year when revision operations are in progress by the district staff.

4. The special requirements of districts having large cities to assess, and of districts in which there are hill stations containing considerable European settlements, have been duly considered in fixing the establishments, and no difficulty should now be felt in having the work efficiently carried out.

5. It is to be observed that while, as a general rule, a temporary Muharrir has been allowed for one month for each tahsíl and cantonment, it may happen that the work in a particular tahsíl can easily be performed by the ordinary tahsíl establishment; in such a case the Muharrir may be employed for a longer time in a cantonment or at another tahsíl where the amount of assistance required is greater, provided that the amount sanctioned for temporary establishments for the district is not exceeded, and that the re-adjustment is reported to this office for sanction.

6. In conclusion the Financial Commissioner desires to impress upon Deputy Commissioners the necessity for exercising strict economy, and he looks to them not to employ the full establishment now sanctioned if they find they can carry on the work with a smaller one.

By order, &c.,

D. C. JOHNSTONE,

Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

Proxies.

1. The Registrar laid on the table the proxy papers of absent members.

2. The first proposal by the Syndicate was then read :—

Appointment of Dr. Stein.

That Dr. Aurel Stein, who has been strongly recommended by several eminent scholars, be appointed on probation as Principal of the Oriental College on rupees five hundred per mensem, until the 15th October 1888, it being understood that, in the event of his giving complete satisfaction, he will from the latter date be appointed to the combined posts of Registrar of the University and Principal of the Oriental College for the statutory period of two years on rupees seven hundred per mensem, subject, with the approval of the Senate, to a further extension, on the terms mentioned in the Vice-Chancellor's letter to Sir W. Muir of the 31st October 1887.

The Vice-Chancellor explained that Dr. Stein had been working as Principal of the Oriental College since 1st February and had given every satisfaction. The reasons for the above proposal had been discussed over and over again and he had no hesitation in calling upon the members to support it.

The proposition was then put and carried unanimously.

3. The second proposal having been read—

That the Budget Estimates of the University for the year 1888, as passed by the Syndicate, be approved (See Appendix), Budget Estimates for 1888.

the Vice-Chancellor pointed out that the allotment to the Oriental College was shown as Rs. 24,000; this was the amount sanctioned by the Senate from 1st April 1885 to 31st March 1890. It had been reduced to Rs. 21,000 while the Principal was not drawing the full pay, but it was now necessary to revert to the full amount sanctioned previously.

The Registrar intimated that Mr. T. C. Lewis had written to request that his prize of Rs. 50 for Mathematics should be inserted in the Budget. The Registrar stated that he had omitted it under a misapprehension of Mr. Lewis's wishes with regard to the continuance of the prize.

In connection with a remark by Pandit Navina Chandra Rái in his proxy paper the question was raised whether the University should continue the grants at present given to certain Sanskrit Schools. The Sanskrit School, Amritsar, had applied for an increase of grant, and it turned out, on enquiry, that this school was supported entirely by the University, apparently no efforts being made by the community itself.

Mr. Baden-Powell suggested that no allowance should be made in future until the whole question had been reconsidered by the Syndicate. He would certainly be opposed to the Senate giving a grant sufficient of itself to support any of these schools. He would propose—

That the gross amount (Rs. 1,272) allotted in the Budget under Expenditure B., I (1) (b)—Grants-in-aid to Oriental and Vernacular Schools—be passed, but that the Syndicate be desired to reconsider the whole system of making grants-in-aid to schools, the schools which should receive aid, and the conditions under which the aid should be granted.

This was seconded by Colonel Gordon Young, and adopted by the meeting.

The Vice-Chancellor then made the following proposal:—

That, subject to the amendment just adopted, and the insertion of Mr. Lewis's prize, the Budget be passed in the form in which it had been sent up by the Syndicate.

This was carried unanimously. (See Appendix.)

4. The next proposal was—

That the report of the Sub-Committee appointed to consider a Scheme for the Re-organization of the Classes and Staff of the Oriental College be adopted. (See Appendix.)

Re-organization of Oriental College.

The Vice-Chancellor took up this report in detail, pointing out the most important changes proposed. It was proposed by the Sub-Committee that there should now be two departments in the Oriental School,—one of General Knowledge and the other of Oriental Titles; and that the former should prepare pupils for the Entrance Examination, while the latter should prepare for the Junior Oriental Titles Examinations.

It was also proposed that English should be made an optional subject of study in the Oriental Titles Department, and the reasons for this step are fully given in the report. Colonel Holroyd also spoke in favour of this proposal.

The proposals of the Sub-Committee also provided for a supply of more competent, though fewer, teachers.

The Vice-Chancellor also referred to the altered position of the Head Maulvi and Head Pandit of the Oriental College, and supported the proposal to give these officers an allowance of Rs. 20 per mensem on account of their increased responsibilities.

He referred also to the proposed three years' course of study in languages in the School Department, and to the assimilation of the courses for the Oriental Titles with those for the Intermediate (O. F.) B. O. L. and M. O. L. Examinations. The proposed transfer of the Vaidak and Tib classes to the Medical College was also of importance.

Dr. Center thought it was contrary to the statutes of the University to dispense with the General Knowledge requirements from the Titles candidates. It was, at any rate, contrary to the principles hitherto adopted in the management of the Oriental College, and he therefore proposed that the report of the Sub-Committee be referred back to the Syndicate for reconsideration of the question whether General Knowledge should not be compulsory. This was seconded by Dr. Brown.

The Vice-Chancellor pointed out that hitherto Oriental Literary Titles had been given without any such condition, though Diplomas had not. He thought it would be much more profitable if the students in preparing for the Oriental Titles took up English; so that, if they wished afterwards to study such subjects as History, Geography, &c., they might do so with greater chance of success.

Mr. Baden-Powell here stated that he was opposed to the granting of certificates for passing the Oriental Titles Examinations, and thought that only Diplomas should be granted after the candidates had satisfied the additional requirements.

Dr. Center's amendment was then put to the vote, and lost.

The Vice-Chancellor then put the original proposal, which was supported by all the members present, except three.

5. The next proposal was—

Oriental College Budget.

That the Budget Estimates of the Oriental College for the year 1888-89, as passed by the Syndicate, be approved. (See Appendix.)

After the discussion on the previous proposal, it was unnecessary to consider this Budget in detail, as the changes in the estimates were due to the changes proposed by the Sub-Committee in their report on the re-organization of the Oriental College and now adopted by the Senate.

The Oriental College Budget was therefore passed without further discussion.

Revised Rules of Law School.

6. The next proposal was—

That the Revised Rules of the Law School, as adopted by the Syndicate, be approved. (See Appendix.)

The Vice-Chancellor explained that these rules had been revised by the Law Faculty in January; they had received the informal assent of the Chief Court; and they had been adopted by the Syndicate. The proposal before the meeting was then carried unanimously.

Examiners for 1888.

7. The list of Examiners for 1888 in the subjects of the Arts and Oriental Faculties, as adopted by the Syndicate (subsequent changes having been in all cases sanctioned by the Vice-Chancellor) was then approved. (See Appendix.)

Middle School Examiners.

8. The list of Examiners and Superintendents for the Middle School Examination of 1888 as approved by the Syndicate was then passed. (See Appendix.)

Auditor's Reports for 1887.

9. The Auditor's reports for the year ending 30th September 1887, as given in the Appendix, were next considered.

A Sub-committee had been appointed by the Syndicate to consider the Auditor's suggestions, and this Sub-Committee had already met and sent in its report, which had not yet been laid before the Syndicate. The Vice-Chancellor pointed out, however, that this report did not affect the proposal before the meeting, which was—

That the Auditor's reports for the year ending 30th September 1887 be approved. (See Appendix.)

On being put from the chair, this proposal was carried unanimously.

Law Lecturer.

10. The proposal that Mr. P. Morton be re-appointed Law Lecturer for the year beginning 8th January 1888 was carried, the Vice-Chancellor and Mr. Baden-Powell speaking in terms of commendation of Mr. Morton's work in the Law School.

Technical terms.

11. The next proposal was—

That the recommendations of the Educational Conference (1887) on the subject of English technical terms in Vernacular, Scientific and Mathematical works be approved :—

(1) That it is desirable to adopt one system of technical terms in teaching each scientific subject through the medium of the Vernacular.

(2) That the terminology now used in English be accepted in Vernacular works on higher Mathematics.

(3) That the terminology now used in English should be accepted in Vernacular books on Geometry and Algebra for Secondary Schools, except where Vernacular terms are available that are generally understood.

(4) That the terminology now used in English be accepted in Vernacular books on Arithmetic and Mensuration for Secondary Schools, except where Vernacular terms are available that are generally understood.

(5) That Vernacular terminology be used in Vernacular books on Arithmetic and Mensuration for Primary Schools, terms that are generally understood being employed as far as possible.

(6) That the terminology used in English be employed in all Vernacular books on scientific subjects for University and Secondary education.

(7) That the terminology now in use in Vernacular books on Geography, both in Primary and Middle Schools, be retained, terms that are generally understood being employed as far as possible.

In bringing this before the meeting the Vice-Chancellor referred to the case of Buláqi Rám, who had declared his inability to answer the B. O. L. mathematical questions in any other language than English as he could find no Vernacular equivalents for many of the mathematical terms. This was a case which showed the necessity for viewing with favour and encouraging such measures as those proposed by the Educational Conference. The Senate took up the proposals of the Conference one by one and adopted them after full consideration. Mr. Baden-Powell then brought forward certain additional proposals bearing on proposal (6) of the Educational Conference :—

(1) That in all technical and scientific books all chemical symbols should be used as they really are, i.e., in the Roman capitals and small letters, as C., Stb. Hg., &c., and not by attempted alphabetic equivalents; and so with C and F used to indicate the Centigrade and Fahrenheit thermometric standards.

(2) That in mathematical (higher) works, Roman numbers and signs be adopted; thus we write cos, sin, cotan, and not کوس or some other attempted syllabic equivalent.

(3) That the names of European authors and the names of cities, &c. (not having established vernacular equivalents), should be written in Roman letters: Roman letters will thus become a kind of supplemental alphabet, just as we use italics or Greek type in English.

These proposals were seconded by Sheikh Nának Bakhsh.

The following proposal was then put to the meeting by the Vice-Chancellor :—

That, while approving of the proposals of the Educational Conference, the Senate would also point out certain other matters connected with terminology which might, with advantage, be considered by the Conference, viz., those suggested by Mr. Baden-Powell and seconded by Sheikh Nának Bakhsh. (See above.)

This was unanimously carried.

Courses in English.

12. The courses of Reading in English for the Arts Examinations as given in the Appendix were then passed.

13. The proposal that the courses of Reading in Sanskrit and Persian as given in the Appendix should be adopted was then considered. Pandit Navina Chandra Rái had, in his proxy paper, raised several objections to the courses as proposed. He pointed out that there were no text-books on Grammar included, and that certain books were inserted in the B. A. course on the religious ceremonials of the Hindus, and he thought these points required reconsideration. In view of these objections, the Senate resolved that the courses be referred back to the Oriental Faculty for reconsideration in connection with Pandit Navina Chandra Rái's proposals.

Courses in Sanskrit and Persian.

14. The cycle of reading in Sanskrit as given in the Appendix was also referred back to the Oriental Faculty as it was open to the same objections.

Cycle of reading in Sanskrit.

Pay of Assistant Registrar.

15. The next proposal—

That the pay of the Assistant Registrar, Bábu Chandra Náth, be Rs. 200 per mensem, to be raised after five years' approved service to Rs. 250, was then read.

After some discussion, the following amendment was proposed by Mr. T. Gordon Walker—

That the pay of the Assistant Registrar be Rs. 200 per mensem, to be raised on approved service by Rs. 10 yearly for five years.

This was seconded by Dr. Rahím Khán and carried unanimously. The Vice-Chancellor pointed out that in the form in which it was passed the proposal did not refer merely to Bábu Chandra Náth, the present holder of the office, but was a general one.

16. The last proposal—

That Mr. E. S. Robertson be appointed to represent the Senate on the Committee of the Public Library, Lahore, was put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

The meeting then dissolved with a vote of thanks to Dr. Brown, Principal, Medical College, for having kindly offered to take over the Vaidak and Tib classes from the Oriental College.

Registrar.

REPORT OF THE SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONSIDER A SCHEME FOR THE RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE CLASSES AND STAFF OF THE ORIENTAL COLLEGE.

Adopted by the Senate, 19th April 1888.

THE Sub-Committee was appointed by the Oriental College Committee to consider and report on a scheme for the re-organization of the Classes and Staff of the Oriental College on the 24th December 1887.

2. The Sub-Committee met on two occasions at the residence of the Vice-Chancellor, but, on the last occasion, it was deprived of the valuable aid of Rái Kanhya Lál, Rái Bahádur, who had unfortunately died in the interval between the first and second meeting. The Oriental College Committee was thereupon invited to appoint another member in the place of the late Rái Sáhib, and Bábu P. C. Chatterji was nominated accordingly. Dr. M. A. Stein, who had meantime succeeded Lála Munshi Lál as Principal of the Oriental College, was also nominated a member of the Sub-Committee in place of Lála Munshi Lál.

3. The Sub-Committee first proceeded to lay down what, in its opinion, should be the general principles upon which the re-organization of the Oriental College should proceed, and, in arriving at its conclusions, the Sub-Committee was much aided by the knowledge and experience brought to bear on the subject by Colonel Holroyd and Dr. M. A. Stein.

4. The Sub-Committee was in the first place of opinion that the School and College Departments of the Oriental College should be separately maintained, but that the scheme for their re-organization should be so arranged as to improve the present position of the School, so that it might become a preparatory institution, where boys, after they had attained a certain educational standard, should be thereafter prepared for the Entrance Examination of the College. It was thought, on the one hand, that it was not advisable to impart rudimentary or primary instruction in the school, nor, on the other hand, to place the educational standard for admission into the School higher than that ordinarily reached by boys who had passed the Middle School Examination. By adopting some such middle standard, the Sub-Committee was of opinion that the School would assume its legitimate position as a training institution for the College, with which it is so closely allied, and could be more efficiently and economically worked than if it continued to be hampered with the duty of imparting rudimentary and primary instruction in matters of General Knowledge. In other words, the Sub-Committee considered that the School should be elevated to the position of a High School with two Departments, namely—

(a) A General Knowledge Department, and (b) An Oriental Titles Department.

The former Department should be so constituted as to prepare pupils for the Entrance Examination, while the latter should prepare candidates for the Junior Oriental Titles Examinations, i.e., the Maulavi, Munshi and Pandit Examinations.

The School year being divided in two terms—

(a) The Summer term, commencing 1st March and ending 31st July.
(b) The Winter term, commencing 15th October and ending 28th February.

5. The Sub-Committee would accordingly recommend that, from the 1st June next, or from such other date as might be considered more convenient, no student should be admitted into the School, unless—

(a) on the General Knowledge Department side he be more than 12 and less than 20 years of age, and produces a certificate of having passed the Middle School Examination, or passes an equivalent examination; or
(b) on the Oriental Titles Department side unless he passes an examination in Elementary Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian or Gurmukhi, that is to say, in the particular language which he desires to study for an Oriental Title.

6. The next question which the Sub-Committee took into consideration was whether pupils on the Oriental Titles Department side should be compelled to attend classes for the instruction of subjects of General Knowledge. It was pointed out by Dr. Stein, and Pandit Guru Pershád confirmed what he said, that under the present rules, which enforced such instruction, no real benefit was derived by pupils who had joined the School with the special object of gaining some Oriental Title, such as that of Munshi Fázil or Shastri, from such ridumentary instruction as they received in Mathematics, Geography, or History, while much time was lost in attending these classes which could be far more profitably employed in another direction. It was suggested that instead of enforcing attendance in the General Knowledge classes it would be more useful, and certainly more popular, if provision were made for tuition of the pupils of the Oriental Titles Department in the English language. One benefit to be derived from such tuition would be that the pupils would be able to use better edited books in the Classical Languages of the East than would be available to them without a knowledge of English. Another advantage would be that the knowledge

SENATE HALL, LAHORE :
The 20th February 1888.

W. BELL,
Registrar.

of English would secure the candidates who obtained Oriental Titles greater chances of procuring future employment than would be open to them without such knowledge. After prolonged discussion, the Sub-Committee came to the conclusion that the proposal was one which was worth adopting. The question of imparting General Knowledge through the medium of the Vernacular was a large question upon which a good deal had been written, and in favor of which much no doubt could be said. But that question stood quite apart from the minor practical question, with which the Sub-Committee was now more directly concerned, as to the advantage to be derived from imparting a mere rudimentary knowlege of such subjects as Mathematics, History and Geography to students of the Oriental Titles Department. Such students have usually no knowledge of any of these subjects when they join the school, and consequently they have to begin with the very rudiments, beyond which they make little or no progress, for the reason that they have no soul for this work, and merely attend the classes because they are obliged to do so. Thus it is understood to be no unusual spectacle to see a non-English speaking student of the Shastri or Munshi Fazil class, after a four years' course of study, sitting in the primary General Knowledge Hindi or Urdu class endeavouring to learn the A B C of the subject taught in that Department. Having regard therefore to the poorness of the results hitherto attained; to the unprofitable character of the instruction imparted; to the constantly increasing demand for instruction in English, a knowledge of which language is now looked upon as a necessary qualification for all the better-paid Government appointments; and to the relative advantage of the present proposal as compared with the existing practice, the Sub-Committee was of opinion that the time had arrived when a change such as that above proposed might well be introduced. The Sub-Committee would accordingly recommend that no student of the Oriental Titles Department be compelled to attend the classes on the General Knowledge Side. But as an inducement for them to acquire a knowledge of English or a higher knowledge of the subjects taught on the General Knowlege Side, the Sub-Committee would suggest that no student should receive a Diploma unless he passes one of the following standards :—

1. In English—

(a) For Maulavi, Pragya, Munshi, Buddhiman	...	The Primary English Standard.
(b) For Maulavi Fazil, Munshi Fazil, Shastri, Gyani	...	The Middle School Standard.

Or, II. On the G. K. Side—

Up to Visharad and Munshi Alim and Vidwan,	...	The Middle School Standard.
For the highest Oriental Titles	...	The Entrance Standard.

By leaving it optional with the student himself to join the English or the General Knowledge Side he would be able to exercise his own tastes, and there would be more reason to hope that for the sake of earning the Diploma he would make greater efforts to acquire the standard of knowledge requisite for that distinction within a reasonable time. It could then be seen also, by a practical test, whether the English or General Knowledge Side was the more popular. In placing the Middle School Examination standard as the test for the General Knowledge Side, the Sub-Committee has in view the fact that in its scheme for the formation of classes it has made no provision for imparting instruction below that of the Middle School Standard; so that if a student on the Oriental Title Side desired to join the Hindi or Urdu Classes on the General Knowledge Side, he would have to possess the same standard of knowledge as was possessed by other students in those classes. On the other hand, in fixing the English Standard, the Sub-Committee was necessarily obliged to adopt a lower standard for the Maulavi, Pragya, Munshi and Buddhiman Classes than for the highest Oriental Titles. It had also fixed the standard comparatively low in either case, so as not to make the test too difficult at first starting. There is, however, no reason to suppose that a fairly intelligent student would fail to pass the Middle School Standard after five years' proper tuition.

7. In order to give effect to the above proposal, the Sub-Committee would recommend that a thoroughly competent English Teacher be appointed for the Oriental Titles Department on a salary not exceeding Rs. 75 a month to begin with, rising to Rs. 100 a month after 3 years, by annual increments of Rs. 5 a month after the 1st year, Rs. 10 a month after the second year, and a further Rs. 10 a month after the third year. On the General Knowledge Side the Sub-Committee would propose the following staff of teachers in the school :—

For the Hindi Classes—

One teacher on Rs. 30 per mensem, rising in 3 years to Rs. 50 per mensem.
2nd teacher on Rs. 25 per mensem, rising in 3 years to Rs. 35 per mensem.

For the Urdu Classes—

* One teacher on Rs. 50 per mensem, rising in 3 years to Rs. 70 per mensem.
" on Rs. 30 per mensem, rising in 3 years to Rs. 40 per mensem.

For the Gurmukhi Classes—

One teacher on Rs. 15, rising in 3 years to Rs. 20.

8. The above staff would create an immediate saving of Rs. 40 per mensem, in addition to which the reductions on the College Staff recommended by the Oriental College Committee would result in a still further saving, and it is believed that the reduced staff would be quite adequate for the work required. But the reduction in the number of teachers would undoubtedly throw a larger responsibility on the Head Maulavi and Head Pandit, who would be required to exercise a more general supervision over the classes subordinate to them than they have hitherto found to be necessary. The Sub-Committee would accordingly recommend that a portion of the general saving effected by the reduction of establishment should be appropriated by increasing the pay of the Head Maulavi and the Head Pandit by Rs. 20 per mensem in each case. Both these officers are gentlemen of high attainments, both have served long and faithfully, and both are eminently deserving of an increase of salary, not only as a reward for past services, but as an incentive for future efforts in the cause of High Education. The Sub-Committee would, however, add one condition to these proposed increases, namely, that the Head Maulavi should undertake a general supervision of the Arabic, Persian and Urdu Departments of the school in addition to his own duties as Assistant Professor in the Arabic Department, and that the Head Pandit in like manner should undertake a similar supervision over the Sanskrit and Hindi Departments of the school in addition to his own duties in the College.

9. In proposing yearly increments to the other members of the staff in the General Knowledge Department, the Sub-Committee is influenced by the feeling that such increments are necessary in order to maintain a healthy zeal amongst the teachers, who, if they have nothing to look forward to in the future, will, in the nature of things, not infuse that vigour and earnestness into their own teaching without which their labors will remain barren and unproductive of satisfactory results. These proposed increments will create no immediate increase of expenditure, and it is hoped that with the improvement of the school which the proposed changes are expected to bring about the income of the school will also gradually increase.

10. The Sub-Committee also considered the question as to the formation of classes in the School Department for instruction in Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian and Gurmukhi, and it resolved that with the view of laying the foundation for a comprehensive and accurate knowledge of the languages in question the course of study should extend over three years—the first year being devoted to the study of Grammar and easy Reading; the second to a more advanced course; and the third year to the subjects prescribed for the Maulavi, Munshi and Pandit Examinations. The Sub-Committee has not considered it within its province to prescribe the details of study during the first and second years of the proposed course, for that is a matter which may well be left in the more experienced hands of the Principal of the Oriental College; but it regarded it as a matter of the utmost importance that the course of tuition should be arranged on graduated lines, so as to avoid superficiality and cram in the acquisition of knowledge, and the Sub-Committee was of opinion that the duration of the course should not be fixed at a less period than three years.

11. With regard to the instruction of students studying for Oriental Titles, the Sub-Committee was of opinion that, in order to save teaching-power, the language classes should be assimilated to those preparing for the Intermediate, B. O. L. and M. O. L. Examinations in the following order:—

Maulavi ... Pragya ... Munshi ...	to the Intermediate.
Maulavi Alim ... Munshi Alim ... Visharad ...	to the B. O. L.
Maulavi Fazil ... Munshi Fazil ... Shastri ...	to the M. O. L.

12. The Gurmukhi Classes should, in the opinion of the Sub-Committee, be taught in three divisions, arranged as follows:—

(1) the 1st year or Buddhiman Class.
(2) the 2nd year or Vidwan "
(3) the 3rd year or Gyáni "

* N.B.—This salary is fixed with reference to the salary now enjoyed by Ghulam Mustafa, the present teacher; but in the event of a future vacancy the pay might be reduced to Rs 40 per mensem rising to Rs. 60 per mensem.

13. The regulation and instruction of the Vaidak and Tib classes gave rise to considerable discussion, and the Sub-Committee felt that, however desirable it might be not to teach an exploded or antiquated system of Science under the auspices of a University, the time had perhaps not as yet arrived when these particular classes should be entirely abolished. But the Sub-Committee was of opinion that so long as these classes were retained an effort should be made to keep them under proper control. It was, however, impossible to exercise such control through the Staff of the Oriental College. Having regard, moreover, to the fact that most of the students who attend the Vaidak and Tib classes also attend the classes of the Medical College, the Sub-Committee was of opinion that it was advisable to transfer the classes in question from the Oriental to the Medical College, and the Vice-Chancellor had already ascertained from Dr. Brown that he would undertake to see that the classes were properly accommodated and supervised if they were transferred. The Sub-Committee was also of opinion that periodical examinations should be held of the Vaidak and Tib classes in order to test the efficiency of their instruction.

14. Lastly, the subject of the payment of Stipends was fully considered, and the Sub-Committee was of opinion that although it was not possible or advisable to withdraw these allowances from existing holders opportunities should be taken of diminishing the number whenever vacancies occurred. The Sub-Committee would also recommend that no Stipend-holder should be permitted to draw his allowance if he were in the receipt of a scholarship, or were found to have other sources of income, and that no Stipend-holder should in future draw a larger sum than four rupees a month. All Stipends should, moreover, be liable to forfeiture for misbehaviour, or for non or irregular attendance of the recipients at their respective classes.

W. H. RATTIGAN,

President of the Sub-Committee.

AUDITOR'S REPORTS.

Passed by Senate, 14th April 1888.

Dated Lahore, 13th January 1888.

From—Colonel P. LAMBERT, R. E., Auditor, Punjab University Accounts,

To—The Registrar, Punjab University.

I HAVE the honor to inform you that I have audited the Account Books and vouchers of the Punjab University for the half-year ending 30th September 1887, and also the Cash Books and vouchers of the Oriental College account from February 1886 to September 1887, inclusive, and of the Endowment Funds account from January 1886 to December 1887, inclusive.

2. The audit has been carried out by me on the 6th, 7th, 10th and 11th January 1888, and the several accounts have been audited as follows:—

The General Account.—The receipts and expenditure shown in the Cash Book have been checked with countertoils of Receipt Books, vouchers, counterfoils of Cheque Books and Bank Pass Book, and also with the Registers of Receipts and Expenditure. The items of receipts and expenditure have been correctly entered, except that in one month some contingent expenditure was entered in the wrong column of the Register of expenditure, and the necessary corrections have been carried out by the Accountant. Cheque No. 174, dated 31st May 1887, was only entered in June 1887.

3. The Oriental College Account was checked with the Cash Book, Ledger and vouchers, and with the counterfoils of Cheque Books and Bank Pass Book as far as was possible. Up to the 13th May 1887 the Cash Book and Ledger had been kept, and almost entirely written up, by Mr. Larpent, the late Registrar. The Cash Book was not balanced, except for the month of March 1886, and was written up continuously month after month. The entries of receipts and expenditure correspond with the entries in the Bank Pass Book. No counterfoil of Cheque Book used between 4th May and 21st August 1886 appears to have been given over by Mr. Larpent; but the counterfoils of the other cheques were all seen. There are vouchers for all the payments, as a rule, but one or two are missing. The payments of Income Tax are not fully vouched: cheques are shown as drawn for the full amount in favor of Deputy Commissioner, Lahore; but the Deputy Commissioner only acknowledges the net amount after deducting commission, and there are no receipts for the amounts of commission. The cheque for Income Tax paid in May 1887 is drawn as No. 88311, dated 6th May 1887, but the cheques immediately following and preceding it are dated 6th April 1887, and several following cheques are issued in April. The Ledger for this account is balanced at the end of each financial year, instead of at the end of each calendar year, as in the case of the General Account. There does not appear to be any necessity for this difference, and it would be better if the Oriental College account was closed at the end of each calendar year. The Ledger could now be closed at the end of December 1887 without any difficulty.

4. The Endowment Funds account was checked with Cash Book, Bank Pass Book, counterfoils of Cheque Books and vouchers for payment. The receipts and expenditure correspond with the Bank Pass Book. The drawing account has frequently been overdrawn, and interest has been charged by the Bank on the overdrawal. The investments in Government Paper of the various Funds aggregate Rs. 3,87,000, but there is only the Bank Safe Custody receipt for Rs. 3,84,000. The Promissory Notes shown in this receipt are for very large amounts, and it is understood that these have been sub-divided, as a charge for commissions on this account appears in the Bank Pass Book in February 1886. A fresh receipt should be obtained from the Bank for the actual Government Securities held by them for the Endowment Funds for the full amount of Rs. 3,87,000. In addition to the Government Promissory Notes aggregating this amount, there is a Stock Note for Rs. 25,000, so that the total investments aggregate Rs. 4,12,000. The Ledger has not been opened yet for this account; but the Ledger heads have been drawn out by the Accountant, and appear to be suitable. The investment of each Endowment should be represented by separate Government Promissory Notes, so that the entries for interest in the Ledger may be precise and represent actual interest paid for each Fund. At present it is understood that the investments have only been made generally for the whole of the Funds, and the interest will have to be calculated for each Fund.

5. A Ledger has not yet been opened for the General Account, and if it is required to be kept in minute detail to show the cost of each kind of examination carried out by the University, the entries will be very numerous. For purposes of audit the present Registers of Receipts and Disbursements are sufficient, and are capable of easy check, and, in modification of the proposal made at the end of my last report, I would propose that the present Registers be maintained, the columns being sub-divided to show whatever detail is required. An abstract could be made at any time of the receipts and disbursements under any particular sub-head, for any period that may be required, to afford information to the Senate. I do not, however, think that the Accountant can, single-handed, keep up a detailed Ledger or such detailed Registers, besides other work which has to be carried out for the three separate accounts; and some assistance appears to be necessary for him.

Dated Lahore, 9th August 1887.

From—Colonel P. LAMBERT, R. E., Auditor, Punjab University Accounts,

To—The Registrar, Punjab University, Lahore.

I HAVE the honor to inform you that I have audited the Accounts Books of the Punjab University for the two quarters ending 31st December 1886 and 31st March 1887, and I beg to submit the following report.

2. The audit has been carried out by me on the 5th, 6th and 8th August 1887, and consists of the checking of the entries in the General Cash Book, and in the Registers of Receipts and Expenditure. I find that the items of receipts and expenditure have been correctly entered and that the latter are duly supported by vouchers.

3. The Cash Book is not signed by any one at the end of each month, nor is the correctness of the cash balance certified to. The latter has not been a matter of much importance as there is not a cash balance each month, and what balances have occurred have been as a rule small. With reference, however, to my further remarks about the Imprest with the Head Clerk, it would, I think, be desirable that the correctness of the cash balance should in future be verified.

4. There is an Imprest of Rs. 100 with the Head Clerk for contingent expenses but this nowhere appears in the Cash Book. Apparently the original grant of the Imprest was treated as final expenditure, and, of course, the monthly recoupments appear as such correctly. On the next occasion of the recoupment of the Imprest the full amount should be brought into the cash balance by being entered on the receipt side of the Cash Book, and it will then remain as cash balance permanently.

5. For several months the Registrar and Assistant Registrar have given receipts for the net amount of their pay only, after deduction of Income Tax. This is the amount which is shown in the Cash Book, but the receipt should show the full amount of pay and deduction of Income Tax, as provided for in the printed form of salary bill used by the University. This form should be used in future when payments of salary are made to the Registrar and Assistant Registrar.

6. In the month of November 1886 the payments into the Bank of Bengal on the 18th and 19th respectively shown in the Cash Book do not agree with the sums acknowledged by the Bank on those dates, but the aggregate of the two dates agree. The difference is probably owing to a cheque on some other Bank not being acknowledged by the Bank until cashed. Two cheques issued on the 30th November 1886 for Rs. 630-4-3 and Rs. 19-4-0, respectively, are not shown in the Cash Book till December 1886. The Accountant states that he did not receive the cheques back signed by the Registrar till after the Cash Book for November had been closed.

7. I was not able to audit the Endowment Fund and Oriental College Cash Books, as in the former only the transactions of each month had been inked in up to April 1887, the totals and balances being still in pencil, and the latter had only been written up to the 13th May 1887 by the Registrar, Mr. Larpent, himself, and had not been checked yet by the Accountant since he had received it.

8. There is no Ledger kept for the general account, nor is any yearly balance sheet prepared. The Accountant states that he has to do the whole of the accounts work himself and has not time to keep a Ledger. It would be as well however if one could be started, so that the balances of the accounts under the several heads of receipts might be known.

(i).—General Rules as to Suits and Appeals.

1. Every application,—

(a) under Section 363 or Section 365, Civil Procedure Code, by a person claiming to be the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or appellant to enter his name on the record in place of the deceased party ;

(b) under Section 368, Civil Procedure Code, by a plaintiff or appellant to make the legal representative of a deceased defendant or respondent a party to the record in place of the deceased ;

(c) under the 2nd clause of Section 366 by a defendant or respondent ; shall, in addition to any particulars required by law, state approximately the date of the death of the deceased party.

2. Every application under Section 371 by a person claiming to be the legal representative of a deceased, or bankrupt, or insolvent plaintiff or appellant, for an order to set aside an order of abatement or dismissal, shall state the cause which prevented him from continuing the suit on appeal.

3. Every application of the kinds specified in Rules 1 and 2, and every application under Section 372 to make the petitioner or some other person an additional or substituted party in a suit or appeal, shall, as to the allegations of fact contained in such application, be verified by affidavit.

4. Every application under Chapter XXI shall ordinarily be presented to the Deputy Registrar, who shall cause the date of presentation to be entered on the application.

5. The Deputy Registrar shall examine the application, and, if the application does not satisfy the requirements of the Code, or of these rules in that behalf, may return the same to the person presenting it for amendment and re-presentation within a time to be noted on the application under his signature, or may refer the application to a Judge of the Court for orders.

6. Any such application may be presented to a Judge or to a Bench on the date fixed for hearing of a suit or appeal ; but, unless sufficient cause be shown for the application not having been presented in the ordinary course to the Deputy Registrar before such hearing, the applicant will become liable to pay the costs of any adjournment or postponement caused by omission to present the application to the Deputy Registrar.

(iii).—Special Rules as to Appeals.

10. (iv).—Applications for Review and Revision.

12. The foregoing rules shall apply, so far as may be, to applications under Chapter XXI in relation to proceedings in review of judgment (according as the proceeding is in an original suit or appeal), and to proceedings in revision.

The Scholarship will therefore be offered again on the result of the Matriculation Examination of the University of London, which, I presume, will be held as usual in India in January next, 1889, and I have to request that you will cause this information to be forwarded to the Government of India with the least possible delay that candidates for the Scholarship may have time to prepare for that examination.

1. Of the parents of each candidate, one, at least, shall not be of pure European descent.

2. Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the Local Authorities that he has completed his sixteenth year, and that his age does not exceed twenty-two years.

3. Every candidate must furnish proof satisfactory to the Local Authorities that in regard to personal character and social position he is qualified to be admitted to competition for a Scholarship.

4. Candidates approved by the Local Authorities shall present themselves at the January Matriculation Examination of the University of London, which will be held simultaneously, under the direction of Government Sub-Examiners, at the three Presidential Capitals of India, and at the Royal College, Colombo, commencing on the second Monday in January.

5. The answers of the candidates, approved as aforesaid, will be forwarded, through the Governments of India and Ceylon respectively, to the Registrar of the University, who will cause them to be reviewed by the Examiners, and who will forward their Report to those Governments, to be by them announced to the candidates.

6. The Scholarship shall be awarded to the candidate whose aggregate of marks stands highest; provided that he passes either in the Honours or in the First Division. Such candidate shall have his choice whether he will pursue his curriculum of study in the University of Edinburgh, or in University College, London.

7. The successful candidate will be expected to arrive in London, and to present himself to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, not later than the first week in the October following his appointment. If a Native of India, he will be provided by the Government of India with a free passage to England.

8. The Scholarship shall be considered as commencing from the 1st of July following the award of the Examiners, and shall be payable in quarterly instalments on the first days of October, January, April and July.

9. Each scholar shall attend in every Session at least three courses of Lectures at the Institution in which he studies; and shall transmit to the Secretary of the Gilchrist Trust, at the conclusion of each Session, a certificate from each of the Professors whose Lectures he has attended, stating that his diligence and conduct have been satisfactory. Should he not be able to produce such a certificate, or should he be proved guilty of discreditable conduct elsewhere, he shall be considered to have forfeited his claim to the remaining instalments of his Scholarship.

10. Each scholar shall be expected to present himself at the Intermediate Examination in one of the Faculties of Arts, Science, or Law, or at the Preliminary Scientific M.B. Examination, in the University of London, before the termination of the second (Academical) year* from the commencement of his Scholarship, unless excused from doing so by the Trustees ; and if he do not so present himself (unless by permission of the Trustees), or if he fail to pass, he shall be considered as forfeiting his claim to the remaining instalments of his Scholarship. After having passed this first Examination, he will be expected to pursue his studies with the view of presenting himself at the next Examination within two (Academical) years.

11. The Trustees will provide for the return passage of every Indian scholar who shall succeed in obtaining his Degree in the University of London. For every Indian scholar who may fail to obtain his Degree, a return passage will be provided by the Government of India.

12. The foregoing scheme shall be subject to revision from time to time; the Trustees reserving to themselves the power of altering the conditions of the Scholarships, or of altogether withdrawing them, if they deem it expedient to do either. But no change will be made in such a manner as to affect the interests of candidates already appointed to Scholarships.

* Thus a candidate whose Scholarship commences on the 1st of July 1884 would be considered as having fulfilled this condition if he pass the Intermediate LL. B. Examination in January 1886, or the Intermediate B.A., the Intermediate B.Sc., or the Preliminary Scientific M.B. Examination in the following July.

2. It should be noted that references under Section 99, Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, and under Section 646A, Civil Procedure Code, are made at the discretion of the Court as are also those under Section 646B when not required by a party to the suit. There is no such discretion in cases falling under Section 100, Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, or Section 646B, if required by a party.

3. References under Section 100, Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, and under Section 646A, and Section 646B, of the Civil Procedure Code, may be made to the Chief Court direct, but references under Section 99, Punjab Tenancy Act, 1887, must be made through the Divisional Judge, who should forward them without avoidable delay.

4. For purposes of Section 646B, Civil Procedure Code, the Divisional Court has been declared to be the District Court by Gazette Notification No. 635, dated 10th July 1888.

5. If a District Judge or a Sub-Judge, sitting as a court of appeal, is of opinion that a reference ought to be made under Section 646B of the Civil Procedure Code, he should submit the record of the case to the Divisional Judge for orders with a statement of reasons.

6. The date specified under Rule 3 (2) shall be fixed with due regard to the means of travelling and to the season of the year.

Appeal on behalf of the Building Fund of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, Lahore.

IN making an appeal to the further liberality of the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on behalf of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, the Council of the College do not think it necessary to refer to the history and objects of the Foundation otherwise than very briefly.

2. These were fully explained by the first Patron and President of the Council, Sir Charles Aitchison, K. C. S. I., in his address at the laying of the foundation-stone of the College by His Excellency the Viceroy of India on the 3rd November 1886, as follows :—

"As long ago as 1864 Captain Tighe, then Deputy Commissioner of Umballa, impressed with the extreme importance of giving a good education to the young Sardárs of his district who were committed to his charge as Wards of Court, proposed the establishment of a superior school under the superintendence of an English gentleman. This proposal was warmly supported by Colonel Lake, then Financial Commissioner, and by Sir Donald McLeod, the Lieutenant-Governor, and resulted in the establishment of the Wards' School at Umballa. Captain Tighe's original proposal was that the Wards should be placed in a single building, two rooms being allotted to each, and that the institution should be under the control of a Committee of Sikh Chiefs. Now, more than 20 years later, the wisdom of this suggestion has been confirmed by a long course of experience, by the successful establishment of schools upon this basis in other parts of India, and by the unanimous opinion, Native and official, of those who have assisted me in framing the Statutes of the Punjab Chiefs' College. But in 1864 the times were not ripe for a measure of the kind. It was considered impossible for Government to undertake the whole responsibility for the management of the Wards, and accordingly the Wards' School assumed the character of a day school, the boys being lodged with their relatives and attending the school during the day for instruction. Subsequently, from the income of the several Wards' estates, detached buildings were constructed round the residence of the Superintendent, and there the students lived as home boarders, their domestic arragements being organized without regard to any particular system of discipline, according to the means and proclivities of the different families. The school was made in fact as much like home as could be, and in many cases the mothers of the boys came with their sons to dwell in the school compound and watch over them. After a few years confidence was established and all the mothers returned to their homes. But the disposition of the buildings and the internal economy of the institution have always been obstacles in the way of enforcing discipline and encouraging manly bearing and a public school spirit among students. Nor was the educational progress of the students under these circumstances all that could be desired. The annual inspection of the officers of the Education Department showed that the standard of attainments was by no means equal to that of the Government Schools and Colleges. The institution was in fact neither so popular nor so useful as to justify its continuance on the established basis.

"In 1874 Sir Henry Davies made an effort to extend the scope of the Umballa Wards' School so that it might be made available for the education of all Government Wards in the six lower Divisions of the Punjab and of the sons of jágírdárs and Native gentlemen of position. In the course of the discussion which followed upon this suggestion, proposals were made for establishing a school at Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District. But it was finally decided that efforts should be concentrated on the existing institution at Umballa, the efficiency and scope of which was to be enlarged as funds should become available. For many years, however, the difficulty of funds—a difficulty which unfortunately is too familiar in the annals of Punjab administration—was an obstacle to all progress. The suggestions of the Local Government on the one hand and of the Director of Public Instruction and of the Umballa authorities on the other were alike consigned to the record-room under this potent influence. At last in May 1882 a vigorous effort was made to place the institution on a permanent and satisfactory footing. Influential Native gentlemen were consulted on a proposal to accommodate the students under one roof, to allot definite accommodation and a definite number of attendants to each, to require the pupils to pass the examinations prescribed by the Education Department, and to transfer the institution to Lahore, where unusual advantages can be secured, educational, social and sanitary. I desire to ackonwledge gratefully the suggestions made by these gentlemen, upon which to a very large extent the present scheme has been based. The College has for the present been opened in hired houses till the permanent buildings can be erected, and the youths present to-day have become its first students. The Principal or Head of the teaching staff is Mr. Robinson, who has for fifteen years been Head of the Wards' School at Umballa.

"It is to the princely liberality of the Chiefs and Native gentlemen who are present on this occasion that the Punjab is indebted for the completion of a project the need of which has long been felt in the Province. As soon as the lines were settled upon which the institution was to be constructed, an appeal was made to the Chiefs and gentlemen of the Province to promote, both by subscriptions and by the exercise of their personal influence, a scheme in which the interests of the aristocracy of the Punjab were so closely concerned. The response to that appeal has been most cordial and encouraging. The private subscriptions to the Building Fund of the Punjab Chiefs' College have reached up to date the sum of Rs. 1,77,953-12-0, and the Local Government has contributed a like amount, while the Imperial Government has assisted with a contribution of Rs. 15,000, which I desire on this occasion gratefully to acknowledge. In connection with the ceremonial of to-day I have only one regret—that the youthful Mahárája of Patiála, the largest subscriber, should have been prevented by illness from witnessing the commencement under such favourable auspices of the institution to which he has contributed the princely sum of half a lakh of rupees.

"After the fullest consideration and discussion, in which many of the Ruling Chiefs of the Punjab and Native gentlemen of position have materially assisted, the constitution of the Punjab Chiefs' College has been definitely settled, and Statutes have been framed in accordance with the conclusions generally approved by the Committee of Chiefs and gentlemen who have been taken into counsel. Those delicate and difficult questions which invariably arise when attempt is made to combine with the habits of Eastern life the advantages of Western culture have been worked out with an amount of care and detail which I wish specially to acknowledge on the present occasion. If the interest which has been shown by the Punjab Chiefs and Nobles in this undertaking is maintained without diminution in the future, I feel that I may confidently predict for the College a large amount of success, and that it will become a strength to the Government and a centre of good influence on the administration of the Province."

3. Sir Charles Aitchison added the following weighty observations regarding the work for which the College has been created :—

"In the Punjab, with its large number of Ruling Chiefs and extensive Native aristocracy, the education of the Native nobility is in every way as important as in any part of India. Within the last decade the Rulers of seven of the principal Native States in the Punjab have been minors. There is no Province of India where the relations between the people and the aristocracy are so close or where the "downward filtration" theory of education has a better chance of success. But here, as elsewhere in India, the Native aristocracy has hitherto participated but little in the benefits of our system of education. Here, as elsewhere, the inducements have been insufficient, the hindrances great, and the opportunities defective. From the middle and lower ranks of Native society is rising up year by year an ever-increasing number of candidates for honors in our academical institutions and for positions of responsibility under the Government; while those who are the hereditary leaders of the people are being elbowed out of the positions which they are naturally expected by their fellow-countrymen to occupy, but for which under the altered circumstances of the times they have in most cases as yet failed to qualify themselves. As stone is placed upon stone in the visible structure of this edifice, and tier upon tier rises from the level plain, let it be our earnest hope that there may rise a still fairer edifice in which the aristocracy of the Punjab shall be the polished corner stones, bright examples to their fellow-countrymen of true manliness, of the highest culture and the gentlest manners that the times can boast."

4. His Excellency the Viceroy, the Right Honorable the Earl of Dufferin, was also pleased to make the following remarks with reference to the College and its work in the Punjab :—

"I have already had an opportunity last year at the opening of the Mayo College of stating the grounds upon which institutions of this description command my warmest and my sincerest sympathy, and I am quite certain that in no part of India will a college for the young nobility of the land be surer to meet with greater success or to command a more extensive sympathy than in this Province. For nowhere else in India are there to be found historical houses of a more illustrious antiquity, or a nobility that from age to age has been inspired by nobler aspirations or by traditions of a purer honour or of a more courageous or lofty bearing; and what is better still, in no part of India, I believe, have they been more closely or more harmoniously united with the populations amongst which they are established. But, as I have already said on the occasion to which I have referred, in these practical days of ours, when education is so largely diffused and when competition is so keen, nobility of birth, high descent, wealth and other adventitious circumstances cannot meet with their due recognition, or exercise the influence to which, under other circumstances, they might be entitled, unless they are re-enforced by intellectual acquirements and by proper mental cultivation. It is only under these circumstances that an aristocracy is either entitled to or is able to lead the community and to take its place upon a level of moral and material advantage. But when the ancient families of a country, to the natural advantages which they have inherited, add those mental acquirements to which I have referred, then, indeed, do they become the real guides and rulers of the people, and acquire a power for good and an authority and influence which even in these democratic days every one must acknowledge is beneficial to the community at large. The people must have leaders along the path of moral and material advancement, and where can they be better found, or from whence can they be more conveniently drawn, than, from amongst those great and illustrious families whose deeds in former generations have made the history of their province famous, and whose descendants I trust are bound, both by the material as well as by the moral pledges which they have given, to show a bright example of devotion to the public service."

5. The subscriptions received from the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab up to 3rd November 1886 amounted to Rs. 1,78,000. Since then a further sum of nearly Rs. 17,000 has been received, raising the total amount to 1,94,800 rupees. With the Punjab Government grant of Rs. 1,92,120 the Supreme Government grant of Rs. 15,000, and interest amounting up to date to about Rs. 19,000, the total sum available for the buildings of the College is about Rs. 4,21,000. A list of the donors is appended to the present appeal. Scholarships to the number of 28, with an endowment of Rs. 7,500 each, have also been founded since then,—one by Sir Charles Aitchison, one by the Punjab Government from the surplus income in hand on closing the late Wards School at Umballa, and the rest by the Local Bodies of the Province.

At various meetings of the Council held in 1886 and 1887 it was decided to put in hand the following College buildings and to incur the following expenditure of Rs. 3,74,200 in connection with them :—

	Rs.
Central building, exclusive of the Library wing... ...	1,58,000
Two boarding-houses	1,22,000
Six ranges of cook-houses	16,000
Four ranges of servants' houses	15,000
Two sets of stables	6,200
Two ranges of College servants' houses	3,000
Four latrines	1,300
Governor's house and servants' quarters, &c.	26,000
Water-supply	9,500
Laying out of grounds, &c.	11,000
Dispensary	6,200
Total	3,74,200

Miscellaneous expenditure, including the rewards paid for the designs of the College, has amounted to Rs. 5,000, and charges of Rs. 10,000 have been incurred in connection with the payment of octroi on the materials imported for the College buildings and royalty for the use of Bull's Patent Brick-kiln. The total expenditure sanctioned and incurred is therefore Rs. 3,89,000, leaving a balance at the credit of the Committee of Rs. 32,000.

6. The two boarding-houses sanctioned in the above estimate will accommodate only 32 students, or, with some possible modifications perhaps three or four students more. Each student in these buildings will have one large room 18′ × 16′ and two smaller rooms (each 8′ × 8′) attached to it. He will also have further accommodation for his servants as required by the Statutes. Such accommodation is no doubt desirable for the relations of Ruling Chiefs and the sons of wealthy families of high rank who are well able to pay the full College fees. But in the case of the scholarship-holders, who will be accustomed to less luxurious surroundings in their own homes, it does not seem necessary to provide the same amount or class of accommodation, and the same considerations apply also to students other than scholarship-holders for whom less than the full fees are paid. The number of scholarships founded, viz., 28, has led to a satisfactory, but somewhat unexpected, increase in the students of the College, who now number 46, of whom 16 are scholarship-holders. It is expected that the students will number 60 after the summer vacation. The Council of the College has accordingly decided after two meetings that for these classes a third boarding-house shall be constructed similar to the others in general outward appearance, but so arranged internally as to provide quarters for a much larger number of students. A design has been prepared by the Department Public Works, to whom the construction of the College buildings is entrusted, by which 44 students will be accommodated in a single building of the same dimensions as the two boarding-houses already under construction, and this design has been approved by the Council. The accommodation of so many students is effected by dividing each half of the building into three long rooms, instead of dividing it into separate quarters as in the two boarding-houses at present sanctioned. The first of these long rooms will contain 10 students, the next 8, and the third, which is situated at the front end of the wing of the building, 4. These rooms will be divided by wooden partitions 7½ feet high into 10, 8 and 4 cubicles. The entrance to each cubicle will be by a door from the verandah running round the front of the building, as in the case of the separate quarters in the other boarding-houses, and a bath-room will be attached to each cubicle and will be entered from it. The cubicle itself will be 9 feet 4 inches by 16 feet in size, and the bath-room 6 feet by 8 feet. The height of the rooms will be the same as in the other two boarding-houses. Above the cubicle partition walls will run a gallery on iron brackets, which will communicate with the quarters of the Musáhib of the building who will thus be able at all times to exercise effective control over the conduct of the students in their cubicles. Four blocks of kitchens and servants' rooms, and one block of servants' quarters, will also be required for the new boarding-house. The cost of this building is estimated to be Rs. 65,000, and the cost of the servants' houses and cook-rooms attached to it will be Rs. 19,000, or Rs. 84,000 in all. In addition to this expenditure the Council have decided that it is most desirable to construct a house for the Principal of the College at a cost of Rs. 16,500 as soon as possible, in order that he may be always on the spot for purposes of discipline and control. The total additional expenditure which the Council considers necessary for the present to place the College on a proper footing with regard to the objects of its foundation is therefore Rs. 1,00,000. Of this sum only Rs. 32,000 are at present available for building purposes, leaving Rs. 68,000 to be made up. Of this sum the Punjab Government has agreed to contribute one-third or Rs. 22,666, provided the remaining two-thirds, viz., Rs. 45,334, are raised by private subscription.

7. It was accordingly decided at a meeting of the Council held at Government House, Lahore, on 11th May last and at which the members whose names are noted in the margin were present that an appeal should be made by the Council to the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab for further assistance towards the completion of the Aitchison College, and by permission of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, who has himself agreed to subscribe the sum of Rs. 1,000, this appeal is circulated accordingly. It was originally proposed that only one-half of the new boarding-house should be built, but the encouraging replies given by the representatives of the Punjab Chiefs at the meeting of 11th May induced the Council to decide to undertake the whole building at once in the belief that the additional support now sought would be forthcoming. The Council are anxious to see the third boarding-house completed now, not only because of the rapidly increasing number of students, but also because it will cost considerably more to build the second half of it some years hence after the manufactory and workshops at present established for the building of the College have been removed. The Council feels that in view of the generosity shown by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on the occasion of the first appeal made in 1885, and of the liberality since displayed by Local Bodies in founding scholarships, that it will not appeal in vain for the further sum of Rs. 45,500 now needed, and that the aid required will be forthcoming to complete the work originated by Sir Charles Aitchison, and so heartily supported by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab. Subscriptions may be forwarded to the Secretary to the Punjab Government or to the Governor of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, or may be paid to the credit of the Building Fund of the College with the Bank of Bengal, Lahore. Any sum which may be received in excess of Rs. 45,500 will be credited to the General Building Fund, and will be devoted hereafter to the completion of the library wing of the main building of the College, which will cost Rs. 60,000 and which has been allowed to stand over for the present. A list of the subscriptions received will be published weekly in the Punjab Government Gazette.

By order of the President and Council,

The 19th July 1888.

S. BLACK, MAJOR-GENERAL,
Secretary to the Council.

CHIEF COURT.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. VIII–2766.

FROM

R. L. HARRIS, ESQUIRE,

Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

ALL CIVIL COURTS IN THE PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 7th July 1888.

1. The amendment of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1882, by Act VII of 1888, which came into force on the first day of July 1888, has introduced several important changes into the previously existing law of procedure, and the Judges desire in the present Circular to draw the attention of all Civil Courts in this Province to the more important of these changes. The full extent and scope of the amendments can only be comprehended, however, by a careful and independent study of the new Act itself, and the Judges would impress upon all Civil Courts the necessity of their making themselves early acquainted with its provisions, which, for facility of reference, should be carefully noted opposite the sections of the old Code which they either repeal, amend or alter.

2. The amendments to which the Judges would here direct special attention may be grouped under two general heads according as they affect the procedure of suits prior to decree, or relate to the execution of decrees.

3. Beginning with the former class of amendments it is important to notice that Section 53 of the Code of 1882 has been completely recast. The new section permits the rejection of a plaint for not disclosing a cause of action at, or at any time before, the settlement of issues, and it also permits a plaint to be returned for amendment, within the same period, upon any of the grounds mentioned in sub-clauses (i), (ii), (iii), (iv) of clause (b). But it is only necessary to remark, with regard to these provisions, that the power to reject a plaint under clause (a) is in addition to the power of rejection conferred by Section 54 of the Code, which has not been in any way altered by the new Act, and that it is necessary when returning a plaint for amendment to fix a time within which the amendment should take place. It has been noticed by the Judges in cases which have come under their observation in appeal that this provision of the law, which also existed under the old law, is not duly observed, and they would take the present opportunity of directing attention to it. The main alteration, however, effected by the new section is the addition of clause (c), which enables a Court at any time before judgment to amend a plaint itself upon such terms as to the payment of costs as the Court thinks fit. This very large discretional power of amendment by the Court itself must, however, be exercised, as in the case of every amendment by a party, subject to the proviso that the amendment must not be such as to convert a suit of one character into a suit of another and inconsistent character.

4. The next point to which it is desirable to draw attention is the addition of a new explanation to Section 17 of the Code, the effect of which is to settle a vexed question as to where a cause of action may be said to arise in suits founded on contract. The explanation now added declares that it may arise at any of the following places :—

(i) The place where the contract was made.

(ii) The place where the contract was to be performed or performance thereof completed.

(iii) The place where in performance of the contract any money to which the suit relates was expressly or impliedly payable.

5. Section 18 of the new Act substitutes a new section for Section 191 of the Code, and it will be observed that while the old section only gave power to the successor of a Judge who had died or been removed from the Court before the conclusion of the suit to deal with the evidence taken down by his predecessor as if he himself had taken it down, the substituted section extends the same power to the case where the former Judge is prevented by "death, transfer or other cause" from concluding the trial, and it further empowers the succeeding Judge to "proceed with the suit from the stage at which his predecessor left it." This last provision is intended to avoid the construction put upon the old law by the High Court, North-Western Provinces, in the cases reported in I. L. R., VII, Allahabad 857, VIII., Ibid 35. It is also to be noted that the provisions of the substituted section are declared to apply, so far as they can be made applicable, to a suit transferred under Section 25. A Court continuing a suit under Section 191 may re-call and re-examine a witness who has departed in accordance with the provisions of Section 173 of the Code.

6. The provisions of Chapter XXI relating to the substitution of the legal representative of deceased parties have been re-drafted, and the effect of the amended law may be briefly stated as follows :—

Section 363 (substituted for Sections 363 and 364 of the Code) deals only with the procedure on the death of one of several plaintiffs where the right to sue does not survive to the surviving plaintiffs alone. In this case the Court may of its own motion and without any application cause the legal representative, if any, of the deceased plaintiff to be made a party, and an entry to that effect should be made on the record, and the suit can then proceed.

Section 365 deals with the death of a sole or a sole surviving plaintiff. In this case an application on the part of the legal representative of the deceased where the right to sue survives is necessary. Such an application must be made within six months, and in default the suit is liable to abatement under the provisions of Section 366.

Section 368 deals with the case of the death of one of several defendants, or of a sole defendant or sole surviving defendant. In this case the plaintiff may apply to have the person whom he alleges to be the legal representative of the deceased defendant made a defendant in his stead, or (and in this respect the new Act introduces an amendment) the legal representative of the deceased defendant may himself apply to be made a defendant. In either case the application must be made within the extended period of six months (instead of within sixty days under the old law). In default of such an application the suit abates.

Section 372 A. extends the provisions of Section 5 of the Limitation Act, 1877, to applications under Sections 365, 366, 368 and 371. The effect of this provision is that the period prescribed for such applications may be extended "for sufficient cause." The sufficiency of the cause alleged must of course depend upon the circumstances of each case, and in this connection the Judges would draw the attention of the Civil Courts to the published Full Bench ruling of this Court reported as No. 81 of 1886. From that ruling it will be seen that the Judges declined to lay down a hard-and-fast rule that ignorance of the procedure law requiring such applications to be made within a prescribed period could in no case be accepted as a sufficient cause. It will thus be for the Courts to determine whenever such a question arises whether, under the special circumstances of the case, and having regard to the degree of knowledge likely to be held by persons of the class to which the applicant belongs, or to the facilities available to him for having recourse to legal advice, the alleged ignorance is excusable or otherwise.

7. The foregoing paragraphs refer to the principal changes in the procedure of civil suits prior to decree. The more important amendments in the procedure relating to execution of decrees will now be indicated.

8. Section 20 of the new Act adds an important provision to Section 209 of the Code, the effect of which is that where a decree for money is silent as to future interest, such interest is to be deemed to be refused, and that it cannot form the subject of a separate suit.

9. The amendments to Section 244 introduced by Section 26 of the new Act are, first, the addition of all questions relating to the stay of execution to those which Section 244 requires to be determined by the Court executing the decree and not by a separate suit; and, secondly, a provision enabling a Court executing a decree to determine a question as to who is the legal representative of a party, or to direct a stay of execution until the question is determined by a separate suit. The effect of the former amendment is to give all orders relating to the stay of execution the force of decrees (under the definition of "decree" given in Section 2 of the Code), and to render them appealable. The object of the other amendment is to meet a difficulty which was felt under the old law, and to arm the executing Court with full power to deal with a question as to who is the legal representative of a party in either of the two modes provided for in the added provision.

10. Under the last paragraph of Section 258 of the Code the effect of a payment out of Court gave rise to several conflicting rulings, and Section 27 of the amending Act makes it now clear that the non-recognition of uncertified payments or adjustments of decrees is confined to the Court executing the decree, and will consequently not debar a separate suit to establish such an uncertified payment or adjustment.

11. Section 28 of the amending Act extends the exemptions recognized by Section 266 of the Code in regard to non-attachable property to "bedding" and, in the case of agriculturists, to "seed grain" and moveable property not liable under any law (e.g. Section 70, Act XVII of 1887) to sale for arrears of land revenue. Allowances declared by any law in British India to be exempt from liability to attachment or sale in execution of a decree are also now added to the other exemptions. The same sections introduce a modification in regard to the extent of the exemption from attachment of salaries of public officers or of servants of a Railway Company or a local authority, to which the special attention of Courts executing decrees is directed.

12. The only other section to which attention need be drawn in the present Circular is Section 64. By amending Form 137, Schedule IV, of the Code in the manner indicated in the section, it becomes clear that it is only "a person bound by the decree" who can henceforth be removed from possession by a Court executing a decree.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. IX—2767.

FROM

R. L. HARRIS, ESQUIRE,

Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

ALL CIVIL COURTS IN THE PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 7th July 1888.

IN Book Circular No. VIII—2766 of this year the amendments introduced into the law of Civil Procedure by Act VII of 1888, so far as they affected the procedure of suits prior to decree or related to the execution of decrees, were indicated and explained. In the present Circular the Judges desire to point out the changes introduced by the same enactment in the procedure relating to appeals and reviews.

2. These changes will be found embodied in Sections 45—59 of the amending Act, and the first point to be noticed is that an appeal from an original or appellate ex parte decree is now expressly allowed (Sections 45 and 51). There was some conflict of opinion under the old law as to whether an appeal lay from such decrees, and the present amendment settles the question in the affirmative precisely as it was ruled by this Court in No. 105 P. R. 1881.

3. It will be observed that Section 46 substitutes an entirely new section for Section 551 of the Code, and under the new law it will no longer be competent to an Appellate Court to confirm the decision of the Court against which the appeal is made in the absence of the appellant. It will be incumbent upon an Appellate Court to fix a date for hearing the appeal in all cases, and if the appellant does not attend in person or by pleader on that date, or on the date to which the hearing may have been adjourned, the appeal must be dismissed for default. There would appear, however, to be no objection to the practice, which it is believed prevails in most Divisional Courts, of the Clerk of the Court laying the appeal before the presiding Judge for orders on a certain date, usually the day after the appeal has been filed. If on the day the appeal is brought up there is no appearance, the Court may still send for the record of the Court below for perusal under the provisions of Section 550, Civil Procedure Code. But in no case can an appeal be dismissed without a date being fixed for hearing the appellant or his pleader, and if on the date so fixed, under sub-section (1) of the amended Section 551, the appellant does not appear, the only order the Appellate Court can in future pass is one of dismissal for default.

4. The period for filing objections by respondents under Section 561 of the Code is now altered to one month from the date of service on the respondent or his pleader (under Section 553) of notice of the day fixed for hearing, or within such further time as the Appellate Court may see fit to allow, instead of, as under the old law, seven days before the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal. It will now also be necessary to cause a copy of the objections to be served on the appellant or his pleader, at the expense of the respondent, unless the respondent files with the objection a written acknowledgment from the appellant or his pleader of having received a copy thereof.

5. In consequence of the amendment of Section 562 of the Code by Section 49 of the new Act, it will no longer be necessary to justify a remand under the former section that there should have been an exclusion of some evidence of fact essential to the determination of the rights of the parties. A remand may now properly be made in all cases where a lower Court, although it has recorded all the evidence produced by the parties, has merely disposed of the suit on a preliminary point. But it will be observed that the language of the section as amended will remain permissive and not imperative, and Appellate Courts must be careful only to act under its provisions where the decision of the Court below has really been on a preliminary point and not in cases to which Section 565 or 566 of the Code applies.

6. Sections 46 and 58 of the amending Act have now made it clear that the decree of an Appellate Court may be executed against a person who has given security for costs under Section 549 of the Code as if he were a party to the suit to the extent of his liability.

7. As regards appeals from orders, Section 55 makes a verbal correction in clause (9), Section 588, of the Code, which had been previously notified by Notification No. 9, dated 18th August 1882, of the Legislative Department, and it also gives an extended right of appeal under clause (16) from all orders under Section 312 of the Code. The repeal of the first paragraph of Section 589 makes all appeals from orders appealable under Section 588, when passed by a Court of first instance, lie to the Court to which an appeal would lie from the decree in the suit in relation to which such order was made. The effect of this amendment is to place orders of the kind mentioned in clauses (15), (16) and (17) on the same footing as the other appealable orders as set out in Judicial Circular XXXV.

8. The proviso which is now added by Section 59 to Section 626 of the Code makes it clear that when a Judge has, on an application for review, ordered notice to be served on the opposite party, his successor has the same power of disposing of the application as the Judge himself would have had. This was the view which was taken of the old law in No. 97 P. R. 1885.

BOOK CIRCULAR No. X--2768.

FROM

R. L. HARRIS, ESQUIRE,

Registrar, Chief Court, Punjab,

To

ALL CIVIL COURTS IN THE PUNJAB.

Dated Lahore, 7th July 1888.

IN Part I (d) of Judicial Circular I. of the volume of Judicial Circulars special attention is called to the requirements of the Civil Procedure Code (Sections 138 et seq.) regarding the production and admission in evidence of documents. It is pointed out that these requirements are too often disregarded, and all Subordinate Courts are enjoined to be particularly careful that they are strictly complied with in future.

2. The Judges have, however, regretted to observe, in many if not in most of the records of the Lower Courts which have come before them on appeal, that their instructions have been but little attended to; it is often impossible to say what papers on the file constitute the true record; copies of extracts from public or private records or accounts, referred to in the judgment as admitted in evidence, are generally incomplete, and sometimes altogether absent; and it is seldom that it can be ascertained from the record whether the plea so constantly urged with regard to the late production of a document, that the party had it with him at the first hearing, but was not called on to produce it, is true or not. As Act VII of 1888, amending the present Code, which came into force on 1st July 1888, contains still more clear and strict directions regarding the admission of documents in evidence, the Judges take this opportunity of calling attention to their former remarks on this subject and to the requirements of the law as it will stand in future.

3. There is no change in Sections 138, 139, 140 of the Code, and it is sufficient on this point to call attention to the former orders of this Court contained in paragraphs 42 and 43 of the Circular quoted above. These make it incumbent on the Court to satisfy itself at the first hearing that each party has furnished a list in the prescribed form of all the documents which he has brought with him and which he intends to tender in evidence. The Court should formally call on the parties to thus produce their documents and lists, and make a note on the record that it has done so, and that the parties in reply produced the documents entered in a certain list, or stated distinctly that they had nothing to produce. The list so furnished should be compared at the time with the documents thus brought, which should be numbered in accordance with the list, and be "received" by the Court, that is, retained in safe custody until they are formally tendered in evidence, and either admitted or returned as rejected. A strong cover should be prepared for all "documents admitted on behalf of plaintiff," and a similar one for the defendant, and if necessary a third cover should be prepared for documents called for and admitted by the Court itself. All documents admitted in evidence should be placed in one or other of these covers and a list of the contents of each cover made on its outside. Documents rejected will be returned to the parties with the prescribed endorsement, a note being made of the rejection on the original list. These directions apply equally to documents allowed by the Court for special reasons to be produced in evidence at a subsequent stage of the proceedings.

4. The amended Sections 141, 141 A., 142, 142 A. make no change in the principles of the present rules, but, as already remarked, they render them much more precise and strict.

Section 141 gives in detail the particulars to be endorsed on every document admitted in evidence, whether an original document or a copy.

Section 141 A. provides for the substitution of copies for originals in the case (1) of shop books or accounts in current use, (2) of public records, and it gives precise instructions for the proving of these copies and their comparison with the original. The Judges would call special attention to these instructions. It has frequently been found, in records which have come before this Court on appeal, that although the Wájib-ul-arz or Riwáj-i-am is referred to by the parties, and by the Court itself as affording most important evidence, there is no proper copy with the record of the entries relied on. Not only has there been no formal proof of such copy, but often, when there is any copy at all, it is incomplete, or so carelessly written as to be unintelligible. It becomes necessary to call for the originals, thus causing damage to the records themselves, and delay and inconvenience to the parties to the suit. The Judges trust that in future there may be no more ground for complaint on this point. They would also impress on Lower Appellate Courts the duty of seeing that the Courts subordinate to them duly carry out these instructions. Instances of neglect should be always noticed by the Appellate Courts, and, if persisted in, reported to this Court.

Section 142 provides that documents not admitted in evidence shall be endorsed with the same particulars as those admitted.

Section 142 A. directs that documents not admitted be returned after endorsement as above to the parties tendering them, and that the record as far as documents are concerned shall consequently consist only of those which have been formally admitted in evidence under the above rules. It is the duty of the Court before proceeding to judgment under Section 198, Civil Procedure Code, to finally revise the record which is to form the basis of its judgment and to see that it contains all that has been formally admitted in evidence and nothing else, and any papers still found with the file which have not been admitted in evidence should be returned to the parties. At present the files of a case are frequently found to contain papers (especially maps or plans) which have been neither admitted in evidence nor rejected in evidence. It is in fact a most common thing to find a plan filed by a plaintiff which the defendant does not admit to be correct and which the plaintiff does not attempt to prove confronted by another plan similarly put in by defendant, whilst the Court in its judgment seems to rely on a plan prepared by a local Commissioner, which may very probably be correct, but which has not been admitted by the parties, and which has never been formally proved.

5. This Circular so far deals only with the admission of documents in evidence. But it is frequently urged in appeals to this Court that a party has had witnesses in attendance whom the Lower Court has omitted to examine. It is impossible to ascertain from the record whether this is the case, and it would be equally impossible to ascertain it by a remand. The Judges therefore direct, as they have already directed in criminal cases, that as regards both plaintiffs and defendants, when the examination is closed of the last witness produced in Court by either party, he shall be distinctly asked if he has any more witnesses to produce, that the question and reply should be noted on the record, and that if more witnesses are named the Court should either examine them or record its reasons for not doing so. If either party states that he desires additional witnesses to be summoned, the Court should record the fact of the application and pass an order upon it.

RESOLUTION.

FROM the replies to Home Department Circular of the 14th October 1887 it appears that there are no uniform executive orders on the subject of the pecuniary relations of Government officers with persons who are subject to their authority, and as the Regulation VII of 1823 applies only to Covenanted Civil Servants and only to such officers when serving in certain portions of the Bengal Presidency, the Governor-General in Council considers it desirable that definite instructions should now issue with the object of making the liability in this matter of all officers holding civil appointments the same throughout India. The Governor-General in Council is accordingly pleased to direct that the following rules shall be strictly observed in future :—

1. All Covenanted Civil Servants, Statutory Civilians, Uncovenanted Officers who hold gazetted appointments and Military Officers in civil employ are prohibited under pain of dismissal from taking loans from, or otherwise placing themselves under pecuniary obligations to persons subject to the official authority or influence of such Government officers, or residing, possessing property or carrying on business within the local limits for which such Government officers are appointed.

2. This prohibition does not extend to transactions in the ordinary course of business with Joint Stock Banks and British firms.

APPEAL ON BEHALF OF THE BUILDING FUND OF THE AITCHISON (CHIEFS) COLLEGE, LAHORE.

IN making an appeal to the further liberality of the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on behalf of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, the Council of the College do not think it necessary to refer to the history and objects of the Foundation otherwise than very briefly.

2. These were fully explained by the first Patron and President of the Council, Sir Charles Aitchison, K. C. S. I., in his address at the laying of the foundation-stone of the College by His Excellency the Viceroy of India on the 3rd November 1886, as follows :—

"As long ago as 1864 Captain Tighe, then Deputy Commissioner of Umballa, impressed with the extreme importance of giving a good education to the young Sardárs of his district who were committed to his charge as Wards of Court, proposed the establishment of a superior school under the superintendence of an English gentleman. This proposal was warmly supported by Colonel Lake, then Financial Commissioner, and by Sir Donald McLeod, the Lieutenant-Governor, and resulted in the establishment of the Wards' School at Umballa. Captain Tighe's original proposal was that the Wards should be placed in a single building, two rooms being allotted to each, and that the institution should be under the control of a Committee of Sikh Chiefs. Now, more than 20 years later, the wisdom of this suggestion has been confirmed by a long course of experience, by the successful establishment of schools upon this basis in other parts of India, and by the unanimous opinion, Native and official, of those who have assisted me in framing the Statutes of the Punjab Chiefs' College. But in 1864 the times were not ripe for a measure of the kind. It was considered impossible for Government to undertake the whole responsibility for the management of the Wards, and accordingly the Wards' School assumed the character of a day school, the boys being lodged with their relatives and attending the school during the day for instruction. Subsequently, from the income of the several Wards' estates, detached buildings were constructed round the residence of the Superintendent, and there the students lived as home boarders, their domestic arrangements being organized without regard to any particular system of discipline, according to the means and proclivities of the different families. The school was made in fact as much like home as could be, and in many cases the mothers of the boys came with their sons to dwell in the school compound and watch over them. After a few years confidence was established and all the mothers returned to their homes. But the disposition of the buildings and the internal economy of the institution have always been obstacles in the way of enforcing discipline and encouraging manly bearing and a public school spirit among students. Nor was the educational progress of the students under these circumstances all that could be desired. The annual inspection of the officers of the Education Department showed that the standard of attainments was by no means equal to that of the Government Schools and Colleges. The institution was in fact neither so popular nor so useful as to justify its continuance on the established basis.

"In 1874 Sir Henry Davies made an effort to extend the scope of the Umballa Wards' School so that it might be made available for the education of all Government Wards in the six lower Divisions of the Punjab and of the sons of jágírdárs and Native gentlemen of position. In the course of the discussion which followed upon this suggestion, proposals were made for establishing a school at Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District. But it was finally decided that efforts should be concentrated on the existing institution at Umballa, the efficiency and scope of which was to be enlarged as funds should become available. For many years, however, the difficulty of funds—a difficulty which unfortunately is too familiar in the annals of Punjab administration—was an obstacle to all progress. The suggestions of the Local Government on the one hand and of the Director of Public Instruction and of the Umballa authorities on the other were alike consigned to the record-room under this potent influence. At last in May 1882 a vigorous effort was made to place the institution on a permanent and satisfactory footing. Influential Native gentlemen were consulted on a proposal to accommodate the students under one roof, to allot definite accommodation and a definite number of attendants to each, to require the pupils to pass the examinations prescribed by the Education Department, and to transfer the institution to Lahore, where unusual advantages can be secured, educational, social and sanitary. I desire to acknowledge gratefully the suggestions made by these gentlemen, upon which to a very large extent the present scheme has been based. The College has for the present been opened in hired houses till the permanent buildings can be erected, and the youths present to-day have become its first students. The Principal or Head of the teaching staff is Mr. Robinson, who has for fifteen years been Head of the Wards" School at Umballa.

"It is to the princely liberality of the Chiefs and Native gentlemen who are present on this occasion that the Punjab is indebted for the completion of a project the need of which has long been felt in the Province. As soon as the lines were settled upon which the institution was to be constructed, an appeal was made to the Chiefs and gentlemen of the Province to promote, both by subscriptions and by the exercise of their personal influence, a scheme in which the interests of the aristocracy of the Punjab were so closely concerned. The response to that appeal has been most cordial and encouraging. The private subscriptions to the Building Fund of the Punjab Chiefs' College have reached up to date the sum of Rs. 1,77,953-12-0, and the Local Government has contributed a like amount, while the Imperial Government has assisted with a contribution of Rs. 15,000 which I desire on this occasion gratefully to acknowledge. In connection with the ceremonial of to-day I have only one regret—that the youthful Mahárája of Patiála, the largest subscriber, should have been prevented by illness from witnessing the commencement under such favourable auspices of the institution to which he has contributed the princely sum of half a lakh of rupees.

"After the fullest consideration and discussion, in which many of the Ruling Chiefs of the Punjab and Native gentlemen of position have materially assisted, the constitution of the Punjab Chiefs' College has been definitely settled, and Statutes have been framed in accordance with the conclusions generally approved by the Committee of Chiefs and gentlemen who have been taken into counsel. Those delicate and difficult questions which invariably arise when attempt is made to combine with the habits of Eastern life the advantages of Western culture have been worked out with an amount of care and detail which I wish specially to acknowledge on the present occasion. If the interest which has been shown by the Punjab Chiefs and Nobles in this undertaking is maintained without diminution in the future, I feel that I may confidently predict for the College a large amount of success, and that it will become a strength to the Government and a centre of good influence on the administration of the Province."

3. Sir Charles Aitchison added the following weighty observations regarding the work for which the College has been created:—

"In the Punjab, with its large number of Ruling Chiefs and extensive Native aristocracy, the education of the Native nobility is in every way as important as in any part of India. Within the last decade the Rulers of seven of the principal Native States in the Punjab have been minors. There is no Province of India where the relations between the people and the aristocracy are so close or where the "downward filtration" theory of education has a better chance of success. But here, as elsewhere in India, the Native aristocracy has hitherto participated but little in the benefits of our system of education. Here, as elsewhere, the inducements have been insufficient, the hindrances great, and the opportunities defective. From the middle and lower ranks of Native society is rising up year by year an ever-increasing number of candidates for honors in our academical institutions and for positions of responsibility under the Government; while those who are the hereditary leaders of the people are being elbowed out of the positions which they are naturally expected by their fellow-countrymen to occupy, but for which under the altered circumstances of the times they have in most cases as yet failed to qualify themselves. As stone is placed upon stone in the visible structure of this edifice, and tier upon tier rises from the level plain, let it be our earnest hope that there may rise a still fairer edifice in which the aristocracy of the Punjab shall be the polished corner stones, bright examples to their fellow-countrymen of true manliness, of the highest culture and the gentlest manners that the times can boast."

4. His Excellency the Viceroy, the Right Honorable the Earl of Dufferin, was also pleased to make the following remarks with reference to the College and its work in the Punjab:—

"I have already had an opportunity last year at the opening of the Mayo College of stating the grounds upon which institutions of this description command my warmest and my sincerest sympathy, and I am quite certain that in no part of India will a college for the young nobility of the land be surer to meet with greater success or to command a more extensive sympathy than in this Province. For nowhere else in India are there to be found historical houses of a more illustrious antiquity, or a nobility that from age to age has been inspired by nobler aspirations or by traditions of a purer honour or of a more courageous or lofty bearing; and what is better still, in no part of India, I believe, have they been more closely or more harmoniously united with the populations amongst which they are established. But, as I have already said on the occasion to which I have referred, in these practical days of ours, when education is so largely diffused and when competition is so keen, nobility of birth, high descent, wealth and other adventitious circumstances cannot meet with their due recognition, or exercise the influence to which, under other circumstances, they might be entitled, unless they are re-enforced by intellectual acquirements and by proper mental cultivation. It is only under these circumstances that an aristocracy is either entitled to or is able to lead the community and to take its place upon a level of moral and material advantage. But when the ancient families of a country, to the natural advantages which they have inherited, add those mental acquirements to which I have referred, then, indeed, do they become the real guides and rulers of the people, and acquire a power for good and an authority and influence which even in these democratic days every one must acknowledge is beneficial to the community at large. The people must have leaders along the path of moral and material advancement, and where can they be better found, or from whence can they be more conveniently drawn, than from amongst those great and illustrious families whose deeds in former generations have made the history of their province famous, and whose descendants I trust are bound, both by the material as well as by the moral pledges which they have given, to show a bright example of devotion to the public service."

5. The subscriptions received from the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab up to 3rd November 1886 amounted to Rs. 1,78,000. Since then a further sum of nearly Rs. 17,000 has been received, raising the total amount to 1,94,800 rupees. With the Punjab Government grant of Rs. 1,92,120 the Supreme Government grant of Rs. 15,000, and interest amounting up to date to about Rs. 19,000, the total sum available for the buildings of the College is about Rs. 4,21,000. A list of the donors is appended to the present appeal. Scholarships to the number of 28, with an endowment of Rs. 7,500 each, have also been founded since then,—one by Sir Charles Aitchison, one by the Punjab Government from the surplus income in hand on closing the late Wards School at Umballa, and the rest by the Local Bodies of the Province.

At various meetings of the Council held in 1886 and 1887 it was decided to put in hand the following College buildings and to incur the following expenditure of Rs. 3,74,200 in connection with them :—

				Rs.
Central building, exclusive of the Library wing...			...	1,58,000
Two boarding-houses ...	...	...	..	1,22,000
Six ranges of cook-houses	...	...	...	16,000
Four ranges of servants' houses	...	...	...	15,000
Two sets of stables ...	...	...	...	6,200
Two ranges of College servants' houses		...	...	3,000
Four latrines ...	...	...	...	1,300
Governor's house and servants' quarters, &c.		...	...	26,000
Water-supply ...	...	...	...	9,500
Laying out of grounds, &c.	...	...	...	11,000
Dispensary ...	...	...	...	6,200
	Total	...	...	3,74,200

Miscellaneous expenditure, including the rewards paid for the designs of the College, has amounted to Rs. 5,000, and charges of Rs. 10,000 have been incurred in connection with the payment of octroi on the materials imported for the College buildings and royalty for the use of Bull's Patent Brick-kiln. The total expenditure sanctioned and incurred is therefore Rs. 3,89,000, leaving a balance at the credit of the Committee of Rs. 32,000.

6. The two boarding-houses sanctioned in the above estimate will accommodate only 32 students, or, with some possible modifications, perhaps three or four students more. Each student in these buildings will have one large room 18′ × 16′ and two smaller rooms (each 8′ × 8′) attached to it. He will also have further accommodation for his servants as required by the Statutes. Such accommodation is no doubt desirable for the relations of Ruling Chiefs and the sons of wealthy families of high rank who are well able to pay the full College fees. But in the case of the scholarship-holders, who will be accustomed to less luxurious surroundings in their own homes, it does not seem necessary to provide the same amount or class of accommodation, and the same considerations apply also to students other than scholarship-holders for whom less than the full fees are paid. The number of scholarships founded, viz., 28, has led to a satisfactory, but somewhat unexpected, increase in the students of the College, who now number 46, of whom 16 are scholarship-holders. It is expected that the students will number 60 after the summer vacation. The Council of the College has accordingly decided after two meetings that for these classes a third boarding-house shall be constructed similar to the others in general outward appearance, but so arranged internally as to provide quarters for a much larger number of students. A design has been prepared by the Department Public Works, to whom the construction of the College buildings is entrusted, by which 44 students will be accommodated in a single building of the same dimensions as the two boarding-houses already under construction, and this design has been approved by the Council. The accommodation of so many students is effected by dividing each half of the building into three long rooms, instead of dividing it into separate quarters as in the two boarding-houses at present sanctioned. The first of these long rooms will contain 10 students, the next 8, and the third, which is situated at the front end of the wing of the building, 4. These rooms will be divided by wooden partitions 7½ feet high into 10, 8 and 4 cubicles. The entrance to each cubicle will be by a door from the verandah running round the front of the building, as in the case of the separate quarters in the other boarding-houses, and a bath-room will be attached to each cubicle and will be entered from it. The cubicle itself will be 9 feet 4 inches by 16 feet in size, and the bath-room 6 feet by 8 feet. The height of the rooms will be the same as in the other two boarding-houses. Above the cubicle partition walls will run a gallery on iron brackets, which will communicate with the quarters of the Musáhib of the building who will thus be able at all times to exercise effective control over the conduct of the students in their cubicles. Four blocks of kitchens and servants' rooms, and one block of servants' quarters, will also be required for the new boarding-house. The cost of this building is estimated to be Rs. 65,000, and the cost of the servants' houses and cook-rooms attached to it will be Rs. 19,000, or Rs. 84,000 in all. In addition to this expenditure the Council have decided that it is most desirable to construct a house for the Principal of the College at a cost of Rs. 16,500 as soon as possible, in order that he may be always on the spot for purposes of discipline and control. The total additional expenditure which the Council considers necessary for the present to place the College on a proper footing with regard to the objects of its foundation is therefore Rs. 1,00,000. Of this sum only Rs. 32,000 are at present available for building purposes, leaving Rs. 68,000 to be made up. Of this sum the Punjab Government has agreed to contribute one-third or Rs. 22,666 provided the remaining two-thirds, viz., Rs. 45,334, are raised by private subscription.

7. It was accordingly decided at a meeting of the Council held at Government House, Lahore, on 11th May last, and at which the members whose names are noted in the margin were present, that an appeal should be made by the Council to the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab for further assistance towards the completion of the Aitchison College, and by permission of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, who has himself agreed to subscribe the sum of Rs. 1,000, this appeal is circulated accordingly. It was originally proposed that only one-half of the new boarding-house should be built, but the encouraging replies given by the representatives of the Punjab Chiefs at the meeting of 11th May induced the Council to decide to undertake the whole building at once in the belief that the additional support now sought would be forthcoming. The Council are anxious to see the third boarding-house completed now, not only because of the rapidly increasing number of students, but also because it will cost considerably more to build the second half of it some years hence after the manufactory and workshops at present established for the building of the College have been removed. The Council feels that in view of the generosity shown by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on the occasion of the first appeal made in 1885, and of the liberality since displayed by Local Bodies in founding scholarships, that it will not appeal in vain for the further sum of Rs. 45,500 now needed, and that the aid required will be forthcoming to complete the work originated by Sir Charles Aitchison, and so heartily supported by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab. Subscriptions may be forwarded to the Secretary to the Punjab Government or to the Governor of the Aitchison (Chiefs') College, or may be paid to the credit of the Building Fund of the College with the Bank of Bengal, Lahore. Any sum which may be received in excess of Rs. 45,500 will be credited to the General Building Fund, and will be devoted hereafter to the completion of the library wing of the main building of the College, which will cost Rs. 60,000 and which has been allowed to stand over for the present. A list of the subscriptions received will be published weekly in the Punjab Government Gazette.

By order of the President and Council,

The 19*th July* 1888.

Secretary to the Council.

APPEAL ON BEHALF OF THE BUILDING FUND OF THE AITCHISON (CHIEFS) COLLEGE, LAHORE.

IN making an appeal to the further liberality of the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on behalf of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, the Council of the College do not think it necessary to refer to the history and objects of the Foundation otherwise than very briefly.

2. These were fully explained by the first Patron and President of the Council, Sir Charles Aitchison, K. C. S. I., in his address at the laying of the foundation-stone of the College by His Excellency the Viceroy of India on the 3rd November 1886, as follows :—

"As long ago as 1864 Captain Tighe, then Deputy Commissioner of Umballa, impressed with the extreme importance of giving a good education to the young Sardárs of his district who were committed to his charge as Wards of Court, proposed the establishment of a superior school under the superintendence of an English gentleman. This proposal was warmly supported by Colonel Lake, then Financial Commissioner, and by Sir Donald McLeod, the Lieutenant-Governor, and resulted in the establishment of the Wards' School at Umballa. Captain Tighe's original proposal was that the Wards should be placed in a single building, two rooms being allotted to each, and that the institution should be under the control of a Committee of Sikh Chiefs. Now, more than 20 years later, the wisdom of this suggestion has been confirmed by a long course of experience, by the successful establishment of schools upon this basis in other parts of India, and by the unanimous opinion, Native and official, of those who have assisted me in framing the Statutes of the Punjab Chiefs' College. But in 1864 the times were not ripe for a measure of the kind. It was considered impossible for Government to undertake the whole responsibility for the management of the Wards, and accordingly the Wards' School assumed the character of a day school, the boys being lodged with their relatives and attending the school during the day for instruction. Subsequently, from the income of the several Wards' estates, detached buildings were constructed round the residence of the Superintendent, and there the students lived as home boarders, their domestic arrangements being organized, without regard to any particular system of discipline, according to the means and proclivities of the different families. The school was made in fact as much like home as could be, and in many cases the mothers of the boys came with their sons to dwell in the school compound and watch over them. After a few years confidence was established and all the mothers returned to their homes. But the disposition of the buildings and the internal economy of the institution have always been obstacles in the way of enforcing discipline and encouraging manly bearing and a public school spirit among students. Nor was the educational progress of the students under these circumstances all that could be desired. The annual inspection of the officers of the Education Department showed that the standard of attainments was by no means equal to that of the Government Schools and Colleges. The institution was in fact neither so popular nor so useful as to justify its continuance on the established basis.

"In 1874 Sir Henry Davies made an effort to extend the scope of the Umballa Wards' School so that it might be made available for the education of all Government Wards in the six lower Divisions of the Punjab and of the sons of jágírdárs and Native gentlemen of position. In the course of the discussion which followed upon this suggestion, proposals were made for establishing a school at Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District. But it was finally decided that efforts should be concentrated on the existing institution at Umballa, the efficiency and scope of which was to be enlarged as funds should become available. For many years, however, the difficulty of funds—a difficulty which unfortunately is too familiar in the annals of Punjab administration—was an obstacle to all progress. The suggestions of the Local Government on the one hand and of the Director of Public Instruction and of the Umballa authorities on the other were alike consigned to the record-room under this potent influence. At last in May 1882 a vigorous effort was made to place the institution on a permanent and satisfactory footing. Influential Native gentlemen were consulted on a proposal to accommodate the students under one roof, to allot definite accommodation and a definite number of attendants to each, to require the pupils to pass the examinations prescribed by the Education Department, and to transfer the institution to Lahore, where unusual advantages can be secured, educational, social and sanitary. I desire to acknowledge gratefully the suggestions made by these gentlemen, upon which to a very large extent the present scheme has been based. The College has for the present been opened in hired houses till the permanent buildings can be erected, and the youths present to-day have become its first students. The Principal or Head of the teaching staff is Mr. Robinson, who has for fifteen years been Head of the Wards' School at Umballa.

"It is to the princely liberality of the Chiefs and Native gentlemen who are present on this occasion that the Punjab is indebted for the completion of a project the need of which has long been felt in the Province. As soon as the lines were settled upon which the institution was to be constructed, an appeal was made to the Chiefs and gentlemen of the Province to promote, both by subscriptions and by the exercise of their personal influence, a scheme in which the interests of the aristocracy of the Punjab were so closely concerned. The response to that appeal has been most cordial and encouraging. The private subscriptions to the Building Fund of the Punjab Chiefs' College have reached up to date the sum of Rs. 1,77,953-12-0, and the Local Government has contributed a like amount, while the Imperial Government has assisted with a contribution of Rs. 15,000 which I desire on this occasion gratefully to acknowledge. In connection with the ceremonial of to-day I have only one regret—that the youthful Mahárája of Patiála, the largest subscriber, should have been prevented by illness from witnessing the commencement under such favourable auspices of the institution to which he has contributed the princely sum of half a lakh of rupees.

"After the fullest consideration and discussion, in which many of the Ruling Chiefs of the Punjab and Native gentlemen of position have materially assisted, the constitution of the Punjab Chiefs' College has been definitely settled, and Statutes have been framed in accordance with the conclusions generally approved by the Committee of Chiefs and gentlemen who have been taken into counsel. Those delicate and difficult questions which invariably arise when attempt is made to combine with the habits of Eastern life the advantages of Western culture have been worked out with an amount of care and detail which I wish specially to acknowledge on the present occasion. If the interest which has been shown by the Punjab Chiefs and Nobles in this undertaking is maintained without diminution in the future, I feel that I may confidently predict for the College a large amount of success, and that it will become a strength to the Government and a centre of good influence on the administration of the Province."

3. Sir Charles Aitchison added the following weighty observations regarding the work for which the College has been created :—

"In the Punjab, with its large number of Ruling Chiefs and extensive Native aristocracy, the education of the Native nobility is in every way as important as in any part of India. Within the last decade the Rulers of seven of the principal Native States in the Punjab have been minors. There is no Province of India where the relations between the people and the aristocracy are so close or where the "downward filtration" theory of education has a better chance of success. But here, as elsewhere in India, the Native aristocracy has hitherto participated but little in the benefits of our system of education. Here, as elsewhere, the inducements have been insufficient, the hindrances great, and the opportunities defective. From the middle and lower ranks of Native society is rising up year by year an ever-increasing number of candidates for honors in our academical institutions and for positions of responsibility under the Government; while those who are the hereditary leaders of the people are being elbowed out of the positions which they are naturally expected by their fellow-countrymen to occupy, but for which under the altered circumstances of the times they have in most cases as yet failed to qualify themselves. As stone is placed upon stone in the visible structure of this edifice, and tier upon tier rises from the level plain, let it be our earnest hope that there may rise a still fairer edifice in which the aristocracy of the Punjab shall be the polished corner stones, bright examples to their fellow-countrymen of true manliness, of the highest culture and the gentlest manners that the times can boast."

4. His Excellency the Viceroy, the Right Honorable the Earl of Dufferin, was also pleased to make the following remarks with reference to the College and its work in the Punjab :—

"I have already had an opportunity last year at the opening of the Mayo College of stating the grounds upon which institutions of this description command my warmest and my sincerest sympathy, and I am quite certain that in no part of India will a college for the young nobility of the land be surer to meet with greater success or to command a more extensive sympathy than in this Province. For nowhere else in India are there to be found historical houses of a more illustrious antiquity, or a nobility that from age to age has been inspired by nobler aspirations or by traditions of a purer honour or of a more courageous or lofty bearing; and what is better still, in no part of India, I believe, have they been more closely or more harmoniously united with the populations amongst which they are established. But, as I have already said on the occasion to which I have referred, in these practical days of ours, when education is so largely diffused and when competition is so keen, nobility of birth, high descent, wealth and other adventitious circumstances cannot meet with their due recognition, or exercise the influence to which, under other circumstances, they might be entitled, unless they are re-enforced by intellectual acquirements and by proper mental cultivation. It is only under these circumstances that an aristocracy is either entitled to or is able to lead the community and to take its place upon a level of moral and material advantage. But when the ancient families of a country, to the natural advantages which they have inherited, add those mental acquirements to which I have referred, then, indeed, do they become the real guides and rulers of the people, and acquire a power for good and an authority and influence which even in these democratic days every one must acknowledge is beneficial to the community at large. The people must have leaders along the path of moral and material advancement, and where can they be better found, or from whence can they be more conveniently drawn, than from amongst those great and illustrious families whose deeds in former generations have made the history of their Province famous, and whose descendants I trust are bound, both by the material as well as by the moral pledges which they have given, to show a bright example of devotion to the public service."

5. The subscriptions received from the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab up to 3rd November 1886 amounted to Rs. 1,78,000. Since then a further sum of nearly Rs. 17,000 has been received, raising the total amount to 1,94,800 rupees. With the Punjab Government grant of Rs. 1,92,120, the Supreme Government grant of Rs. 15,000, and interest amounting up to date to about Rs. 19,000, the total sum available for the buildings of the College is about Rs. 4,21,000. A list of the donors is appended to the present appeal. Scholarships to the number of 28, with an endowment of Rs. 7,500 each, have also been founded since then,—one by Sir Charles Aitchison, one by the Punjab Government from the surplus income in hand on closing the late Wards' School at Umballa, and the rest by the Local Bodies of the Province.

At various meetings of the Council held in 1886 and 1887 it was decided to put in hand the following College buildings and to incur the following expenditure of Rs. 3,74,200 in connection with them :—

	Rs.
Central building, exclusive of the Library wing... ...	1,58,000
Two boarding-houses	1,22,000
Six ranges of cook-houses	16,000
Four ranges of servants' houses	15,000
Two sets of stables	6,200
Two ranges of College servants' houses	3,000
Four latrines	1,300
Governor's house and servants' quarters, &c.	26,000
Water-supply	9,500
Laying out of grounds, &c.	11,000
Dispensary	6,200
Total	3,74,200

Miscellaneous expenditure, including the rewards paid for the designs of the College, has amounted to Rs. 5,000, and charges of Rs. 10,000 have been incurred in connection with the payment of octroi on the materials imported for the College buildings and royalty for the use of Bull's Patent Brick kiln. The total expenditure sanctioned and incurred is therefore Rs. 3,89,000, leaving a balance at the credit of the Committee of Rs. 32,000.

6. The two boarding-houses sanctioned in the above estimate will accommodate only 32 students, or, with some possible modifications, perhaps three or four students more. Each student in these buildings will have one large room 18′ × 16′ and two smaller rooms (each 8′ × 8′) attached to it. He will also have further accommodation for his servants as required by the Statutes. Such accommodation is no doubt desirable for the relations of Ruling Chiefs and the sons of wealthy families of high rank who are well able to pay the full College fees. But in the case of the scholarship-holders, who will be accustomed to less luxurious surroundings in their own homes, it does not seem necessary to provide the same amount or class of accommodation, and the same considerations apply also to students other than scholarship-holders for whom less than the full fees are paid. The number of scholarships founded, viz., 28, has led to a satisfactory, but somewhat unexpected, increase in the students of the College, who now number 46, of whom 16 are scholarship-holders. It is expected that the students will number 60 after the summer vacation. The Council of the College has accordingly decided after two meetings that for these classes a third boarding-house shall be constructed similar to the others in general outward appearance, but so arranged internally as to provide quarters for a much larger number of students. A design has been prepared by the Department Public Works, to whom the construction of the College buildings is entrusted, by which 44 students will be accommodated in a single building of the same dimensions as the two boarding-houses already under construction, and this design has been approved by the Council. The accommodation of so many students is effected by dividing each half of the building into three long rooms, instead of dividing it into separate quarters as in the two boarding-houses at present sanctioned. The first of these long rooms will contain 10 students, the next 8, and the third, which is situated at the front end of the wing of the building, 4. These rooms will be divided by wooden partitions 7½ feet high into 10, 8 and 4 cubicles. The entrance to each cubicle will be by a door from the verandah running round the front of the building, as in the case of the separate quarters in the other boarding-houses, and a bath-room will be attached to each cubicle and will be entered from it. The cubicle itself will be 9 feet 4 inches by 16 feet in size, and the bath-room 6 feet by 8 feet. The height of the rooms will be the same as in the other two boarding-houses. Above the cubicle partition walls will run a gallery on iron brackets, which will communicate with the quarters of the Musáhib of the building who will thus be able at all times to exercise effective control over the conduct of the students in their cubicles. Four blocks of kitchens and servants' rooms, and one block of servants' quarters, will also be required for the new boarding-house. The cost of this building is estimated to be Rs. 65,000, and the cost of the servants' houses and cook-rooms attached to it will be Rs 19,000, or Rs. 84,000 in all. In addition to this expenditure the Council have decided that it is most desirable to construct a house for the Principal of the College at a cost of Rs. 16,500 as soon as possible, in order that he may be always on the spot for purposes of discipline and control. The total additional expenditure which the Council considers necessary for the present to place the College on a proper footing with regard to the objects of its foundation is therefore Rs. 1,00,000. Of this sum only Rs. 32,000 are at present available for building purposes, leaving Rs. 68,000 to be made up Of this sum the Punjab Government has agreed to contribute one-third or Rs. 22,666 provided the remaining two-thirds, viz., Rs. 45,334, are raised by private subscription.

7. It was accordingly decided at a meeting of the Council held at Government House, Lahore, on 11th May last, and at which the members whose names are noted in the margin were present, that an appeal should be made by the Council to the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab for further assistance towards the completion of the Aitchison College, and by permission of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, who has himself agreed to subscribe the sum of Rs. 1,000, this appeal is circulated accordingly. It was originally proposed that only one-half of the new boarding-house should be built, but the encouraging replies given by the representatives of the Punjab Chiefs at the meeting of 11th May induced the Council to decide to undertake the whole building at once in the belief that the additional support now sought would be forthcoming. The Council are anxious to see the third boarding-house completed now, not only because of the rapidly increasing number of students, but also because it will cost considerably more to build the second half of it some years hence after the manufactory and workshops at present established for the building of the College have been removed. The Council feels that in view of the generosity shown by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on the occasion of the first appeal made in 1885, and of the liberality since displayed by Local Bodies in founding scholarships, that it will not appeal in vain for the further sum of Rs. 45,500 now needed, and that the aid required will be forthcoming to complete the work originated by Sir Charles Aitchison and so heartily supported by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab. Subscriptions may be forwarded to the Secretary to the Punjab Government or to the Governor of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, or may be paid to the credit of the Building Fund of the College with the Bank of Bengal, Lahore. Any sum which may be received in excess of Rs. 45,500 will be credited to the General Building Fund, and will be devoted hereafter to the completion of the library wing of the main building of the College, which will cost Rs. 60,000 and which has been allowed to stand over for the present. A list of the subscriptions received will be published weekly in the Punjab Government Gazette.

II.—The land will be sold in full proprietary right, but subject—

(a) to the exception and reservation to Government, its successors and assigns, of all mines, minerals, coals, gold-washings and quarries in or under the said land, and full right at all times to enter upon any part of the said land and to do all acts and things that may be necessary or expedient for the purpose of searching for, working, getting and carrying away any mines, minerals, coals, gold-washings, or quarries in or under the said land, without leaving any vertical or lateral support for the surface thereof, or any building for the time being standing thereon (the Government, its successors, and assigns, making reasonable compensation to the grantee, his heirs, executors, administrators and assigns and his or their lessees or tenants, for all damage occasioned by the exercise of the rights hereby reserved) ;

(b) to the payment of the land-revenue demand for the time being assessed thereon, and of all general taxes and local taxes or cesses to which revenue-paying lands are liable.

In case of any dispute arising between the purchaser and the Government as to the property and rights hereby reserved or any matter incidental or in any way relating thereto, or as to any compensation payable under clause (a), the decision thereon in each case of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab shall be considered final and binding on both parties. The sale is also subject to the limitation next following.

III.—The purchaser shall not alienate any portion of the lot sold before he shall have received the deed of conveyance hereinafter mentioned.

IV.—The land will be put up in one lot, and the biddings shall commence at an upset price of Rs. 4 per acre. No purchaser shall advance at each bidding less than Re. 1 per acre, and no bidding shall be retracted, and the highest bidder above the upset price shall be the purchaser. In case of dispute between two equal bidders, the lot shall be put up again at the last preceding bidding.

V.—The purchaser shall immediately after the sale pay into the hands of the Deputy Commissioner, or whoever acts as auctioneer, the costs of survey and demarcation if not already paid by him, and a deposit in part payment of the purchase-money of not less than Re. 1 per acre of the lot, as estimated in the foregoing particulars, and sign an agreement in the Form B hereto annexed upon stamp paper to be provided at his expense.

VI.—In default of such payment, or in the event of refusal to sign such agreement, the lot may be put up again and re-sold. In the event of the foregoing conditions being fulfilled, the purchase shall receive an attested copy of the said agreement upon stamp paper to be provided at his expense.

VII.—The purchaser, if he shall so require, will be supplied with a map of the land sold, to be prepared at his expense, upon his depositing the sum estimated by the Deputy Commissioner to be sufficient for the purpose.

VIII.—Upon the expiration of one month from the date of sale, simple interest at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum shall be charged upon the balance of the purchase-money for the time being remaining unpaid.

IX.—Within three months from the date of sale the purchaser shall, without demand, pay a sum which, together with the amount paid at the date of sale, shall amount to not less than one-half of the purchase-money, and shall also pay the interest, if any, due at the date of such payment. The payment within the period specified of such amount, and of the interest due, if any, shall be deemed to be of the essence of the contract for sale.

X.—If the purchaser shall duly make such payment, he will thereupon be placed in possession of the land sold by an officer appointed in that behalf by the Deputy Commissioner, and shall furnish to such officer a written acknowledgment of receipt of possession.

XI.—If the purchaser shall make default in such payment the Deputy Commissioner may rescind the contract, and the deposit shall be forfeited to the Government.

The delivery of such deed within the period specified shall not be deemed of the essence of the contract for sale, and the purchaser shall not, in default of such delivery, be entitled to rescind the contract.

XIII.—Provided that, if the whole of the purchase-money shall not have been paid previous to the delivery to the purchaser by the Deputy Commissioner of the deed of conveyance above-mentioned, the purchaser shall execute, when tendered, a mortgage deed to secure payment within five years of the unpaid balance, with interest thereon ; such deed to be attached to the deed of conveyance in Form D annexed to Punjab Government Gazette Notification No. 760, dated the 3rd November 1885, or to the same effect. The deed of conveyance and the deed of mortgage shall both be registered, and the latter stamped at the purchaser's expense, and shall remain in the possession of the Local Government until the whole of the purchase-money, with the interest due thereon, shall have been paid, when the conveyance shall be made over to the purchaser, or his heirs or assigns, the mortgage deed having first been cancelled by the Deputy Commissioner of the Muzaffargarh District for the time being.

XIV.—All payments to be made under these conditions on account of purchase-money or interest, or any other charges, shall be made at the office of the Deputy Commissioner at Muzaffargarh

XV.—The land is believed, and shall be taken, to be correctly described as to quantity and otherwise, and if any error, mis-statement or omission in the foregoing particulars shall be discovered, the same shall not annul the sale, nor shall any compensation be allowed by the Government or by the purchaser in respect thereof.

To

ALL DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Preparation of Statement showing area and income of Government land.

THE Financial Commissioners have reason to believe that the statement showing the area and income of Government land (No. IX appended to the Revenue Administration Report, 1886-87, No. XXII in this office Circular No. 18 of 1888) is not properly prepared in some districts, and they accordingly desire to draw the special attention of all Deputy Commissioners to the matter. It will be observed from the note at the foot of the printed form of statement that in the column of "Other income" should be set down all income of whatever kind derived from lands under the Deputy Commissioner's management. It is intended that all receipts whatever derived from such lands, whether otherwise exhibited or not under the various heads of land revenue, forest income, &c., &c., should be shown in this statement.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Levy of highest rate of still-head duty on issues of liquor from distilleries.

IT has recently come to the notice of the Financial Commissioner that in certain districts the local officers had introduced the practice of levying from distillers in the central distilleries the highest rate of still-head duty on issues of liquor, regardless of its actual strength, thereby either compelling these persons to distil uniformly at the highest degree of strength or to pay duty at a rate greater than that authorized by law. This circumstance renders it necessary to draw the attention of all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners to Rule 35 of the Rules under Section 6, Act X of 1871, page 1742 of Rivaz's Acts, and to point out that a distiller may distil liquor as weak as he pleases, and that there is no authority for levying upon issues of liquor any rate higher than that laid down by Government. Commissioners are therefore requested to satisfy themselves that in their Divisions the matter is regulated strictly in accordance with existing orders.

By order, &c.,
D. C. JOHNSTONE,
Offg. Junior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.

APPEAL ON BEHALF OF THE BUILDING FUND OF THE AITCHISON (CHIEFS) COLLEGE, LAHORE.

IN making an appeal to the further liberality of the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on behalf of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, the Council of the College do not think it necessary to refer to the history and objects of the Foundation otherwise than very briefly.

2. These were fully explained by the first Patron and President of the Council, Sir Charles Aitchison, K. C. S. I., in his address at the laying of the foundation-stone of the College by His Excellency the Viceroy of India on the 3rd November 1886, as follows :—

"As long ago as 1864 Captain Tighe, then Deputy Commissioner of Umballa, impressed with the extreme importance of giving a good education to the young Sardárs of his district who were committed to his charge as Wards of Court, proposed the establishment of a superior school under the superintendence of an English gentleman. This proposal was warmly supported by Colonel Lake, then Financial Commissioner, and by Sir Donald McLeod, the Lieutenant-Governor, and resulted in the establishment of the Wards' School at Umballa. Captain Tighe's original proposal was that the Wards should be placed in a single building, two rooms being allotted to each, and that the institution should be under the control of a Committee of Sikh Chiefs. Now, more than 20 years later, the wisdom of this suggestion has been confirmed by a long course of experience, by the successful establishment of schools upon this basis in other parts of India, and by the unanimous opinion, Native and official, of those who have assisted me in framing the Statutes of the Punjab Chiefs' College. But in 1864 the times were not ripe for a measure of the kind. It was considered impossible for Government to undertake the whole responsibility for the management of the Wards, and accordingly the Wards' School assumed the character of a day school, the boys being lodged with their relatives and attending the school during the day for instruction. Subsequently, from the income of the several Wards' estates, detached buildings were constructed round the residence of the Superintendent, and there the students lived as home boarders, their domestic arrangements being organized, without regard to any particular system of discipline, according to the means and proclivities of the different families. The school was made in fact as much like home as could be, and in many cases the mothers of the boys came with their sons to dwell in the school compound and watch over them. After a few years confidence was established and all the mothers returned to their homes. But the disposition of the buildings and the internal economy of the institution have always been obstacles in the way of enforcing discipline and encouraging manly bearing and a public school spirit among students. Nor was the educational progress of the students under these circumstances all that could be desired. The annual inspection of the officers of the Education Department showed that the standard of attainments was by no means equal to that of the Government Schools and Colleges. The institution was in fact neither so popular nor so useful as to justify its continuance on the established basis.

"In 1874 Sir Henry Davies made an effort to extend the scope of the Umballa Wards' School so that it might be made available for the education of all Government Wards in the six lower Divisions of the Punjab and of the sons of jágírdárs and Native gentlemen of position. In the course of the discussion which followed upon this suggestion, proposals were made for establishing a school at Mádhopur in the Gurdáspur District. But it was finally decided that efforts should be concentrated on the existing institution at Umballa, the efficiency and scope of which was to be enlarged as funds should become available. For many years, however, the difficulty of funds—a difficulty which unfortunately is too familiar in the annals of Punjab administration—was an obstacle to all progress. The suggestions of the Local Government on the one hand and of the Director of Public Instruction and of the Umballa authorities on the other were alike consigned to the record-room under this potent influence. At last in May 1882 a vigorous effort was made to place the institution on a permanent and satisfactory footing. Influential Native gentlemen were consulted on a proposal to accommodate the students under one roof, to allot definite accommodation and a definite number of attendants to each, to require the pupils to pass the examinations prescribed by the Education Department, and to transfer the institution to Lahore, where unusual advantages can be secured, educational, social and sanitary. I desire to acknowledge gratefully the suggestions made by these gentlemen, upon which to a very large extent the present scheme has been based. The College has for the present been opened in hired houses till the permanent buildings can be erected, and the youths present to-day have become its first students. The Principal or Head of the teaching staff is Mr. Robinson, who has for fifteen years been Head of the Wards' School at Umballa.

"It is to the princely liberality of the Chiefs and Native gentlemen who are present on this occasion that the Punjab is indebted for the completion of a project the need of which has long been felt in the Province. As soon as the lines were settled upon which the institution was to be constructed, an appeal was made to the Chiefs and gentlemen of the Province to promote, both by subscriptions and by the exercise of their personal influence, a scheme in which the interests of the aristocracy of the Punjab were so closely concerned. The response to that appeal has been most cordial and encouraging. The private subscriptions to the Building Fund of the Punjab Chiefs' College have reached up to date the sum of Rs. 1,77,953-12-0, and the Local Government has contributed a like amount, while the Imperial Government has assisted with a contribution of Rs. 15,000 which I desire on this occasion gratefully to acknowledge. In connection with the ceremonial of to-day I have only one regret—that the youthful Mahárája of Patiála, the largest subscriber, should have been prevented by illness from witnessing the commencement under such favourable auspices of the institution to which he has contributed the princely sum of half a lakh of rupees.

"After the fullest consideration and discussion, in which many of the Ruling Chiefs of the Punjab and Native gentlemen of position have materially assisted, the constitution of the Punjab Chiefs' College has been definitely settled, and Statutes have been framed in accordance with the conclusions generally approved by the Committee of Chiefs and gentlemen who have been taken into counsel. Those delicate and difficult questions which invariably arise when attempt is made to combine with the habits of Eastern life the advantages of Western culture have been worked out with an amount of care and detail which I wish specially to acknowledge on the present occasion. If the interest which has been shown by the Punjab Chiefs and Nobles in this undertaking is maintained without diminution in the future, I feel that I may confidently predict for the College a lar[ge] amount of success, and that it will become a strength to the Government and a centre of good in[-]fluence on the administration of the Province."

3. Sir Charles Aitchison added the following weighty observations regarding the work for which the College has been created :—

"In the Punjab, with its large number of Ruling Chiefs and extensive Native aristocracy, the education of the Native nobility is in every way as important as in any part of India. Within the last decade the Rulers of seven of the principal Native States in the Punjab have been minors. There is no Province of India where the relations between the people and the aristocracy are so close or where the "downward filtration" theory of education has a better chance of success. But here, as elsewhere in India, the Native aristocracy has hitherto participated but little in the benefits of our system of education. Here, as elsewhere, the inducements have been insufficient, the hindrances great, and the opportunities defective. From the middle and lower ranks of Native society is rising up year by year an ever-increasing number of candidates for honors in our academical institutions and for positions of responsibility under the Government; while those who are the hereditary leaders of the people are being elbowed out of the positions which they are naturally expected by their fellow-countrymen to occupy, but for which under the altered circumstances of the times they have in most cases as yet failed to qualify themselves. As stone is placed upon stone in the visible structure of this edifice, and tier upon tier rises from the level plain, let it be our earnest hope that there may rise a still fairer edifice in which the aristocracy of the Punjab shall be the polished corner stones, bright examples to their fellow-countrymen of true manliness, of the highest culture and the gentlest manners that the times can boast."

4. His Excellency the Viceroy, the Right Honorable the Earl of Dufferin, was also pleased to make the following remarks with reference to the College and its work in the Punjab :—

"I have already had an opportunity last year at the opening of the Mayo College of stating the grounds upon which institutions of this description command my warmest and my sincerest sympathy, and I am quite certain that in no part of India will a college for the young nobility of the land be surer to meet with greater success or to command a more extensive sympathy than in this Province. For nowhere else in India are there to be found historical houses of a more illustrious antiquity, or a nobility that from age to age has been inspired by nobler aspirations or by traditions of a purer honour or of a more courageous or lofty bearing; and what is better still, in no part of India, I believe, have they been more closely or more harmoniously united with the populations amongst which they are established. But, as I have already said on the occasion to which I have referred, in these practical days of ours, when education is so largely diffused and when competition is so keen, nobility of birth, high descent, wealth and other adventitious circumstances cannot meet with their due recognition, or exercise the influence to which, under other circumstances, they might be entitled, unless they are re-enforced by intellectual acquirements and by proper mental cultivation. It is only under these circumstances that an aristocracy is either entitled to or is able to lead the community and to take its place upon a level of moral and material advantage. But when the ancient families of a country, to the natural advantages which they have inherited, add those mental acquirements to which I have referred, then, indeed, do they become the real guides and rulers of the people, and acquire a power for good and an authority and influence which even in these democratic days every one must acknowledge is beneficial to the community at large. The people must have leaders along the path of moral and material advancement, and where can they be better found, or from whence can they be more conveniently drawn, than from amongst those great and illustrious families whose deeds in former generations have made the history of their Province famous, and whose descendants I trust are bound, both by the material as well as by the moral pledges which they have given, to show a bright example of devotion to the public service."

5. The subscriptions received from the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab up to 3rd November 1886 amounted to Rs. 1,78,000. Since then a further sum of nearly Rs. 17,000 has been received, raising the total amount to 1,94,800 rupees. With the Punjab Government grant of Rs. 1,92,120, the Supreme Government grant of Rs. 15,000, and interest amounting up to date to about Rs. 19,000, the total sum available for the buildings of the College is about Rs. 4,21,000. A list of the donors is appended to the present appeal. Scholarships to the number of 28, with an endowment of Rs. 7,500 each, have also been founded since then,—one by Sir Charles Aitchison, one by the Punjab Government from the surplus income in hand on closing the late Wards' School at Umballa, and the rest by the Local Bodies of the Province.

At various meetings of the Council held in 1886 and 1887 it was decided to put in hand the following College buildings and to incur the following expenditure of Rs. 3,74,200 in connection with them :—

	Rs.
Central building, exclusive of the Library wing... ...	1,58,000
Two boarding-houses	1,22,000
Six ranges of cook-houses	16,000
Four ranges of servants' houses	15,000
Two sets of stables	6,200
Two ranges of College servants' houses	3,000
Four latrines	1,300
Governor's house and servants' quarters, &c.	26,000
Water-supply	9,500
Laying out of grounds, &c.	11,000
Dispensary	6,200
Total	3,74,200

Miscellaneous expenditure, including the rewards paid for the designs of the College, has amounted to Rs. 5,000, and charges of Rs. 10,000 have been incurred in connection with the payment of octroi on the materials imported for the College buildings and royalty for the use of Bull's Patent Brick-kiln. The total expenditure sanctioned and incurred is therefore Rs. 3,89,000, leaving a balance at the credit of the Committee of Rs. 32,000.

6. The two boarding-houses sanctioned in the above estimate will accommodate only 32 students, or, with some possible modifications, perhaps three or four students more. Each student in these buildings will have one large room 18′ × 16′ and two smaller rooms (each 8′ × 8′) attached to it. He will also have further accommodation for his servants as required by the Statutes. Such accommodation is no doubt desirable for the relations of Ruling Chiefs and the sons of wealthy families of high rank who are well able to pay the full College fees. But in the case of the scholarship-holders, who will be accustomed to less luxurious surroundings in their own homes, it does not seem necessary to provide the same amount or class of accommodation, and the same considerations apply also to students other than scholarship-holders for whom less than the full fees are paid. The number of scholarships founded, viz., 28, has led to a satisfactory, but somewhat unexpected, increase in the students of the College, who now number 46, of whom 16 are scholarship-holders. It is expected that the students will number 60 after the summer vacation. The Council of the College has accordingly decided after two meetings that for these classes a third boarding-house shall be constructed similar to the others in general outward appearance, but so arranged internally as to provide quarters for a much larger number of students. A design has been prepared by the Department Public Works, to whom the construction of the College buildings is entrusted, by which 44 students will be accommodated in a single building of the same dimensions as the two boarding-houses already under construction, and this design has been approved by the Council. The accommodation of so many students is effected by dividing each half of the building into three long rooms, instead of dividing it into separate quarters as in the two boarding-houses at present sanctioned. The first of these long rooms will contain 10 students, the next 8, and the third, which is situated at the front end of the wing of the building, 4. These rooms will be divided by wooden partitions 7½ feet high into 10, 8 and 4 cubicles. The entrance to each cubicle will be by a door from the verandah running round the front of the building, as in the case of the separate quarters in the other boarding-houses, and a bath-room will be attached to each cubicle and will be entered from it. The cubicle itself will be 9 feet 4 inches by 16 feet in size, and the bath-room 6 feet by 8 feet. The height of the rooms will be the same as in the other two boarding-houses. Above the cubicle partition walls will run a gallery on iron brackets, which will communicate with the quarters of the Musáhib of the building who will thus be able at all times to exercise effective control over the conduct of the students in their cubicles. Four blocks of kitchens and servants' rooms, and one block of servants' quarters, will also be required for the new boarding-house. The cost of this building is estimated to be Rs. 65,000, and the cost of the servants' houses and cook-rooms attached to it will be Rs. 19,000, or Rs. 84,000 in all. In addition to this expenditure the Council have decided that it is most desirable to construct a house for the Principal of the College at a cost of Rs. 16,500 as soon as possible, in order that he may be always on the spot for purposes of discipline and control. The total additional expenditure which the Council considers necessary for the present to place the College on a proper footing with regard to the objects of its foundation is therefore Rs. 1,00,000. Of this sum only Rs. 32,000 are at present available for building purposes, leaving Rs. 68,000 to be made up. Of this sum the Punjab Government has agreed to contribute one-third or Rs. 22,666 provided the remaining two-thirds, viz., Rs. 45,334, are raised by private subscription.

7. It was accordingly decided at a meeting of the Council held at Government House, Lahore, on 11th May last, and at which the members whose names are noted in the margin were present, that an appeal should be made by the Council to the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab for further assistance towards the completion of the Aitchison College, and by permission of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, who has himself agreed to subscribe the sum of Rs. 1,000, this appeal is circulated accordingly. It was originally proposed that only one-half of the new boarding-house should be built, but the encouraging replies given by the representatives of the Punjab Chiefs at the meeting of 11th May induced the Council to decide to undertake the whole building at once in the belief that the additional support now sought would be forthcoming. The Council are anxious to see the third boarding-house completed now, not only because of the rapidly increasing number of students, but also because it will cost considerably more to build the second half of it some years hence after the manufactory and workshops at present established for the building of the College have been removed. The Council feels that in view of the generosity shown by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab on the occasion of the first appeal made in 1885, and of the liberality since displayed by Local Bodies in founding scholarships, that it will not appeal in vain for the further sum of Rs. 45,500 now needed, and that the aid required will be forthcoming to complete the work originated by Sir Charles Aitchison and so heartily supported by the Chiefs and Gentry of the Punjab. Subscriptions may be forwarded to the Secretary to the Punjab Government or to the Governor of the Aitchison (Chiefs) College, or may be paid to the credit of the Building Fund of the College with the Bank of Bengal, Lahore. Any sum which may be received in excess of Rs. 45,500 will be credited to the General Building Fund, and will be devoted hereafter to the completion of the library wing of the main building of the College, which will cost Rs. 60,000 and which has been allowed to stand over for the present. A list of the subscriptions received will be published weekly in the Punjab Government Gazette.

Amendment of appendix 3 of Circular 12 of 1887.

IT has been brought to the notice of the Financial Commissioner that appendix 3 of Circular 12 of 1887 requires amendment. As at present printed the form appears to indicate that the words "List of repayments actually made" refer to all the columns 9 to 14, whereas they really refer only to columns 9 to 11. The heading for columns 12 to 14 is "Balance of Loan" and nothing more. It is requested that correction be made accordingly in all copies of the said Circular.

To

ALL COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS IN THE PUNJAB.

Punctual submission of District Budget Estimates.

THE Financial Commissioners would invite the special attention of all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners to the necessity for the punctual submission of District Budget Estimates. In the last two years many of these have been received in this Office long after the prescribed dates, and serious inconvenience has resulted from the consequent delay in the delivery of the Provincial Estimates to the Accountant-General and to the Local Government. The table annexed to this Circular shows the latest dates on which the various budget estimates should reach the offices of Commissioners and the Financial Commissioner's office; and it is hoped that measures will be taken to ensure that each estimate may reach the office of destination not later than the prescribed date.

2. The Financial Commissioners trust that Commissioners will pay particular attention to this matter and that they will at once bring to notice any failure to comply with these directions.

By order, &c.,
T. GORDON WALKER,
Senior Secretary to Financial Commissioner, Punjab.
